REBUILDING DELAYED - It is past the middle of July and the rebuilding of the Summerside High School has not yet commenced. The delay has been caused through the failure of the School Board and Insurance Company to agree on a settlement. The amount involved is about $25,000.00 and it is expected will have to go to arbitration. This will require some weeks and there is very little hope that the school will be ready by September. In the meantime that part of the building which was not burned, but which is exposed to the elements is not improving by this treatment. The citizens sincerely hope that an amicable settlement will be arrived at in the very near future.-S.

Gasoline War In Montreal

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, July 17 - Montreal's gasoline war developed into a wide open "each man for himself" fray today as several independent service stations began selling gasoline at the customer's bid. As a result gasoline was sold in some places as low as 15 cents a gallon, including tax. Hard pressed for business following the action of distributors in reducing the price of No. 2 grade not selling under trade names to 17 cents a gallon, other garages met competition by giving gasoline free with oil purchases. At the same time the Gollert Garage, registered, announced it would start giving away five gallons of gasoline with each purchase of an automobile tire. Three gallons are already given away at one garage with each sale of a gallon of oil at $1.25.

No gasoline has been advertised for the record low price of 15 cents but dealers claimed competitors, without displaying prices on their pumps, were selling gasoline at whatever the customer wished to pay. Grade one gasoline was retailing between 25 and 21 cents a gallon, including tax, with a corresponding spread in the price of grade two, selling under brand names. A number of independent garages have failed to meet the action of several large companies in raising the price of grades one and two, three and two cents respectively.

Advance Guard In Ottawa

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, July 17 - Advance guards of "On-to-Ottawa" marchers continued to drift into Ottawa during the day, for the most part they were stragglers, those who had evaded the Quebec ban on organized marches on highways or railways. One contingent of 30 from Petawawa relief camp, near Pembroke, Ont., arrived via freight train. Ottawa headquarters for the marchers and relief camp strikers at Ukrainian Labor Temple fed 150 tonight, strike leaders stated. They were waiting quietly for the arrival of marchers from other points. Food was collected by visiting farms and individual merchants in and near Ottawa. Farmers contributed potatoes and peas in large quantities. One contribution of 500 pounds of meat was received from a local meat merchant. Tea, coffee and other incidentals were purchased from Strikers funds.

Buffalo Crew Win Eight-oared Race

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) HALIFAX, July 17 - Smooth-stroking oarsmen from Buffalo's West Side Athletic Club carried off the honors in today's rodeo week regatta, winning an international eight-oared race and qualifying for Saturday's final of the four-oared event without coxswain. Starting easily on the North-west Arm 1-2 mile course, the North American champion eight with Tiny Irving Trubel as coxswain kept pace steadily in fourth place until nearly a mile had been covered, then pulled up gradually to cross the line first on a sensational spurt that gave them the race by close to two lengths over a picked Halifax crew.

Rowing an eight-oared shell in competition for the first time, the plucky Halifax lads got a big hand from the more experienced visitors when they flashed across in second place. A Dartmouth crew, also new to the craft, finished third ahead of a crew from Lachine, Quebec. Manhattan University's eight trailed all through the race and finished last.

Buffalo's time of 8.19 minutes was set down as a Maritime record for the event, new to the eastern provinces. E. Fries, Charles Fries, Don Faber, Jim Hogan, E. Swanson, W. Goeckel, H. Carroll and John Fiore made up the winning crew. As soon as they landed they gave the clever little coxswain his usual ducking.

The Buffalo senior four - Swanson, Goeckel, Carroll and Fiore - won their heat easily in 9.19-1.5 minutes, finishing more than three lengths ahead of the jubilee crew of Halifax. Trailing far behind was the North West Arm crew.

Manhattan University four had withdrawn shortly before the race because the stroke, Vic Wilders, was nursing an infected thumb. Wilders went out with the Manhattan eight later but obviously was not at his best.

The Buffalo and Jubilee crews will go into the four-oared final Saturday against St. Mary's of Halifax and the North Stars of Dartmouth, first and second in the other heat.

Powerful Henry Pelham, who stroked the four to the international championship in 1931, pulled the St. Mary's crew in first nearly two lengths ahead of the North Stars. The time was 8.51-1.5. The North West Arm four finished third in this heat, far ahead of a Lachine crew who were rowing without a coxswain for the first time and found it tough going.

