Dr. A. J. Brace Speaks On China Today

"China Today" was the subject of a most interesting instructive and inspiring address by Dr. Albert James Brace, at the Student's Meeting held at the Central Christian Church yesterday.

Dr. Brace, travelling secretary for the World Service of Y.M.C.A. for Canada and United States, has done and is doing much instructive and constructive work for China. It is for this purpose that he visits all organizations and churches yearly in order to show the necessity of raising funds for this war-torn country.

Thirty colored slides, new pictures from China, were shown during the lecture by Dr. Brace, and they brought to the attention of the audience what the peoples of China are doing and how they would in the end defeat the Japs.

Dr. Brace spoke of the great successor of Dr. Sun Yat Sen who brought to the country 16 years of trouble and discord.

Chiang Kai-Shek, he stated, brought unity to China through a five-point program the first of which was the building of 100,000 miles of roads and importing 60,000 vehicles from America. This, the speaker said, broke down provincial barriers. The second was the introduction of Civil Air Lines and the third and most unifying of all was the introduction of Radio which taught to a country of 200 dialects, the one outstanding language, the Mandarian.

This great leader he continued, gave the country a centralized banking system and a new educational impetus by sending 60,000 students to Canada, United States and Great Britain 5,000 of whom got their Ph.D., degrees, 36,000 became engineers and 18,000 became Christians.

The result of this great educational work he stated is that these American trained Chinese are the leaders of China which today is preparing the downfall of Japan.

The lecturer showed pictures of how Britain and the United States were transporting war weapons, even heavy tanks from India to China by air and spoke of the unyielding spirit of this great race.

He concluded by exhorting all to aid the country which needs only the weapons and material assistance in order to throw off the grasping hand of Japan.

Tomorrow Dr. Brace will lecture before the Rotary Club at the Charlottetown. He will speak on the great war programme which will be developed by Lord Louis Mountbatten, Chief of the Far East Operational Forces.

Sack was a kind of dry sherry of Elizabethan times and was often mentioned in the plays of Shakespeare.

Borden

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the United Church parsonage at Bedeque when Helen Louise Ahearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ahearn of Borden, was united in marriage to Hazen Earl Lowther, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Lowther of North Carleton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James M. Baxter, B.D., of Bedeque. Following the wedding the young couple motored to the home of the bride where a sumptuous wedding supper was served to the immediate relatives and friends, leaving afterwards for their home in North Carleton.

His many friends in Borden and elsewhere were pleased to learn that Mr. Allan F. McAleer has received the Imperial Service Medal awarded by His Majesty the King in recognition of long and meritorous service. Mr. McAleer has been an employee of the C. N. R. for 38 years retiring last year on account of ill health. For the past 26 years he has resided in Borden where he was engaged as sectionman in the Borden yard.—A

Soviets Advance Towards Crimea

LONDON, Oct. 24 — (AP) —The Red Army rolled to within six miles of imperilled Krivoi Rog in the centre of the Dnieper River loop today and sped six miles past conquered Melitopol in an accelerated drive which killed 2,000 Germans and wrecked scores of enemy tanks, guns and planes on the road to the Crimea, Moscow announced early today.

Paced by a Soviet Air Force pounding at escape channels out of the Dnieper bend area, the Russians shattered every desperate German effort to stem the twin offensives which are rolling fast up the enemy's defences in southern Russia.

Some Controls May Remain After War

LONDON, Oct. 24 — (CP) —The Manchester Guardian predicts government controls of raw materials will be retained in some form after the war.

The textile trade, which has grown accustomed to such wartime measures as limitation on exports and fixed prices, is mentioned specifically.

In the post-war period, the newspaper says there should be a place for a central pool providing a wide assortment of standard textile styles at low prices, based on mass production.

The chief advantage of such a pool would be to provide manufacturers with a steady although not highly profitable outlet for production in slack periods.

CONTINUITY UNBROKEN

DUBLIN —(CP)— In spite of a poor apple crop in Eire this year, it is unlikely there will be cider shortage. Manufacturers say they have a surplus from other years large enough to keep up the supply for five years.

Death Of Former Cavendish Pastor

KENTVILLE, N.S., Oct. 23 — (CP) — Rev. Harold S. Bishop, 44, for four years pastor of First United Church at Bathurst N.B., died yesterday of a heart ailment at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs E. J. Bishop. He resigned his Bathurst pastorate in July because of ill health and had planned to take a year's rest.

A native of Kentville, he had held pastorates in Truro, N.S., Cavendish, P.E.I., and Woodstock, N.B. He was ordained in 1925.

