

GERMANY SENDS GUNBOAT TO TAKE FIRST SLICE OF MOROCCAN PIE, WHEN CUT

Unless France and Spain Respect Integrity of Morocco the Kaiser Will Grab One of the Richest Provinces in Sultan's Kingdom - Action a Direct Repudiation of Algeiras Conference

BERLIN, July 2.—Germany is sending the gunboat Panther to Agadir and taking a claim in Southern Morocco in anticipation of the possible partition of the country. According to the general interpretation of the German press Germany will take its share in the province of Sus with its rich copper and mineral deposits, its great agricultural possibilities and its equal climate, in which whites can live and work, untroubled by the heat of the present adventure and really respect the integrity of Morocco.

This is confirmed by the semi-official statement which appears in the Cologne Gazette, pointing out that France and Spain, under assurances of purely temporary and benevolent action both landed troops and occupied territory in violation of the Algeiras act. Germany, says the statement, is justified in taking steps to protect her interests. She has no intention of remaining permanently in Agadir, but will not leave that town before regular conditions are restored in Morocco. This phase evidently means until the retirement of the Franco-Spanish expeditions.

The Gazette further discusses the extent of German interests in the region and the prospects of the spread of disorders there on account of the attitude of the Sultan and France toward the dismissed visir, Sid Madani Glau, whereby Germany subjects living in Morocco and others under the protection of Germany are endangered.

Special despatches from Tangier says that a German force has landed at Agadir. This is not confirmed, but it is stated here that it is likely that the phrase "for the present" in the official announcement of the despatch of the Panther implied that other war ships will be sent to Agadir later, if such action is justified. The German minister has informed the Moroccan government that the Panther will remain as long as Germany considers it necessary. There are some indications, according to the morning Post, that France and Great Britain have assented to the step which Germany has taken.

Baron Von Kiderlen Waechter, secretary of state for foreign affairs, has gone on a short vacation, indicating that he does not consider the situation urgent. No disapproval has been voiced by the German newspaper.

pers, many of which are enthusiastic and believe that Germany should have intervened earlier.

ENGLISH PRESS OPINION

London, July 3.—Germany's intervention in Morocco is the subject of considerable comment, mostly disparaging concerning that country's action. The Standard says: "Bismarckian tactics still prevail in Wilhelmstrasse. No opportunity is lost in taking a political rival at a disadvantage. The desire which has been growing so fast among us lately to be on better terms with Germany, will suffer a serious setback."

The Morning Post says: "Germany has torn up the act of Algeiras. This was done absolutely without consultation or discussion with the other powers. Germany's interpretation is not made plain. The question only is how France and England will regard it. The peace of Europe we suspect, will not be disturbed."

The Daily Graphic says: "We warned our French friends that they were deluding themselves and that if they displayed conversation with Berlin a serious crisis was inevitable. The action of Germany in Morocco is a situation which is far graver than that preceding Algeiras."

The Daily Chronicle says that the situation in Morocco will not be improved by the action of Germany. With French troops in the interior, Spanish troops in the North and a German warship in the chief southern port, "the situation may develop into a very ugly one. To prevent this, the Chronicle says, self-restraint on all sides will be necessary."

The Daily News says it was the incredibly short sighted French aggression, with the occupation of Fez, which was persisted in that brought about this result.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

The members of Union Division, Springfield, Lot 67, met at the home of H. B. Haslam on June 28th and spent the evening in games and other amusements. After supper the Division appointed Peter Sinclair chairman for the occasion. In a few remarks he held the object of their visit and called upon Fred Haslam who read the following address to Miss Mabel MacLeod: "We the residents of this district wish to convey to you on this the eve of your departure from Springfield our best wishes for your future career, and also our deep regret that you have decided to leave our midst. While teaching in our school you have acquitted yourself most faithfully in the discharge of your duties and the friendship which has existed between teacher and pupil has shown that while strict in your dealings with your pupils you have also held their high esteem which is shown in the bonds of friendship."

While with us in our Division you have always tried to do your best to help along our order and as a Division we will always remember you as one who took an active part to help advance the interests of the Division.

In conclusion we must again wish you every success in your future life and only wish that when time will allow you will take the opportunity of giving us a visit and renew old acquaintances.

Signed H. B. HASLAM,
PETER SINCLAIR,
FRD., HASLAM.

Miss MacLeod thanked the young people for their kindness and said that although leaving Springfield she would always have pleasant memories of her sojourn among them. A program of recitations, music and speeches followed after which a vote of thanks was rendered to the host and hostess for their kindness in.

UPSET LAMP CAUSES DESTRUCTION OF HOUSE.

WHITEHEAD, July 2.—Harvey Munroe's dwelling house was destroyed by fire here last night about nine o'clock. Mrs. Munroe went upstairs to do some work preparatory to retiring for the night, and in some way a glass kerosene lamp fell from a table and was broken. The oil caught fire and in a few seconds the whole lot was in a blaze. Mrs. Munroe at first heroically tried to put out the fire, but soon found it was beyond her control, and she escaped to the lower flat, where she had seven small children, and succeeded in getting them all out in safety. An alarm was given and soon a crowd of men gathered at the scene, but nothing could be done to save the building. About all the furniture below stairs was taken out, beds, bedding and everything in the upper story was destroyed. Mr. Munroe is one of the crew of the Nellie J. Banks, now fishing at Alberton. He was advised of his loss by wire today.