Mic Mac Club of Halifax made a clean sweep of the canoe races, taking the 1-4 mile tandem, the 1-4 mile ladies' war canoe event and the 1-3 mile with four in a canoe.

The navy provided keen competition in five-oared whalers. Seamen from No. 1 Naval Barracks won the first heat, with a crew from H. M. C. S. Champlain second. In the second heat, for officers, the No. 2 Naval Barracks crew headed the five from H. M. C. S. Saguenay across the line. The final will be one of Saturday's events.

Nazis Continue Anti-Semitic Campaign

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BERLIN, July 17 - Nazis today continued their anti-Semitic campaign, despite warnings from night-er-ups, and pushed their sterilization program, despite Catholic protests, while the controlled press cried out bitterly against "atrocity" reports abroad. Though order has been reestablished along the Kururstrandam, Berlin's white way, and recurrence of Monday's anti-Jewish riots seemed unlikely, Julius Streicher and fellow Jew-baiters had other methods to employ. An article in the "National Soziale Partei Korrespondenz," the Nazi party's syndicate service, demanded that Jews, on pain of death if necessary, be forbidden to: 1. Rent apartments to Aryans. 2. Engage Aryans domestic help. 3. Attend Aryans as physicians, or accept Aryans as clients.

Arthur Jenkins Dies In Vancouver

(NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., July 17) - The death of Arthur Jenkins occurred in Vancouver yesterday, according to word received here by his father, Samuel Jenkins. He was a resident of Vancouver for the past eight years and he had been in ill health for some time. Besides his father, he is survived by two brothers, Ralph of Charlottetown and Teddy of North Sydney, and one sister, Mrs. James McKinnon of North Sydney.

O'Leary Meeting Largely Attended

Mr. Matthews Refutes Statements Of Mr. Thane Campbell On Subsidy Question.

O'Leary hall was packed to the doors on Tuesday evening for the joint political meeting. So large was the audience that amplifiers were fixed up and the large audience outside heard equally as well or better than those in the hall. Mr. A. J. Matheson of O'Leary presided and all the speakers were accorded an attentive hearing. Mr. Henry Peters, Conservative candidate, apologized at the opening of the meeting for not being able to remain and address the audience on account of the tragic death of a near relative, Mr. Dumas Richard of Duvar, who was killed instantly that morning in an accident at Kane's Bridge.

Meeting At Victoria West Was Strongly Conservative

The meeting at Victoria West on Tuesday was strongly Conservative and Hon. G. Shelton Sharp and his colleagues Mr. E. P. Rogers received a great reception. There was some local criticism on the question of distribution of road work, which Mr. Sharp explained away quite easily to the discomfort of his opponents. Mr. Sharp made a great impression on the audience by his untold story of the four years of Conservative government, speaking chiefly on the government grants to assist unemployment which have proved so effectual in tiding over the difficult times of the past winter. Mr. Rogers received a very enthusiastic welcome from the people of Victoria West.

Mrs. Waley Is Sentenced To Twenty Years Imprisonment

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TACOMA, Wash., July 17 - Plump, blond Margaret Waley, who preferred life behind bars to freedom without her kidnapper husband, was sentenced today to 20 years imprisonment for her part in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping. Federal Judge E. E. Cushman pronounced the sentence after she had pleaded guilty to the kidnaping of the millionaire lumber baron's son, Robert McNeill, in 1929. She was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment for her part in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnaping. The 19-year-old wife of Harmon M. Waley will serve her term at the federal detention farm at Milan, Mich. Waley vowed his wife was innocent when he pleaded guilty to like charges in the $200,000 abduction of the nine-year-old lumber heir. He is serving 45 years at McNeill Island federal prison near here.

Fail To Find Trace Of Fortune

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, July 17 - Excitement riles among five Jewish families at the prospect of sharing a $10,000,000 fortune, they believe their long-lost uncle in Africa left them after becoming a multimillionaire in the South African diamond fields. Jubilation, however, was tinged with impatience and anxiety as family lawyers tried with little success to get in touch with executors of the reported estate of Harry Kloack, formerly of Bialostock, Poland, died. N. L. Rappaport, Montreal lawyer, cabled again today to Polish Consulate officials in Capetown, South Africa, and the South African Trade Commissioner also cabled his superiors in Capetown. "I have little to go on," Rappaport said as he described the difficulties lying in his way. He represents the families of Abraham, Morris, Sam, Sol and Al Starr. A sister, five men, Pearl Levi, is represented by another attorney. All but Abraham, a poor foundry worker living in a New York tenement, are residents of Montreal.

