WINNIPEG, July 3.—(A.P.)—Rochester and Montreal split evenly in two games here today to enable the Wings to gain a full game on the leading Newkirk Bears. Curly Ogden pitched the Royals to a 4-1 triumph in the first game and Rochester held off a Royal rally in the final inning of the second game to sneak out a 3-2 verdict. The Royals had three left on base in the final inning when Ira Smith fanned Pickering. Ripple was the Royals' batting hero in the first game with three hits, including a scorching double.

By staging wicked batting assaults, productive of 34 hits for their afternoon's work, the Bisons celebrated their home coming by twice vanquishing the Toronto Maple Leafs at Buffalo. The scores were 17-4 and 6-4. Len Koencke was the leading light with the willow as he pounded seven hits in nine tries, the string including a homer and triple.

Swine production in Canada is irregular, or rather, periodic, says the Dominion Animal Husbandman. On the other hand, the consumption and demand of the great market, Great Britain, is regular. For Canadian bacon to maintain its established position on that market, there are two primary essentials in Canadian production, quality and regularity of supply. Raising pigs at all times of the year presents little difficulty in the case of other bacon-producing countries in more favoured latitudes. With at least a six-month period when winter feeding conditions apply in most parts of inhabited Canada, the tendency has been towards rearing one litter per sow only every year. In advocating the rearing of late summer and fall litters in a much more general way let it be understood, emphasizes the Husbandman, that nothing but disappointment will result to the farmer swine-grower who applies haphazard methods. Only the application of correct principles of breeding, feeding and housing will bring success. Both the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture make a point of rendering every practical assistance.

Additional Day On the suggestion of Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, however, an additional day was given and the committee adjourned until Thursday morning. In the interval there will be much parleying and negotiating. Delegations not directly represented on the committee will be sounded out. Efforts will be multiplied.

Community Value The citizens of Charlottetown are very fortunate to have these two hospitals here, for it is only in a hospital that is well equipped, that the doctors are able to make available to their patients the most recent advances in medicine. Miracles are being performed every day in our hospitals which, but a few years ago, would have been considered absolutely impossible. The average span of life has been increased from 40 to 58 years in the last century, and, while many factors share the credit, undoubtedly the presence of a hospital in any community has been one of the greatest factors. Citizens owe it to themselves to rally to the support of their hospital. A hospital is the wisest investment which citizens can support, and the various voluntary bodies interested in the hospitals, the women's organizations, and others should be heartily supported.

May also spoke on behalf of the Highlanders. Lieut. Com. T. H. S. Jackson, of the Royal Navy also spoke and complimented the officers on the excellent representation of the Canadian Militia, which the Island could claim.

Mr. A. E. McLean, M.P., made an excellent speech on the part the Canadian Militia have taken in times past and stated that the object of the militia was not to make war, but worked in the interests of peace. Mr. J. Frank Arnett also spoke.

An inspection of the Light Horse by Brigadier Constantine, commanding officer of the Island and Nova Scotia Division will take place at the Exhibition Grounds at 2 p. m. today. This will be an interesting display and should be of interest to the public.

perimeter, the ratio of perimeter and outside wall surface to the number of beds is a vital factor in a cold climate or in one of high winds. All of these points have been covered to an unusual degree in this hospital.

"The hospital has ten inches of insulation in the outside walls, and seven inches on the roof, and I would prophesy that this hospital will be one of the easiest hospitals on the continent to heat.

"The ventilation system is unusually good. Mr. Govan has developed a type of skylight lighting and ventilation which has enabled him to utilize corners and space in the building which in most hospitals is more or less waste space, and this has enabled him to keep the cost down. There are various ways of calculating the costs of hospitals, and depending on these various ways the cost per bed may be calculated at from $1,800 to $2,500 per bed. At the higher figure this is remarkably low. The majority of hospitals offering the facilities here offered would cost at least $4,000 per bed, even at present reduced prices, and might cost considerably higher.

"Certain features such as the isolation nursery, the special operating room lighting and the air conditioning are not found in a great many hospitals. The latter matter is one which is now being given much greater prominence than formerly, for it is realized that a properly conditioned air supply at a required degree of temperature and of humidity control adds to the comfort of the patient. Every little feature has been thought of. The corridor lighting is most unique, and the sloped wall bases in the rooms and corridors will help to preserve the walls for many years to come. In considering the cost of a hospital one must consider not only the initial cost but also maintenance cost. Many features introduced into this hospital will reduce maintenance expense for many years to come.

"The building is a radically different type of hospital in its outside appearance, layout, and arrangement, and in its method of construction. Like all ideas which vary from the traditional views its full value may not be appreciated at the moment, but I am quite confident that experience will vindicate the vision of the architects, and that many of its features which now seem unique will be the accepted routine ten years from now.

2ND FISHING SEASON IS DISCUSSED

Largely Attended Meeting Is Held At Malpeque.

There was a large attendance of fishermen and packers at a meeting in Malpeque Hall on Monday evening when the question of a second season for the North Shore from August 15 to September 15 was discussed with Federal and Provincial Government representatives.

