Britain, Soviet Diplomatic Pact Made In London

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The terms under which Great Britain and the Soviet Union are to exchange Ambassadors once more were revealed by the protocol signed by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary and Ambassador Velerian Dogvaevsky issued by the Foreign Office for publication in morning papers tomorrow.

It stated that the following questions shall be settled by negotiations between the two Governments.

1—A definition of the attitude of both Governments toward the treaties of 1924.

2—A commercial treaty and allied questions.

3—Claims and counter claims, inter-Governmental and private, debts and claims arising out of intervention and otherwise and financial questions connected with such claims and counter claims.

4—Fisheries.

5—Application of previous treaties and conventions. The protocol provides that negotiations shall take place immediately on resumption of full diplomatic relations and will be conducted by the Soviet Ambassador to London and the British Foreign Secretary, assisted, if necessary by joint committees of experts of both countries. Agreements arising from the negotiations shall take the form of a treaty or treaties between the Governments.

The protocol provides that immediately upon actual exchange of Ambassadors and not later than the same day on which the ambassadors present their credentials, both Governments will reciprocally confirm the pledge with regard to propaganda contained in article 16 of the treaty made in August 1924.

By that article, the contracting parties undertook to "refrain and to restrain" all persons and organization under their indirect control, including organizations in receipt of any financial assistance from them, in any way whatsoever to endanger that tranquility or prosperity of any part of the territory of the British Empire or of the U. S. S. R. or intended to embitter the relations of the British Empire or the Russian Union with their neighbors or any countries."

The protocol further provides that parliamentary sanction be sought at the beginning of the next parliamentary session and that immediately thereafter the two Governments shall take the usual step of appointing ambassadors.

Church Services

There was a good attendance at all the services Sunday. Rev. Dr. Ramsay preaching in the morning from the first three verses of St. Matthew's gospel, chapter 5 "One of the Beatitudes." The choir gave two anthems including "Jerusalem my Glorious Home" an old favorite given by request. It is always an interesting sight to witness the Junior congregation as they go to the social hall to have their own special exercises. Toay the Juniors were favored with a most interesting talk by Miss Harris, the secretary in charge of elementary work of the Maritime Religious Education Council. Miss Lillian McKenzie has charge of the music.

This was promotion day in the Sunday School and from now on it is expected that interest in the school's work will increase steadily. The attendance was 326. There are two classes in the school in which much interest is being manifested, namely the boys and girls students' classes, the latter is under the direction of Mrs. (Dr.) Ramsay. A week ago they had a hike to Inkerman. Mrs. J. A. Lawson generously giving the use of her home there for the occasion, refreshments being served and for the past two Sundays enjoyable sing-songs were held in the ladies' parlor, after the evening service.

Mrs. Roy Cudmore sang very sweetly a solo, "Spirit of God" and preacher at the evening service, his subject being "Religion and Life." Impressions from the life of David as he rose from the sheep-fold to the throne, from shepherding on the hills to be a leader of his people. David gave a large place in his life to God. The testimony of history is, To be without God, man fails. The scriptures teach to seek first the Kingdom of God.

My little girl had eczema very badly. It started in small blotches on her head and then formed scales all over her scalp. Later it spread behind her ears and formed wet, sore eruptions. Her hair fell out terribly. Shows bothered about three months. I tried all kinds of remedies but the trouble kept getting worse. A friend advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I purchased some, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and five boxes of Cuticura Ointment she was healed. (Signed) Mrs. Lillian E. B.
