The following notice from the Hanna, Alb. Herald refers to the death of Miss Nicholson, teacher, youngest daughter of the late John Nicholson, Montague Bridge. She leaves a brother at Kilmuir and one sister Mrs. John MacKinnon, Strathearn, to mourn.

The district was shocked this morning to learn of the death, at midnight last night, of Miss Mary J. Nicholson, teacher of the primary classes in the Hanna Public school.

Miss Nicholson was engaged by the school board, to teach the primary room this term, and came here from Charlottetown, P. E. I. When the epidemic of influenza broke out here recently, the schools were closed, and Miss Nicholson volunteered as a nurse to relieve the sufferings of those afflicted. She did noble work in this capacity for some time, but was stricken down herself, and was removed to a ward in the emergency hospital about a week ago. In spite of every care, the disease developed into pneumonia with death resulting last midnight.

The deceased young lady earned a place in the hearts of all her pupils, as well as a very large number of friends among the citizens of the town. That she would expose herself for the sake of humanity was but an example of her splendid character and her death has cast a cloud of sorrow over this town.

The remains have been removed to Fisher's undertaking establishment, pending the receipt of word from a brother who resides in the East.

In the Supreme Court yesterday at Summerside, His Lordship the Chief Justice on the bench, William J. Jones, who was convicted last week of common assault, was brought up for sentence. He was sentenced to six months imprisonment with hard labour in the common jail.

The case was then continued of Laura Murphy vs John Laird, action slander. The plaintiff claimed $500 damages for the alleged use of words by the defendant charging her with theft. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant, Messrs Neil McLeod, J. J. and W. B. Bentley K. C., for Plaintiff, A. C. Saunders K. C. for defendant.

The next case called was Nettie Yeo, infant, by her next friend, William P. Yeo, her father, of Harmony vs Dr. James B. Champion, practicing physician of O'Leary, action for malpractice. The plaintiff claims $5,000 as damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of the unskillful treatment of the plaintiff by the defendant. Nettie Yeo is a girl 9 years of age and on the 27th of August 1917 fell from a bridge breaking her leg. She was taken to the home of her brother in law, David Enman and Dr. Champion was summoned.

Her wards she was removed to her father's house where the leg was set. David Enman and William Yeo gave

In Working For Store-Growth Merchants Should Keep in Mind the Old Adage that "Around Every Circle Another Circle May Be Drawn"

The volume of store-sales of one year ago today—SHOULD BE MADE LARGER, or the store is moving in the wrong direction!

Whatever "record" you may have set for sales at any time is merely a record to be effaced by the new one—the bigger one.

The amount of advertising you gave to your store a year ago is merely a "mark to be passed" in the amount of advertising you should give to your store today.

All records in store-management—in sales, in advertising—ARE CIRCLES—AROUND WHICH OTHER CIRCLES MAY BE DRAWN.

See that your NEW CIRCLES are drawn AROUND, not WITHIN, your old ones—when the circle represents EFFICIENCY OF STORE SERVICE, VOLUME OF STORE SALES, or AD-EQUACY OF STORE PUBLICITY.