British Fleet In Sham Battle

(C. P. -Havas) (By Guardian's Special Wire) PORTSMOUTH, England, July 17 - A sea fight of the future was vividly portrayed today as the combined British fleet fought a sham battle before the watchful eyes of King George, Admiral of the Fleet, off Spithead. A direct hit by the anti-aircraft battery of the super-battleship Rodney brought down one of the radio-controlled "Queen Bee" robot planes, the secret of whose operation is one of the British navy's most jealously-guarded mysteries. Another "crashed" shortly after taking off. The heavy and light cruisers in front showed their marksmanship when they made 56 direct hits out of 320 rounds fired at the obsolete battleship "Indefatigable" now a radio-controlled target vessel. Practice firing of the battleship's 15-inch guns at towed targets was described as excellent. Supporters of the theory planes can cope with battleships gained consolation from the fact the "Queen Bee" actually weathered a hail of shells to pass over the battleship before it received the destructive shell.

Every type of modern warfare, 157 in all, took part in the manoeuvres, attacking and beating off attacks. The submarines launched attacks on the big capital ships and destroyers rushed to drive them off. Radio-controlled planes swooped and wheeled overhead, while the anti-aircraft batteries barked in defence of the surface craft. For hours the sailor-king stood on the bridge of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert watching his fighting ships go through their paces. As the display ended he ordered the traditional signal "open the barrel" hoisted at the yardarm of the yacht, signifying that as a reward for their good work the bluejackets were to have an extra ration of rum tonight.

Death Of George William Russell

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BOURNEMOUTH, England, July 17 - George William Russell, Irish journalist, writer and painter known to poetry lovers by the cryogenic name "AE," died tonight. He was 68 years old. Born at Lurgan, County Armagh, Ireland, in 1867, Russell was educated at Rathmish school, Dublin. He entered an accountant's office but soon grew interested in agriculture and joined the Irish Agricultural Organization Society. Thenceforth journalism, literature, painting and agricultural organization divided his attention. He edited the Irish Homestead, Farm Journal, from 1904 to 1923, becoming editor of the Irish Statesman in that year. Critics have called the latter review the most skillfully edited in all Ireland.

His published works, beginning with "Homeward: Songs of the Way" in 1894, extend over the ensuing years to his volume of poems, "House of the Titans, and other poems," appearing in November, 1934. His penname, puzzling to readers, is explained by Darrell Figgis, an English Irish writer, in his book on Russell.

"Wanting at one time a new pen name, he subscribed himself as Aeon, the printer deciphered the first dithong and set a query for the rest, whereupon the writer, in his profusest, stroked out a query and stood to the dithong." Although primarily noted as a poet, he was an energetic jack of many trades—a painter, businessman, organizer, editor and co-founder of the famous Abbey Theatre in Dublin.

Paradoxically he was a typical advocate of the virtues of idleness and caused amusement when he described Longfellow's line, "Let us be up and doing," in the American bard's "Psalm of Life," as "one of the most terrible lines in all poetry." "Concede ought to call in all copies of Longfellow's poem and extract that terrible line," he said. "I should then pass a statute in favor of idleness."

He made a lecture in Canada about eight years ago. In 1923 he held American audiences captivated by his lecture on the cause of the United States depression was caused by a too literal following of Longfellow's advice. Already ailing when he returned from the United States a few months ago, he suffered a setback in London during the summer of 1934. He died in London on July 17.

U. S. Debt Now 29 Billions

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WASHINGTON, July 17 - The United States federal debt has crossed $29,000,000,000 to a new peak. The treasury's daily statement showed today that on Monday the figure was $29,177,786,318, following the receipt of funds from the recent offering of $500,000,000 in treasury notes. The debt is now approximately $2,000,000,000 above what it was a year ago.

TOURISTS TRAVEL FAST

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 17 - Two Indianapolis motorists sped through here so fast today that Traffic Officer C. Parmenter was unable to catch a glimpse of their license numbers. He caught up with them, however, at a filling station, where the tourists were placed under arrest. They admitted travelling at 90 miles an hour, but were released after posting bail of $75.

