FRIDAY.

A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in St. Bernard's Church, when Miss Aurora LeBlanc, daughter of Mrs. D. LeBlanc, Main St., was united in marriage to Henry W. Arsenault, of The Singer Sewing Machine Co., St. John. The bride, who looked charming in a tan suit with hat to match, was given away by her brother, Mr. LeBlanc. The nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. E. J. Savaze, William LeBlanc and Joseph Arsenault, of Amherst, N.S., father of the groom, acted as witnesses. After the ceremony the happy couple and relatives repaired to the bride's home where luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Arsenault were the recipients of many valuable presents, consisting of silverware and cut glass. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful piano. Mr. and Mrs. Arsenault left on a wedding trip to Prince Edward Island, after which they will return to St. John where they will reside.—Moncton Ex.

The Manchester Guardian of Saturday, May 6th, contains a two column interview with Dr. Robertson, Chairman of the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education, on the work of the Commission and the future of Canada. Dr. Robertson speaks of the wonderful improvements in Agriculture that have taken place in the last few years. He cites a case in P. E. Island where sometime ago 80 p.c. of the farmers were mortgaged and where at the present time only about 10 p.c. are mortgaged. These mortgages held for the most part by other farmers. He also cites the case of evidences taken by the Commission at Summerside, where a farmer 20 years ago took a farm of 97 acres with a mortgage of $11,000. Last year he sold $600 worth of butter and $300 worth of pork. It is needless to say that the mortgage has long since disappeared. The whole interview is filled with valuable information, such as only Dr. Robertson could give. Canada is certainly getting excellent advertisement through the work of this Commission.

The marriage of Miss Harriett S. Gorveatt, daughter of Mr. C. S. McNeill, Nine Mile Creek, was solemnized on Wednesday evening, May 10, at the residence of the bride's father, George Gorveatt, South Shore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Craize in the presence of only the intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. To the strains of the wedding march rendered by Miss Ruth Gorveatt, sister of the bride, the bridal party entered the room. The bride looked charming in a gown of cream tulle with net and silk trimmings and was attended by her niece, S. Hildred Gorveatt, who wore white muslin with trimmings of lace and insertion. The groom was supported by his cousin, Kenneth E. McNeill, Fair View. After the ceremony the bridal party retired to the dining room where they did ample justice to the good things prepared for the occasion. The bride was the recipient of many useful and costly presents which testified to the esteem in which she is held. After an enjoyable evening spent in music and singing the happy couple left for their future home in Nine Mile Creek followed by the good wishes of their many friends in which The Guardian joins.

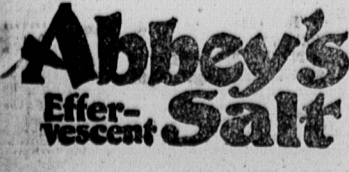

There very nearly occurred a division between Prince Edward Island, the pride of the Canadian Confederation yesterday. Benjamin C. Prowse, of Charlottetown, was on Saturday gazetted a member of the Senate of Canada, and it was agreed that he should take the oath and his seat at the first convenient opportunity. The first opportunity came yesterday, but unfortunately the new senator found when he attempted to enter the Senate Chamber that his parchment had been sent to Charlottetown and that therefore he was not eligible for presentation. It was urged in a secret session of the Senate that a certified copy of the Commission would be sufficient, but the sticklers for procedure held out and it took a good deal of unravelling of red tape until the problem was solved. But the law clerks of His Majesty having been consulted it was agreed that the certified copy of the Commission was sufficient, and the result was that Benjamin Prowse, merchant, of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, was transformed into the Hon. Benjamin Prowse, without any difficulty, even though it was the first occasion of the kind in the history of Canada when such a step had been taken without swearing in a senator unless the Royal parchment was before the Senate. But what does it matter? It is after all only a question of red tape; but the final result is that Hon. Mr. Prowse will date his senatorship from May 9 instead of having to wait for the Commission to come back from Charlottetown. It's a good thing to be lucky.—Ottawa Free Press.

Special to The Guardian. OTTAWA, May 25—The Public Works Department will call for tenders within a few days for very extensive harbor works at St. John, totalling in aggregate cost probably four or five million dollars. Surveys of Courtenay Bay, where the new division of the harbor will be provided to accommodate the Grand Trunk Pacific Steamships surveys, have been completed and contracts for dredging will be let next month.

