DUKE OF CONNAUGHT VISITING IN HALIFAX

His Royal Highness Inspected the Boy Scouts and Invested S. M. Brookfield with a Mark of Scout Distinction.

HALIFAX, August 24.—His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and staff arrived in Halifax yesterday morning. They were greeted by glowing summer weather, a fresh breeze tempering the heat and making the day delightful. At North street station the governor-general was met by Admiral Sir George Pauley and officers of the warships in port; Captain Martin and officers of the naval service; Colonels Thompson and Armstrong; Majors Willis and Jones; His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Mackenzie and Captain Hicks; His Worship Mayor Martin and City Solicitor Bell. One hundred marines from a warship constituted the guard of honor.

His Royal Highness spent the morning in a naval inspection and a visit to the internment camp at the Citadel. The visit to the prisoners was not without interest. The leader of the Germans interned there, who are all officers, the rank and file being at Amherst, was introduced to the governor-general, and they engaged for some minutes in pleasant conversation. His Royal Highness went through the camp thoroughly and spoke to a number of the prisoners. They received him with courtesy, raising their hats and saluting. The duke spent some twenty minutes in the internment camp.

The events of the afternoon were an inspection of the Boy Scouts on the Common and a visit to the offices of the Patriotic fund in the Board of Trade rooms. About 120 Boy Scouts formed up on the Common and when His Royal Highness arrived they "presented arms," the boy scout method of presenting arms, the boys having formed in scout parade order.

In the crowd alongside who were looking on with interest, was S. M. Brookfield, the president of the Boy Scout association, and a gentleman who has done very much for the organization, having helped to bring it from the very feeble state of two years ago to the strong and growing condition which exists to-day. It was a complete surprise when an orderly came from the governor-general and told Mr. Brookfield that His Royal Highness responded to the invitation and after introduction, Colonel Stanton, private secretary to the duke, read an address to Mr. Brookfield, and His Royal Highness thereafter hung a chain round his neck, to which was appended a silver fob, the highest mark of distinction which can be given to any worker in the boy scout movement. The address read by Col. Stanton dwelt on the splendid work accomplished by Mr. Brookfield for the

GERMAN TRENCHES ENTERED BY BRITISH AT LABASSEE

Furious Counter-attacks by Germans to Recover Lost Ground were Repulsed with Terrible Losses to the Enemy who Retired. German Hold on Somme Front now Consists of Shell Holes Instead of Fortified Trenches.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—On the Somme front, in the neighborhood of Guillemont the Germans last night launched a strong attack in an effort to regain lost ground. The official statement issued here to-day says the attack was repulsed after a severe struggle in which the Germans sustained heavy losses.

The announcement follows:—Last night the enemy made strenuous effort to regain his lost ground between the Guillemont station and quarry. After a severe bombardment which began at 8.45 o'clock he launched a strong infantry attack which was pressed with such determination that it reached our parapets at places.

"After a short struggle the attack was repulsed completely everywhere with heavy losses to the enemy. After this failure the enemy delivered a further intense bombardment at 12.30 o'clock this morning but no other infantry assault materialized.

"In a raid which we carried out northwest of La Bassée we successfully entered the enemy's trenches." ROTTERDAM, Aug. 24.—Max Osborne, in a despatch from the Somme front to Vossisch Zeitung, says: "One is hunted up and down like a wild beast. There are times when our men curse and are home sick but in the moment of fighting all their feelings disappear." George Wagner in a despatch to the Koenig Zeitung says: "The present hold by the Germans consists of a chain of shell holes, instead of the girdle of strongly built and fortified trenches. Immovable men crouch in these holes with no cover from the sun and rain and not the slightest protection against the shells from above. Hostile flyers cover the positions at a low height. They see the men in the holes and direct the Anglo-French fire with a deadly certainty upon them or else they fire themselves with machine guns. Everything has to be done at night; the bringing up of reinforcements, removing the wounded and burying the dead.

"When an attack begins the terrors of these places are beyond description. Like the fire rain on Gommorrah the drum fire of the enemy pours from heaven. The little shelter that there is in the trenches or holes is quickly flattened out. With thundering roar heavy shells from the gigantic mine wipe out everything in the neighborhood with their explosions. At the same time a rain of shrapnel falls and poisonous gas roll forward."