CLEVEREST THIEF IN THE EMPIRE

LONDON, July 2.—Horatio W. Bottomley, editor, newspaper proprietor, financier and independent liberal member of parliament for South Hackney, was condemned by Lord Chief Justice Alverstone this afternoon to pay $250,000 to the estate of the late R. E. Master, a retired Madras civil servant.

It was alleged that Bottomley had obtained $285,000 through misrepresentation by selling to Master worthless shares in various undertakings promoted by Bottomley. The plaintiff was Mrs. Curtis, a daughter of Master.

Master was supposed to be wealthy, but he died penniless, and investigation of his papers disclosed that he had been connected in big financial deals with Bottomley and Terah Hooley, another promoter whose meteoric career astonished the city a few years ago.

Counsel for the plaintiff described Master as a poor old deaf and infirm man who had been sucked dry by Bottomley within five months, and said he hoped the verdict would result in an inquiry which would put Bottomley in the dock and render him liable to a long term of penal servitude.

Bottomley himself addressed the jury, characterizing the suit as an act of "those blackmailing charges in defending which I have almost lived in the witness box during the past ten years." He ended by saying: "Since the countess has swept by the clearest thief in the empire, I ask brand those responsible for this charge as the most notorious and most discreditable blackmailers of the quarter."

The Lord Chief Justice granted a stay of execution on condition that the total $250,000 be paid into the court within a week.

Bottomley was alleged to have been connected with the attorney for Dr. Crrippen in practices in connection with the murder trial for which the attorney was disbarred.

THE FARMER WOULD SUFFER NOT BENEFIT

COWANSVILLE, July 2.—Dominion day was fittingly celebrated here yesterday by a big conservative rally at which a menu of patriotic and political speeches were served out to some 2,500 electors and many others. Hon. C. J. Doherty was the chief speaker, and delivered a scathing indictment of the government, while the reciprocity pact was dealt with in particular by Dr. F. H. Pickett, conservative candidate for the county at next election. The meeting took the form of a picnic, at which T. Montague and C. Montgomery presided. Dr. Pickett declared that Canada has built a country despite American antagonism in the past, and that Canada was now the freest country on earth. He then appealed to the farmers, who constituted a large section of the audience, and would get better prices for his foods under reciprocity, at the same time pointing out how the whole Dominion would suffer, and come into the question from the point of view of many industries. Mr. Doherty reviewed the career of the administration, paying particular attention to the scandals and to the many follies and extravagances which he claimed the liberal party had been guilty of. Frank Curran also dwelt on the same topic, saying he had been struck by the manner in which liberal members had whitewashed friends in the party in recent disclosures in the house of commons, but he hoped that the electors would not show the same blind allegiance to party lines.

THE BRIDE.

The orange blossom crowns her,
The bridal satin gowns her,
The happy anthem rings;
The bride's music and its laughter,
She goes to meet her lover,
While Eden's voices sing.

The marriage vow is spoken,
The wedding bread is broken
With blessings and with fears;
These two set out together,
Through the sun and sunny weather,
To journey through the years.

Fate, send your choicest dower,
Great joy and plenty shower
From blue and kindly skies;
Earth's music and its laughter,
And gladness ever after,
And love that never dies!

So, life goes on forever,
Hands join, no more to sever,
The roses crown the June!
And down the aisle swinging,
We hear the angels singing
A joyous hymnal tune.

—Kate Masterson, in the July Colian.

A TRYON HATCHER.

To hatch, and how to hatch; that is the question! Yes, and it has worried the farmer, and the farmer has in turn worried the hen, first in the attempt to induce her to come to time in laying and then to take time in hatching. With those not fully versed in the science of this persuasive art small difficulties have become insurmountable and failure has ensued. But one Tryon farmer doesn't worry, at least not over his feathered flock for he has obtained marvellous results since he entered more fully into the business. He has delved into the vagaries of the atmosphere and by a change in the temperature he has succeeded in bringing forth chicks to the number of one hundred at a time. The hen relieved from her onerous maternal duties, clucks out a tuneful lay, while the usurper of her legitimate calling chuckles in his glee and reflects on the value of scientific appliances and their uses.

ARE DISCUSSING ANNEXATION IN JAMAICA.

KINGSTON, Jam., July 1.—A discussion of the annexation of Jamaica to Canada is being carried on by the local newspapers. The Telegraph Guardian urges the linking of Jamaica to Canada or the giving by the home government to the colony of power to negotiate a treaty of reciprocity with the United States.

The newspaper argues that it is impossible for the island to remain in its present backward position when Cuba and Porto Rico are flourishing. Another section of the press says that annexation with Canada is out of the question, declaring that Jamaica first must look to Great Britain and then to the United States. Public feeling seemingly favors a commercial understanding with the United States or the annexation of the island to Canada.
