Million U. S. Troops To Grapple With Strikers

President Has Called State Governors to Provide Troops for Safeguarding Strike Districts.

(Special to The Guardian.)
WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Government today embarked on a momentous test of strength with the 800,000 striking coal miners. In his call upon the twenty-eight Governors, President Harding has in effect ordered the mobilization of more than 1,000,000 armed men on the side of the public. It was estimated first of all the Governors can call on the local authorities such as the police and deputy sheriffs to provide protection. If these forces prove insufficient the National Guard forces are to be mobilized; if the Guardsmen prove ineffective, Federal Troops will be sent to their assistance. Should the trouble be too widespread for control by these forces the Government will induce the National Guards of non-coal producing states into the Federal service and detail them to duty in the coal producing States.

CHICAGO, July 19.—Martial law throughout the Illinois coal field became a possibility today.

Heavy Fighting Took Place at Limerick

Insurgents Held in by National Troops. Capitulation of Former Appears to be Imminent.

(Special to The Guardian.)
DUBLIN, July 19.—News reaching Dublin this morning confirms the early reports that heavy fighting occurred in Limerick over the weekend. The National Army troops succeeding in holding the irregulars in the Strand Barracks and King John Castle. The capitulation of the insurgents is believed to be imminent.

DUBLIN, July 19.—Irish Rebels made an armed camp of Cork today in preparation to defend the city against an attack of Free State Troops. Barricades were thrown up and hotels seized by the insurgents as was done in Dublin during the bloody civil war that raged a week there.

Emmon De Valera, former President of the Irish Republic and leader of the Irregulars, was expected there today to operate against the Free State invasion. De Valera was last seen by Free State troops at Limerick. Dublin Irregulars outposts continue to suffer in west and south and southwest and the total number of persons held by the Free State is left. The Irregulars' headquarters at Clonmel for Limerick but they found that the line was blocked at Bansha by their own men who had blown up a bridge. All the railroads and roads to Limerick have been blocked by scores of felled trees and destroyed bridges by the National column from Naomh in rapidly clearing one road into Limerick and in a few days it will be open for reinforcements and hospitals necessary to clear the irregulars from this stricken city.

Scottish Catholic Celebration Today

This afternoon at 1.30 the Scottish Catholic Celebration will take place at the grounds of the Charlottetown Driving Park Association. The program is really a splendid one and we are sure will furnish lots of excitement and entertainment to the big crowd that will surely attend. Everywhere from one end of the Province to the other the race between Kentucky Marquis and La Copia is being talked of and it is a safe bet that no sporting event of recent years has awakened such keen interest. The horses will go to the wire fit and ready, and a great contest should develop.

The Class A Trot will be another race that will be worth going a long way to see as Mr. Kelly thinks he can defeat Mr. Hooper today and Mr. Hooper is just as sure he can win.

The Class B Pace has six real good pacers and will be a class event, the result no one can predict.

Class B Trot has ten entries and will be a real exciting contest. Between the heats there will be dancing specialties and Band Music.

The Scotchfort Celebration Yesterday Was Successfully Carried Out

Despite Morning Showers the Unveiling Ceremony Was Impressively Carried Out in the Afternoon. Large Crowds in Attendance.

We are sure that that will obtain under our constitution. While we erect this memorial to honor the Scottish Catholic settlers of 150 years ago at the same time we are to remember that these people came to this country to cast in their lot with the rest of the future Canadians. They did not come as a class, but to work together with the other citizens of the then colony; and that should be the spirit of every Scotchman. It is only by working together and systematically understanding one another that we can fire the soul of Canada and live up to that spirit that makes for a great country. A great majority of mankind mean well and it is by sympathetic action on our part that we can bring about results that make for progress.

In erecting this cross, the symbol of Christianity as we Catholics look upon it, let us be for us a symbol of religion; for whatever material progress we shall make in any country there must be the religion behind it. Above all, there is a God that we must recognize; and when these two ideals are kept co-ordinated, then we have results, and in this way we can accomplish the real good which our country surely expects us to.

There should be no room for sectionalism or sectarianism in this Canada of ours, continued Bishop Morrison. A progressive spirit should be our watchword, and in the performance of our duties let us endeavor to discharge them so that when another 150 years have rolled away future generations will remember with gratitude what we in our age have accomplished and they will take inspiration from us. "It is with reverence and pleasure, therefore," continued the speaker, "that I dedicate this Cross. Let it stand as a memorial of what is accomplished in this country; let it stand for what is stood from the time of our Blessed Lord."

The monument was then unveiled by Mr. D. D. McDonald, while the League of the Cross Band, O'Leary, played God Save the King.

The chairman announced with regret that His Honor the Lieutenant Governor had been on the grounds but had returned home, and the unveiling ceremony would be postponed, owing to the rain. He then called upon Rev. Dr. McLellan, rector of St. Dunstan's University.

Rev. Dr. McLellan paid a glowing tribute to the early Scotch Catholic settlers, who built upon this ground their first church. The monument carries us back to the holy isle of Iona, almost fourteen centuries ago, when the great St. Columbo, with the best blood of the Irish kings, with the faith of Christ and of their fathers in their hearts, came to Christianize northern Scotland, and from Iona went out faith and civilization. It is fit therefore that this monument unveiled today should be in the form and fashion of the Celtic cross of that holy isle.

The pioneers came to this country inspired by the highest motives that could move the human soul, in freedom to worship God, to leave their native land, to leave their families and possessions behind, and to live and die for their country, but this they did in obedience to that strong impulse for religious liberty.

In conclusion, Rev. Dr. McLellan referred to two outstanding names of God, whom this monument honors—Father James MacDonald and Bishop Morrison, who were the glorious work they had achieved. He closed his address with a brief speech in Gaelic, which was present and understood and loved the old tongue, was the rarest treat of the day.

