

Senator Sinclair On Reasons For Banning Sale Of Margarine

Following is the Hansard report of the address by Hon. John B. Sinclair, Queen's, on May 1, opposing the motion of Senator Blair for second reading of the Dairy Industry Bill, which would have the effect of permitting the sale of margarine in Canada.

Note W.P.T.B. Statement

"I took the liberty a few days ago of asking the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for a statement of the world situation following the war materials, the edible fats and oils and oleo, which enter into the manufacture of oleomargarine.

"The world fats and oleo supply position is extremely serious. At present time world supplies are approximately 62 per cent of screened and reduced requirements. This serious supply position is due to the following factors:

- (a) Lack of production in Europe, which continent normally supplied 50 per cent of her own requirements.
(b) Lack of trading goods necessary to promote production and sales by native populations in such areas of production as Africa, Malaysia and South America.
(c) Disruption in South East Asia, China, Korea, and the Pacific Islands during those countries recent large quantities of vegetable oils to Europe and to this continent.
(d) Drought and famine in Australia and India, respectively.
(e) Exceptionally poor wheat oil returns, particularly due to unfavourable weather conditions, and to heavy oil films on Antarctic waters, resulting from marine warfare."

Fashion Horoscope by Colette

You no doubt, have noticed that your pet red dress publisher's from smooth skin spots. And now summer is here, you're disturbed about wearing those vivid colors in your play clothes. Well, here's good news. This summer, the smartest beach and play tops for young fry will have that new smart neutral look. Cocoa and pale gray are team-mates; off-whites and creamy shades have all the excitement of a vivid color and will beautify those skin eruptions.

Why Anglicans must raise $4,300,000

IN ORDER to strengthen the arm of the Church and enable it to meet the challenge of postwar needs with intensified effort at home and abroad, members of the Church of England in Canada are asked to provide the sum of $4,300,000.

This money is urgently needed to carry on the Church's educational and social work in Canada, to meet Diocesan and general Synod needs as well as the expense of organization and administration, to carry on missionary work at home and abroad, to assist the Mother Church in England and the Churches of Europe in their work of rehabilitation, and to strengthen the pension fund for missionary clergy.

Table showing the money to be allotted in the following ways: Pension Fund ($1,300,000), Missionary Work (1,400,000), Educational Work (1,000,000), Church Work (55,000), Church in Britain (100,000), Churches in Europe ($90,000), General Synod Administration (205,000), Extension of Church House (50,000), Diocesan Needs (900,000), Organization and Administration (200,000).

Spiritual re-dedication must bear fruit in self-sacrificing practical endeavour if the Church is to meet its Christian obligations. Be prepared to lend YOUR support to the limit of your ability when the Visitor calls during the week of May 12th to 19th, or mail your offering to your Diocesan Headquarters.

Bill Ill-Timed

Confronted with that situation and being conscious of the needs of the starving peoples of the world, I think the Bill is ill-timed. We should not be considering a measure of this nature when the people of the world are famished and lacking food which we have in abundance. While it may inconvenience a few people to have less butter on their tables, a consideration of the world situation should make us realize that in Canada we have been very fortunate.

Staggering Fatalities

As recently as April 11, the Ontario Division Council of the Canadian Red Cross Society was told by Divisional Commissioner John A. Marsh that 54,000,000 people died during the winter of 1945-46 for lack of food. That figure is almost unbelievable. We are told now that in the coming year starvation will cause a greater loss of life than the recent war.

In Memoriam

J. OARL WADE It was with great sorrow we heard of the death of J. Carl Wade, which occurred by accident at Ottawa, Ontario, on April 3, at the early age of thirty-five years. He was born at Kildare, Ontario, and was the son of Catherine Charlotte Wade and the late Ernest Wade. At the death of his father when he was but thirteen years old, he assumed the responsibilities of a grown man and everyone marvelled at his intelligence and ability. He could accomplish farming did not appeal to him and he decided to make a change. He approached his mother one day and said, 'As much as I love you and this old home, I feel I must go. I love the animals, I love everything about my work is not here.' He started off young, alone, inexperienced, but full of hope to make his way in the world. He was very skillful with his hands and could shape almost anything out of wood or iron. He went to the northern part of Ontario, where he worked and studied and succeeded in obtaining the knowledge of a skilled tradesman, his ambition. He loved the free life and the tranquillity of the North but felt better business opportunities existed in the more thickly populated part of the province and moved north. He located at Mount Brydges and opened up a very successful mechanical business.

He made several visits to his Island home. In the fall of 1937 he married and brought his bride (Miss Bertha O'Brien) back with him. He leaves to mourn his wife and four small children, namely: Anne, Carol, Paul and James; his mother, three sisters, Marie, Penny (Wilkie) and Anne of Boston, Doris (Mrs. Ray E. Jones) of St. John's, one brother Roy of Worcester. His remains were conveyed to the home of the Rev. O'Brien of St. Louis, accompanied by his wife and small daughters, her sister, Mrs. William Jones of York, and his family from the United States. His funeral was at Sacred Heart Church, Alberton, west of Charlottetown, on Monday, May 6, at 10 a.m. The Rev. Father Monahan was the celebrant of the mass and conducted the services at the grave. The bearers were: Emmet, Callaghan, Clifford Knox, William Callaghan, Lorne Crockett, Lorne and Cecil Callaghan. We shall miss you Carl. That vision of your beaming countenance and your cheerful and friendly handclasp will long be remembered, especially in your own home where these features were displayed with such true devotion and love. But we hope to meet you again Carl in our Heavenly Home when his duties there up to about a week ago when he became ill and hospitalized for the time being with arthritis in his feet.