There will also be a dry dock of first class built with an extensive ship repairing plant in connection. Docks will be built providing three berths for the ocean steamships service. Several companies of British capital are ready to tender for the whole of the proposed works.

NEW GLASGOW, May 24—The big event of the holiday in New Glasgow was the series of horse races held at Union Trotting Park in the afternoon. Four events were pulled off in splendid time, and the meeting was full of interest. The attendance was a record one at least two thousand persons being present. In each of the races the wins were locally popular, particularly so in the four year old and 2.28 trot. In each of these races the winning horses were driven by their owners, popular young townsmen who also trained these promising trotters. In the named races the contestants were all owned by enthusiasts in the town of St. John and the owners drove. The big field and the amateur drivers helped greatly with the sport, and they were congratulated on the splendid race they put up.

The 2.40 pace showed up a young pacer in Tom Commodore, owned by Angus McGillivray of New Glasgow that possess nothing short of phenomenal speed. He can go a two minute shot and paced quarters, today in better than 34 seconds. Queen Brazilian, that won easily the 2.26 trot is a very handsome animal, owned by Spurgeon Gammont and she gave evidence of being a very high class race mare, with better than 2.20 ability. Grace Abbott, owned by G. A. Wallace of Pictou had an off day, but trotted quite fast at times. The other starter was owned and driven by R. H. Sterns of Charlottetown.

The colt race was an open question throughout but G. S. Jackson, with his beautiful filly, Monachile, beat out the field, his stiffest competitor being Baron Wood, owned by W. S. McKie of Charlottetown, and driven by Hammond Kelly, also of P. E. I. James A. Fraser, starter and presiding judge and his assistant judges were John W. Grant and Leonard Stewart, F. P. Carroll and Alex Macdonald were the timers.

It was one of the best meetings ever held over this popular track and was well conducted. The summaries were:—

BOSTON, May 22—All for the love of the 16-year-old daughter of the man who was teaching him English Vincenzo Baggarazzo, an employe of a shoe factory, yesterday stabbed to death Joseph Mier of 9 Brook road, Quincy, when he found Mier in conversation with the girl at her home. Taking advantage of the excitement caused by his act, Baggarazzo fled and was caught in East Boston.

Baggarazzo went to Quincy from Lynn about a month ago. At the factory he made the acquaintance of William Johnson, who lives at 57 Penn street. It was not long before Baggarazzo was going regularly to the Johnson home, where Johnson aided him in mastering English. He met Annie the daughter, and fell in love with her. At every idle moment he sought her company.

Not far from the Johnson home, Joseph Mier kept a granite shop on Columbia street. He was a Spaniard and often visited a house at 55 Penn street, next to the Johnson home—a boarding house where Spaniards in Quincy are accustomed to gather. Mier also met Annie Johnson and fell a victim to her beauty.

Baggarazzo passed along Penn street just as Mier and Annie were standing near the girl's gate, conversing. Spectators say that Baggarazzo crossed the street and angrily charged Mier with attempting to win the girl's affections.

Mier was inclined to treat the attack lightly when, it is said, Baggarazzo whipped out a stiletto and plunged it four times in Mier's leg.

The blows were so quick and Mier boarded his train at Braintree and was so astonished that he scarcely stirred during the attack. When it was over Baggarazzo sprang away. Mier turned and started for the house.

Mier died within ten minutes. The doctor said all the stabs had penetrated near the heart.

Following the stabbing, some of Mier's Spanish went for Baggarazzo and threatened him with violence. Frightened Baggarazzo fled through a back field and along the railroad tracks in the direction of Braintree. Soon afterwards Conductor Martin McGurn reported that a man answered by and went upstairs, Baggarazzo, in his nightclothes, was caught sliding down a post of a rear porch. He was turned over to inspector Goodhue of the Quincy police.

Special to The Guardian. HALIFAX, May 22—Harry Pentz and Fred Boston, baggage master and brakeman, were drowned at Cox Comb Lake, Mount Uniack, while fishing. Their upturned boat was found.