Brief addresses were then made by Premier Bell, for the province, Judge Arsenault, on behalf of the Acadians, U. S. Consul Crosby, Mr. Peter McCourt, on behalf of the Irish Societies, Mr. D. A. MacDonald, representing the Intercolonial Council of Boston, Mr. Jas. MacIsaac, for the Caledonian Club, and Chief John Sark, of Lennox Island, on behalf of the Miqmacs.

During the ceremony, Scottish reels and dances were excellently given by Misses Claire McCormack, Marion MacDonald, Helea MacDonald, Jean MacDonald and Winifred McEachern.

The individual dancing of Miss McCormack and Miss McEachern were very warmly received. The pipe band which was in attendance rendered suitable selections, and members of the band played during the dancing.

The chairman produced at the conclusion of the programme a rustic reaping hook, which had been found three feet below the ground while unearthing ground for the monument.

In commemoration of the departure of the Highland pioneers from their native shore, Piper John Kennedy played "Lochaber No More." This was followed by the National Anthem.

After tea band concerts by the Caledonian Pipe Band and the League of the Cross Band, were enjoyable features much appreciated.

Among the thousands of visitors at Scotchfort yesterday were several from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and the New England States. The visitors' register kept on the grounds contains among others the following names: A. Grover, Montreal; C. A. Scott, Amherst; E. P. East, Simeon, Ont.; Lillian May Driver, Glouce Bay; Edith E. McPherson, Roxbury, Mass.; Frances G. MacPherson, Roxbury; Eunice MacPherson, Roxbury; Mrs. L. C. Norris Government Signally Defeated

Farmers Will Have 25 Members in all, Liberals 8, Conservatives 7, Independents 7. Farmers Have Not Clear Majority Over All but May Draw Enough Independents to Form Government.

(Special to The Guardian.)
WINNIPEG, July 19.—The Norris Liberal Government which had 21 seats in the last House has been badly defeated and will return with only eight members. The farmers will have 24 members outside of Winnipeg and the Progressives are almost certain to elect one member in Winnipeg which will give the Farmer Government a total strength of 25. While this is not a majority over all in the House it is expected that the Farmers will be able to draw enough from the seven Independents to form a government. This will make the third Province of Canada under Farmer rule. Alberta a year ago having followed Ontario's precedent. The Liberals have won five seats outside of Winnipeg and are sure of three in the city. The Conservatives will get either one Farmer Government a total strength of 25. While this is not a majority over all in the House

Magnificent Entertainment At Prince Edward Theatre

The Boston English Comedy Company Open Four Night Season With a Delightful Presentation of Maritana.

There was a pleasant air of expectation at the Prince Edward Theatre last evening when the curtain rolled up for "Maritana," the bright romantic opera chosen as the opening number by the Boston-English Opera Company. Their engagement here, under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. McKinnon.

The opera, one of a splendid repertoire, gave ample scope for the wonderful voice of their Prima Donna, Miss Helene Morrill, who by the way, is very kindly remembered by many Charlottetown theatre goers, having visited here a few years ago. Miss Morrill delightfully depicted the title role in "Maritana," a romantic opera with a story that is fascinating from start to finish, and ends happily in true story-book style.

"Maritana" in four acts, shows one where the librettists of the Count of Luxembourg borrowed their main situation. The King of Spain, who for some reason or other, can't endure even courtesans without a handle to their name, lets his wayward eye rest upon a gypsy. He arranges her marriage to Don Caesar de Bazan who is due to be executed for so far forgetting himself as to run an adversary through in Holy Week. The damsel is heavily veiled but of course Don Caesar eludes the executioners, recognizes his bride among the ladies of the court, peasants, soldiers, etc., and the curtain comes down on everybody smiling.

The leading tenor, Mr. Norman Arnold, was ideally chosen for this opera, as his swaggering, good natured buoyant spirits kept his audience alert to his every movement. Henri Raiff as Charles II, King of Spain, very ably portrayed his part, while Miss Marguerite Porter, with her rich clear soprano, was given hearty applause, as she sang from time to time.

Mr. Edward Orchard has a wonderfully rich voice and as Don Jose de Santarem was given every opportunity to show its beauty and flexibility. The other members sang in tuneful union that was thoroughly appreciated by the large audience, while the stage fittings and rich costumes were magnificently pleasing to everyone.

Following was the cast:—
"Maritana, a Gypsy girl"—Helena Morrill.
Charles II, King of Spain—Henri Raiff.
Don Jose de Santarem—Edward Orchard.
Don Caesar de Bazan—Norman Arnold.
Marquis de Montefiori—John Pritchard.
Captain of the Guard—Martin Albright.
Alcade—Martin Albright.
Lazarillo—Marguerite Porter.
Marchioness de Montefiori—Lilias Chapeleine.
Chorus of Nobles, Ladies of the Court and Soldiers.
Mr. Howard Cook, Conductor.
Tonight the "Mascot" will be presented and The Guardian bespeaks a crowded house.

Labor Council Issues Proclamation

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The Labor Council of the American Federation of Labor today called on all organized labor to assist the railroad strikers to win their fight by refusing to carry on any work dropped by the strikers. The council by unanimous vote authorized President Samuel Gompers to issue this proclamation to the workers.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—President Harding's plan to force increased coal production despite the strike of 800,000 miners by attempting to operate union mines with strike breakers working under troop protection received a sharp setback today. Officials of the union mine workers served notice on government officials handling the coal tie up that any attempt to send strike-breakers to the closed shop mines will result in a strike of the union miners, pulp men and other workers now working to prevent the mines from filling with water and otherwise deteriorating.
