Potato Farming in England

England will have more home-grown potatoes this year as a result of one of the greatest experiments in power-farming ever attempted in the Old Country.

built in England, are better than those of twenty years ago, when the unreliability of tractors was an important factor in the abandonment of war-time ploughlands.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Now the sweet odor of burning leaves.
The Girl Guides have made a good start in their Fall activities.

Most of the clergy having now returned from vacation, Reconciliation provides a suitable subject for their next Sunday's discourse.

In the new education scheme announced by Marshal Petain for unoccupied France provision is made for six years compulsory Latin.

As part of a campaign for greater understanding between the two Pacific neighbors, Australia and the Dutch East Indies, a visit to Java has been arranged for a delegation of newspaper editors from all parts of Australia.

War's demands on industry

revelated in a statement from Ottawa that during the employment survey added to their payrolls 73,500 workers.

Heralding Reconciliation Week

an opportunity for personal, individual service. Major-General B. W. Browne, Adjutant-General of the Canadian Army, appealed for more active army recruits.

Opening up the editorial page of one of our favorite newspapers the other day, we found the story of the Scotch cat, was still going around.

WORDS OF CHALLENGE

A THOUGHT A DAY FOR A PEOPLE AT WAR
The Germans have had their day; now our day is beginning, and with the victory of arms shall come freedom.

NOTES BY THE WAY

"No one in this country or in Great Britain, or anywhere else but in Berlin, wants war in the Pacific."

Sunk in Tobruk harbor, the British gunboat Ladybird still lies at Axis piers and is overhauled.

TWO R.A.M.C. SPECIALISTS

in psychological medicine at a military hospital write on a topic of general interest in the "British Medical Journal".

I mentioned recently the auxiliary felt by many London-lovers the condition of the two great churches, St. Martin's and St. Bride's, since both churches were burnt out by incendiary bombs.

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

OLD TIMES AND FRIENDS RECALLED

St. - This is from an Old Boy of seventy-seven years. I was where Joan Nash has died and that Fred J. Nash was dead.

I had a letter from Beverly R. Newbery author of the poem in your paper. I knew Beverly as a boy many years. The letter was from 10 Belmont Terrace, Yonkers, New York.

Old timers in Charlottetown will remember Jack Hazard. I met him several times at the Metropolitan Hardware Co. on Vespy and Pearl Sts.

What is Religious Knowledge?

(E. B. Castle in The Spectator, London)

The concern for Christian education is the child of fear and shame—fear of triumphant paganism and shame of Christian failure.

RIGHT CONDITIONS

It may be thought that I have strayed far from the subject. But I hope I have made it clear that I have no right to expect the highest response from children unless we respond by creating conditions wherein these high things may grow.

It is fortunate that the great truths of religion are simple and can be comprehended by the young. Jesus was quite clear on that point.

LIFE ITSELF

It is clear, then, that we cannot teach religious knowledge in the usual way, because it is not a "subject" but life itself.

tures we have to remember that our aim is always to transform Scripture knowledge into religious knowledge. For instance, we older folk know that the greatest message in the Old Testament is that of the Hebrew Prophets: co-operation with God's intention for man and society and win; seek strange gods and perish.