RUSSIANS CAPTURED 2,300 PRISONERS.

(Special to the Guardian.) PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—Russian forces operating in southern Turkish Armenia have re-occupied Musch which was captured by Turks on August 8, says an official communication issued by the war department tonight. The statement says the Russians captured 2,300 prisoners in a battle at Raeha. The communication says:

THE WESTERN (RUSSIAN) FRONT.—The Situation is unchanged. CAUCASUS FRONT.

"Our troops pressing the enemy in the region to the west of Lake Van entered Musch where they took some prisoners. Supplementary information received from army headquarters says that in a battle fought in the region of Raeha where we surrounded portions of the Turkish division we took prisoners the whole of the Eleventh Turkish regiment consisting of its commander 56 officers and 1,600 of the rank and file, as well as nearly all of the remnants of the Tenth Turkish regiment, consisting of two staff officers, several other officers and 650 Askaria. We also captured in this battle three cannon and three machine guns.

French Troops Occupy All of Maurepas

PARIS, Aug. 24.—French troops to-day completed the occupation of Maurepas and carried their line two hundred metres beyond the town on a front of two kilometres, according to official communication.

French Play Havoc With German Airos

(Special to the Guardian.) PARIS, Aug. 24.—There has been a somewhat lively artillery duel in the region of Chenevières. Everywhere else the night was relatively quiet. On August 22 on the Somme front one of our air pilots was attacked by three enemy machines. He succeeded in escaping his adversaries, one of whom he brought down precipitately to earth near Athies, in the vicinity of Hem. Yesterday an Albatross was brought down by our men in the neighborhood of Mepoye to the northeast of Rheims. It dived heading into the enemy's lines. Another machine was brought down in the Champagne and still another in the Vosges region.

Berlin Cautiously Reports Progress

(Special to the Guardian.) BERLIN, Aug. 24.—By wireless to Sayville.—Italian artillery is displaying increasing ability along the Isonzo front, according to Austrian headquarters reports of August 23. No important infantry engagements anywhere along the Austro-Italian front are reported in the announcement which follows:—

"On the Isonzo front the enemy's artillery has opened a lively fire upon separate sectors near Voche. In Stenstrace an enemy biplane fell into our hands and the occupants were taken prisoners. In Tyrol an entire prise of Pleimistal front brought in eighty unwounded prisoners and two machine guns. On the southwestern front (Albania) in Avlona sector the enemy is increasing his activity.

The Intentions Of Roumania

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Dealing with the intentions of Roumania the Daily News says: "We may be content to draw upon the German press which is authority for the statement that Roumania definitely has joined hands with the Entente and is preparing to give Russian troops passage through her territory. It is difficult to conceive what motive the Germans could have for circulating such a statement other than the belief that it is true."

Italians Pressing Offensive Movements

(Special to the Guardian.) ROME, Aug. 24.—The Italians are pressing their offensive movements at various points in the Dolomites along the far northerly portion of the Austro-Italian front and report their occupation of new positions in Fassa Alps. Small offensive operations by our troops, says the official statement, gave us possession of some new positions in the rough mountainous area of the Fassa Alps. At the head of Focognina Valley we occupy height 2834 south of Cima di Cesa.

Danes Refuse Sale Of West Indies

A vote was taken in committee by the Landtag in the Upper House of Danish Parliament. The treaty was rejected by 39 votes.

GREECE LIKELY TO JOIN ENTENTE ALLIES

Are now Preparing to Resist Bulgarian Invasion. Venizelos Party Trying to Effect Alliance with Entente Allies.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Greeks are preparing to resist in force the advance of the Bulgarians towards Seres and Kavala. Before the pressure of Czar Ferdinand's troops the Greeks have fallen back but they do not purpose to permit a Bulgarian advance to the Aegean without disputing it.

Again the followers of Venizelos are leading the movement to force Constantine's hand and bring about a Greek alliance with the entente cordial powers.

Until this pressure on the flanks of the Bulgarians was removed, a further advance along the Saloniki railway was impossible. The Allied forces Seres, according to a Reuter despatch which reached London to-night, the Veles Mountains and have held the commander at Seres, according to this report, has called to the colors the troops demobilized in accordance with the demands by the Allies last removed.