The districts of Darnley, Malpeque and French River were represented by leading packers and fishermen.

Addressing the meeting were Mr. A. E. McLean, M.P., Mr. J. Frank Arnett, Hon. Thomas McNutt, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Adrian P. Arsenault.

The speakers expressed their willingness to do all they could to lay the case of the fishermen before the Department of Fisheries. They were in sympathy with the fishermen and fully realized that the cold backward weather and heavy gales experienced during almost all of their fishing season this spring had very materially lowered their catch and the very low price obtained had made the season just past, almost a failure.

A second season would no doubt help out the situation to a very great extent.

The speakers pointed out, however, that it was a very big question for the Government to deal with and there were many things to be taken into account.

It was felt that the request should come from a representative number of fishermen from every section of the North Side of the Province, and that it be placed before the Department of Fisheries, who would lay the matter before the Government. The importance of immediate action was stressed by the speakers.

Mr. Ed. Murphy acted as chairman and Mr. Russell Champion as Secretary of the meeting.

A unanimous vote was passed approving of a second season.

A resolution was passed requesting the secretary to write to the packers in the different localities, asking them to get in touch with the fishermen and report at once as to whether they favoured a second season.

Among the packers present at the meeting were: Messrs. Russell Champion, Thomas M. Linkletter, and D. P. McNutt, who each expressed the opinion that owing to the adverse conditions prevailing at the spring season, the fishermen of the North Shore should be given every consideration, and that immediate action should be taken by the Government in order that the Government would have sufficient time to make the necessary arrangements and advise the fishermen of their decision; and providing that their request is granted, that those interested would have ample time to get their gear in order.

The question is a very live one, and the matter will be watched with interest by all concerned.—S.

Nazis Will Have Full Control Of Political Arena

(By W. E. Brockman, Associated Press Staff Writer) BERLIN, July 4.—Voluntary dissolution today of the Catholic Bavarian Populist party and the expected dissolution of the Catholic Centrist group tomorrow will leave the Nazis in sole possession of Germany's political arena.

It was semi-officially announced that negotiations of the Centrists with the Nazis under leadership of former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning had been closed. Brüning was expected to announce a decision of the Centrists to dissolve tomorrow under a so-called hospitable arrangement under which their members would join the Nazis as "guests."

CONDUCTED OFFICIAL INQUIRY

Inspector Graham Returns to Mainland After Investigating Air Fatality.

Mr. Stewart Graham, Federal Inspector of Aviation, who arrived in Summerside at 9.30 yesterday morning from Halifax, was busy all day making official investigation into Monday's airplane accident which caused the death of Herbert J. Mann.

Mr. Graham completed his investigation by 5 p.m. and flew immediately back to the mainland.

After inspecting what was left of the machine and interviewing several eye-witnesses and Mr. Reginald Pope, owner of the plane, Mr. Graham expressed the opinion that the accident was purely accidental and that the plane was perfectly airworthy previous to the accident.

The investigation was made in conjunction with Corp. L. H. Engles of the Mounted Police.

There is a difference of opinion among spectators of Monday's deplorable tragedy as to what actually happened. Some are of the opinion that the plane was on fire before it struck the ground but did not burst into flames until coming to a stand still. The plane appeared to be a long distance from the Exhibition Grounds when the wing broke in midair.

Mr. Clifford Mann, brother of the victim, was at the scene of the tragedy when the ill-fated machine came down. Seeing it burst into flames he rushed forward to get his brother out of the mass of wreckage, and himself sustained painful burns. He was taken from the scene by some of the members of the P. E. I. Island Light Horse.

Spectators of the accident expressed astonishment that no one was injured as there were crowds standing all around watching the plane.

Many feared the plane would come down on the stables where a large number of valuable race horses were quartered.

Mt'l. Market Steady

(Canadian Press) MONTREAL, July 4.—With 24 issues advancing to new peak prices for the year, Montreal Stock Exchange listings moved into higher territory during today's session. Steels, car equipment and textiles provided the main strength of the market which lacked the leadership of New York, closed in observance of the Independence Day holiday.

The opening was firm and the advance continued until midday when some hesitancy was experienced. Later in the session selling pressure was directed against many of the leaders and pared down the early gains. However, the majority of issues closed at or near their highs of the day. The advance on the whole lacked the vigor of yesterday's upturn and sales volume was lower, approximately 75,000 shares changing hands.

NEW YORK, July 4.—(A.P.)—Miss Fay Gillis, 23, of Minneapolis, will direct the refueling of Wiley Post's monoplane "Winnie Mae of Oklahoma" at two Siberian points on his projected world solo flight.

Lee Trenholm, Post's representative, said today Miss Gillis had left Moscow on June 25 for Novosibirsk, where the aviator plans to stop after leaving Berlin. While Post eats and takes a short nap, she will supervise replenishment of the gas tanks and any adjustments the plane needs.

Miss Gillis then expects to board the craft with Post, Trenholm said, for the flight to Khabarovsk, where she will direct servicing of the "Winnie Mae" for the long over-water jump to North America.
