In Memoriam

MRS. WELLINGTON HOUSTON

On Easter Sunday morning April 17th, 1938, a wave of sadness swept over North Rustico as a woman who had lived for 40 years after an angering illness of one year.

All that medical skill could do was done by her loved ones to stay the hand of death but God willed otherwise and called her Home.

Mrs. Houston was universally beloved by all who had the pleasure of knowing her. In the home she was especially fitted as a loving wife and mother. She was a mother in- deed, caring for those in her home and all who came within that blessed sphere.

She was a lover of flowers as could be seen by the profusion of potted plants in her home as well as in the garden. Mrs. Houston was a consistent member of New Glasgow Christian Church as well as a member of the W. M. S. of the same church.

There are left to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and mother her sorrowing invalid husband and the following family of daughters and sons, (Edith) Mrs. R. A. Houston, New Glasgow; (Ada) Mrs. R. W. Burdette Strathcona; (Gertrude) Mrs. A. M. McKeown, Strathcona; (Grace) Mrs. Whitefield Yeo, Kingston; (Erma) Mrs. Reagh Ferris Hazelgrove; (Jean) Mrs. Harold Diamond, Westport; (Ernest) New Glasgow; P. E. I. Russell, New York, U. S. A. and (Lorne) at home was held from her home at North Rustico on April 19th and was largely attended. Her pastor Rev. W. G. Quigley conducted the service. Hymns sung were Abide With Me, Jesus Lover of My Soul, and Safe in the Arms of Jesus.

The City Four Square was feelingly rendered by Mr. Benjamin Woolner and Mr. Earle McLure.

The floral tributes were: Flower Mother, Husband and Family, Spray W. M. S. New Glasgow Christian Church, Crescent, Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Ballingall, Charlottetown, Wreath of Mrs. Warren Houston, Charlottetown.

Pall-bearers were: Messrs. Austin Laird, Leigh Warren, Frank Houston, Davis Moffat, Warren Houston and Thomas Hiscott.

Interment was in New Glasgow Cemetery. (Patriot Please Copy)

mer of the barn. He never knew how long he lay unconscious but finally he sat up and looked around. As no bull was to be seen he at first thought that he had left Prince Edward Island for a better land, but as his mind cleared he remembered a few faces and there in a corner behind a couple of buildings was Mr. Bull, orange in subject matter, whilst very strong, fine and her son stood guard! The old man stumbled into the house and left them there, and until their young master came to take charge. Floss became very dear to this family as she had saved their father from a most horrible death. As she grew old she had a basket behind the kitchen stove and as her rheumatism became painful, her mistress knitted her a little sweater and shawl, and she passed her old days in an atmosphere of comfort and love which she so richly deserved.

On May 23rd twenty seven members of the pack, accompanied by Scouts Earl Loye and Art Brown, had a very enjoyable hike to the gravel pit on Mount Edward Road. After an afternoon's fun they were able to do justice to the "hot dogs" served by Bagheera and Akela.

A MOMENT OF UNEXPECTED LOVELINESS

I was spending the night at a home in the country. After living for hours in the city heat of a sultry late spring day, the tranquility and the freshness of the hillside, with its panorama of hill and valley, and paced river, daisy-rimmed here and there with the taller trees, soothed and strengthened me. But, in spite of the sweet narcotic of time and place, and the ministrations of a charming hostess, I went to bed with a dull throbbing headache. Sleep came fitfully.

The grandfather clock at the foot of the staircase boomed cheerily with an old-fashioned preciseness, and I was awakened from slumber by the sound of a door opening. Then I fell asleep.

The night hours drifted by unheeded until again I opened my heavy eyes. It was still dark. A little night wind blew in at the open casement, played lightly on my hair, turned into a crowning plume, and suddenly without further warning, a thousand songsters from thick and river, from hill and valley burst into a crowding peason of song. Wild sweet cadences! Warblings that through sheer ecstasy must shatter their tiny throats! Sinking to their tiny drink in their "old melodious madrigals of love; their "song of charm through all the land." I thought of Plato's definition of music:

"It gives a sound to the universe, wings to the mind, flight to the imagination, a charm to sadness, gaiety and life to everything; it is the essence of order and leads to all that is good, just and beautiful, of which it is the invisible, but nevertheless dazzling, passionate and eternal form."

When a streak of dawn threaded the eastern sky, I yet, as I was by grateful for a moment of unexpected loveliness.