TEXT OF JUDGMENT BROWN VS. ROGERS

Judgement in the case of George Brown vs. W. K. Rogers charged with illegally running an automobile was given yesterday by Stipendiary Shaw as follows:—

On the 21st day of July last, an information was laid before me by George Brown of New Glasgow against William K. Rogers of Charlottetown, for that the said William K. Rogers of Charlottetown in Queen's County, in Prince Edward Island, Insurance Agent, at Township Numbers Forty-eight and Forty-nine in Queen's County, on Sunday the ninth day of July, A. D. 1916, did use and operate upon a Public Highway, to wit, a Highway known as the Georgetown Road situate and running through and over said Township Numbers Forty-eight and Forty-nine in Queen's County, being a Public Highway in the Province of Prince Edward Island, a motor vehicle contrary to the statute in such case made and provided.

A summons was issued thereupon and the defendant appeared before me on Friday the 28th July and upon several subsequent adjournments.

The evidence tendered in the matter, including admissions made by the defendant himself and his witnesses, is such as to leave no doubt that defendant did operate a motor vehicle as charged in the information upon the Highway leading through Lots Forty-eight and Forty-nine to Georgetown, on Sunday the ninth day of July last, so there is, therefore, no difficulty as regards the evidence of the commission of the offence charged.

It is also to be noted that no act of the Legislature or no particular statute is mentioned in the information, the provisions of which have been broken. It remains for me, therefore, to apply the law or particular statute governing the matter.

From the conduct of the case, by the prosecution, it is to be inferred that the plaintiff is proceeding under the Motor Vehicle Act of the year 1908. On the other hand, the defence, while they admit the commission of the offence argue that the statute of 1908 and the penalties thereunder do not apply but, on the contrary certain sections and penalties imposed under an Act of the Legislature in relation to the regulation and identification of motor vehicles and the use of the public highways by such vehicles passed in the year 1913 only has application here. Mr. McLean, for the defence, bases his argument on two grounds (first) that the Act of 1908 is ultra vires of the Legislative power of this Province and (secondly) that the Act of 1913 has been brought into operation by certain publications in the Royal Gazette Newspaper of this Province under Section 22 of the 1913 Act.

As to the first question, I can have no difficulty as the matter has already been decided by the Supreme Court. (Continued on Page Three.)

Special Period Winners not Necessarily Grand Prize Winners. Opportunities as Good Now as Ever, if You do Your Best.

Nine more days left for the candidates in the GUARDIAN'S Grand Prize Campaign. Not very many, still enough for those who have firmly made up their minds to make every spare moment count. Don't forget that the four candidates who won the Special Prizes secured them in two weeks, and that two weeks is not the whole of the campaign. There are still the $300.00 WILLIS PLAYER PIANO on display at the Music Rooms of A. E. Toombs, on Queen St.—along with the $100.00 in Gold, the $250.00 Horse, Maple Leaf Runabout and Harness—to be seen at the show rooms of A. Horne & Co.—and Remington Typewriter, the Grafonolas and the many jewelry prizes—now shown in the windows of W. W. Wallace that are to be awarded to the seven-ten contestants who secure the most votes during the entire campaign. Pick out the prize you want most and make up your mind to get enough votes before a week from next Saturday night to win it. "Seventeen ladies will win the seventeen prizes" that is the GUARDIAN'S part of the bargain. Which one you will win, is "UP TO YOU" DO YOUR BEST! DO IT NOW!

Do not relax your effort at one of the turning points in the contest. There are only a few short days left before the close, and it is to your advantage to obtain every possible available subscription. Come in with enough votes to defeat your competitors. It is better that you should have more than enough. Plan your work each day. Make a note of the number of people that you intend to see. Tell your friends that it is now more than ever that you need their help if you are going to win.

Keep your spirits up and have the determination that you are not going to let your opponent defeat you. Do not wait until the last day of the campaign to work hard, and think by doing so you will make up many valuable days you will be losing now, because if you do so it will mean your defeat. The best method to work by is to do so much each day. Do not let a single day pass by without accomplishing something. Every one is valuable to you.