Mr Bishop was a member of several committees in the Maritime Conference of the United Church and had served as Chairman of the Woodstock Presbytery. He was Chairman of the Miramichi Presbytery on his retirement. He went to Bathurst in 1939 as pastor of Trinity United Church and under his leadership that church was joined with St. Luke's as First United Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Grace Page of Centreville, N.B., and two children Allison and Joan.

Burial will be in Kentville, Monday.

C. C. F. Leader Critical Of Ontario Gov't

OTTAWA, Oct. 24 — (CP) — E. B. Jolliffe, C. C. F. Ontario Provincial leader, said in an address last night that Ontario now has a coalition of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives "in all but name."

Warning that a federal general election and a new Ontario Provincial election may be called at any time, Mr. Jolliffe said the association of the two older parties was "a coalition in disguise, an illicit union without either legal blessing or public recognition."

Mr. Jolliffe was guest of honor at a banquet arranged by the Ottawa C. C. F. Club.

M. J. Coldwell, C. C. F. leader, attended and said the C. C. F. had become the logical political instrument in the evolution of Canadian Democracy. The C. C. F. was making great progress and "before long we shall be called upon to form the governments of several of our provinces and of Canada itself."

Servicemen Find A Home From Home

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A NORTH ATLANTIC PORT Oct. 24—(CP)—Canadian servicemen who crowd this Atlantic meeting place of all the fighting forces find a home from home at a spot run by a couple of men with Canadian backgrounds who keep an eye out for their special wants.

Canadian Navy men on shore leave, and army and R.C.A.F. men in town from their establishments, settle at the service hut for their stay. Their needs are looked after by manager C.K. McLean of St. Catharines, Ont., and program director E.A. Cotton, a Newfoundlander who lived in Canada for many years.

McLean formerly managed the Red Triangle hut in Montreal. Cotton has lived at Saint John, N. B., and Sussex, N.B. and he recently flew to Canada to marry a Sussex girl and bring her back here.

"Servicemen of all the United Nations are welcomed here, but most of our guests are Canadians," says McLean. "Naval men predominate."

"We have them from all parts of Canada. Right now, about a dozen of the fellows here are from St. Catharines. Just yell "Spud Island' and that Prince Edward Islander over there" — pointing across the spacious lobby—"will answer. And it's the same for the other provinces."

The big hut—it has 450 beds that are filled almost every night—is financed by a local war services committee in conjunction with the Y.M.C.A. of Canada. It serves about 1,000 meals a day, cafeteria style, on the average.

Around the crowded lobby, men play juke boxes, pinball machines of games, or write home. Inside manned by a corps of volunteer women, the cafeteria is going full blast to provide inexpensive meals —regular restaurant prices here are very stiff.

On other floors, there are bowling alleys, a swimming pool and a gymnasium. Hostesses are on hand to entertain the men.

For those who would like to make social contacts in town, there is a special hotess service to arrange for them to visit private homes. This gets a big play.

Other activities include dancing, movies, sing-songs and amateur hours. Now and then a concert party group from some ship in port will be brought in to help boost the morale of these men who don't see Canada for long stretches on end.

Loan Meeting In Eastern King's Co.

Once again the members of the Beach Grove Training Centre Band and the L.O.A. Pipe Band have made a valuable contribution toward the success of the Victory Loan in King's County. On Saturday evening, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather these two fine, patriotic groups of entertainers, motored through to Souris. At Morell they played to a large crowd of appreciative citizens Here Mr H.H. Cox spoke on the part each person should play in putting over the Loan, and Lieutenant J.J. McDonald, D.C.M. delivered another of his stirring addresses which must have awakened a spirit of loyalty in the heart of every listener.

In Souris the whole party had an enjoyable supper at Mr. Wilfred Wrights, then the Brass Band, followed after a short interval by the Pipe Band, paraded down main street to the Post Office where an open air concert was given. At the indoor meeting, presided over by Mayor Smallwood, who delivered an address of welcome the speakers were Dr A.A. McDonald, Lieut. J.J. McDonald, D.C.M., and the energetic King's County chairman, Peter E Holland to whom credit must be given for organizing this splendid musical demonstration. It was a gala night in Souris hundreds of people were aroused to a high pitch of enthusiasm and loyalty and the committee are definitely sure of a greatly increased response to the Victory Loan in this section, which has always done so well in previous loans.

Expect King To Fill Vacancies At Early Date

OTTAWA, Oct. 24 — (CP) — Prime Minister MacKenzie King, faced by a growing list of appointments to high places in the judiciary, the government service and the senate, is expected to make a fairly clean sweep of them at an early date.