$75,000 IS RECEIVED ON ACCOUNT UNDER THE WHITE AWARD

Another $75,000 Payment Due This Year

A cheque for $75,000 has been received from Ottawa by the MacMillan Government as payment on account under the award of the White Commission. This represents ONE-HALF of the amount which the Province will receive this year under the award, which resulted in the placing of $3,000,000 to our credit at Ottawa, through representations made in co-operation with the other Maritime Provinces by the MacMillan Government. The annual subsidy payment for all time, from this capital fund, will be $150,000—the largest subsidy increase since Confederation.

Coupled with the increases received under the Mathieson and Stewart Governments of $100,000 and $125,000 respectively, this represents a CAPITAL AMOUNT OF $7,500,000, OR AN ANNUAL SUBSIDY INCREASE OF $3,750,000, obtained by Conservatives after Laurier, in 1907, had "bolted the door" against further claims settlement.

A MILLION ADDITIONAL REVENUE But the White Commission award by no means represents all that the MacMillan Government achieved in the matter of obtaining Dominion revenue. Here are additional amounts, obtained during their term of office from the Bennett Government:

Direct relief (City)	$ 35,000
Direct relief (Provincial)	39,215
Unemployment Projects	218,562
Salvage: Falconwood and P. W. College	27,728
Old Age Pension	168,895
Experimental Roads	14,030
Concrete Road at Borden	48,706
Trans-Canada Highway	267,971
Rustico Highway	125,000
	$ 945,077

These amounts are the concrete result of "Tory picnic trips" to Ottawa which Liberal apologists condemn because of the few hundred dollars paid in transportation and hotel accommodation!

In addition, the Government obtained from the Carnegie Foundation over $100,000 for demonstration library purposes for the benefit of every rural community in the Province. Also $88,000 for establishment of a chair of Economics and Sociology at Prince of Wales College. The late Liberal Government obtained NOTHING in the way of subsidy increase and "on different occasions," according to Ex-Premier Saunders, "DECLINED TO CO-OPERATE" with the Conservative Premiers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and with the Maritime Board of Trade.

They obtained NOTHING in the way of unemployment relief from the Mackenzie King Government.

They obtained NOTHING from the Carnegie Foundation. "We are not concerned with the past," says Mr. W. M. Lea.

Why should they be? Their past is as barren of achievement as their platform is of hope.

Soldiers Return As Riots Renewed

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 17 - Rioting attended by shooting broke out again today, bringing back the soldiers released from duty yesterday when the Orange Day trouble seemed ended. Major General E. S. Girwood, the Ulster military commander took charge of the troops. One of his first orders was to disperse them in search of a machine gun heard firing in Donegal Street. There were no fatalities in today's disorders, in which the fighting was done with rifles, fists, machine guns and stones. The first trouble occurred at a cemetery where one of the six victims of the Catholic-Protestant fighting was being buried. The two factions stoned each other until a volley from troops and soldiers' guns, fired over their heads, dispersed them. Returning from the funeral, 6,000 men carrying the Union Jack, were fired upon by snipers from the Carrick Hill, Nationalist section. At Donegal street, at the other end of Carrick Hill there was heavier fire. Police knelt in the streets and poured fire into the snipers' nest. Passengers lay on the floor of street cars as police, raiding in a small tank, fired a machine gun into the air to disperse gatherings. There were two minor squabbles while the funeral procession was enroute to the cemetery. Downtown a Nationalist scoured at the coffin, which led to hand to hand fighting between funeral marchers and bystanders. A single shot fired from

France Will Increase Navy

(C. P. -Havas) (A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SAINT NAZAIRE, July 17 - France must—and will—increase its navy, Francois Pietri, French naval minister, declared here today at the launching of the cruiser Marechal. "For the moment," the naval minister said, "my one aim is to increase our naval strength and I will have the frankness to repeat that statement again."

Aerial Cruiser Awaits Tests

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SEATTLE, July 17 - A giant aerial battle cruiser, described by its builders as the largest land plane ever assembled in the United States, awaited tests here today before being submitted to the Army Corps. No details of armament equipment were given by company officials, but five heavy machine gun cockpits, enclosed in transparent glass like plastic, were visible as the 15-ton ship sat on a ramp in front of the hanger.