There are five important judicial vacancies, two in Quebec and one each in Saskatchewan, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. That in New Brunswick, created by the retirement of Chief Justice J. H. Barry of the Court of King's Bench, has been in existence since July, 1941, and it has been reported that the present Transport Minister, J. E. Michaud, was slated for it.

Mr. King will soon receive a nomination from the Board of Governors to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for a successor to Dr. James S. Thomson as Corporation General Manager, and possibly for some other high appointments in that organization.

The Board met yesterday and Friday to make a recommendation but delayed action pending further consideration to other possible reorganization.

There are 11 senate vacancies and in the past it has been customary for the Prime Minister to attempt to fill at least some of such vacancies before each session of parliament. The next session will open in January.

Many Foods Said Scarce In Germany

STOCKHOLM Oct. 24—(AP)—The fifth winter of the war will be Germany's skimpiest despite Nazi boasts of a "favorable grain harvest after two disastrous years.

The Germans backed up their boast by immediately increasing the bread rations. The opportunity was seized upon as a boost for morale at a time when the spirits of the German people were low because of steady reverses and Allied bombing.

Actually it is a meaningless gesture because bread rations always have been liberal in Germany. On the other hand, the yields of fodder for livestock, potatoes, and cabbage, which form the backbone of the German diet, sugar beets and other root crops are so poor even economic expert Wilhelm Packenius admitted that Germany was "not exactly blessed" in these crops.

In addition the vegetable supply for the winter was a disappointment. The great acreage of both early and winter cabbage failed because of drought. The press therefore already warned the Germans there will be little sauerkraut this winter.

Although the Germans have announced that grain yield averages range from "fairly good" to "good", they still have not reached a standard which would peremit the lifting of the ban on the use of rye or wheat as feed for livestock.

STOCKHOLM —(CP)— Norway's Minister to Sweden, Jens Bull, has been summoned to London by the Norwegian Government to conduct international law.

Badoglio's Aim For Italy Listed To Allied Newsman

By MARK S. WATSON
(Copyright, 1943, by The Baltimore Sun)
(Distributed by The Canadian Press)

SOUTHERN ITALY, Oct. 20—(Delayed)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio today in a newspaper interview discussed the present situation in Italy, events which had brought it to pass, and his hopes for Italy's future.

He said:—

1. Liberation of Italy is the prime need. On this point the Marshal declares he speaks for all of Italy's established political parties now slowly reviving after long suppression by the Fascists. Representatives from each of these parties without exception he pledges himself to include in his government, but their leading figures now are so scattered and in hiding that a sound selection of them he regards as impossible until Rome is regained and they can enter public life again.

2. When such constitutional government is created, Badoglio says his duty will be complete and he will surrender office.

3. Italy's internal reforms, including the decision as to the form of the future government, must largely await action by this constitutional authority which itself cannot come into being until Italy as a whole is able to express its wishes.

4. Punishment of individual Fascists not yet determined.

5. Mussolini himself had originally opposed entry into the war and changed his mind only when he thought German victory assured. He planned for an important place at the peace table as a belligerent and "needed some thousands of dead Italians" to buy that place.

6. It was Mussolini himself who hastened Italy's ruin by sending the bulk of his divisions to Russia and the Balkans as a sacrifice to Hitler, instead of keeping them at home for a needed part in the Mediterranean theatre.

ST. JAMES CHURCH

Preaching last evening in St. James' Church on the text 'Better is a dinner of herbs where love is than a stalled ox and hatred therewith" (Proverbs 15:17) the Minister, the Rev. T.H. Bussell Somers said: That is why, when we dwell in the love of God, we win the blessing of a great repose. To live in God is always to be restless, and yet to live in God is perfect rest. It is one thing to be content with what we are; it is another to be content with what we have. The one is a certain sign of spiritual death: the other is a certain sign of love. So he who dwells in God, knows the strange paradox of growing more discontented with himself, yet always growing into a new content with the lot that has been appointed him by heaven. How profoundly dissatisfied with his religious progress was the greatest and most heroic of apostles! "O wretched man that I am," he cries in agony, "who shall deliver me from this body of death?" Yet that apostle from a Roman prison, could lift his heart to heaven in adoration and cry, "I have learned in whatsoever state I am, wherewith to be content." Profoundly dissatisfied with what he was, he was profoundly satisfied with what he had. Divinely discontented with himself, he was divinely contented with his lot. And that has ever been one happy feature of the gospel which has rung out the grace of God: it has given the sweet contentment of true love.
