

TORTURING DISFIGURING

Skin, Scalp and Blood
Humours

From Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age

Speedily Cured by Cuticura when All Else Fails.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful swelling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and wasting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in acne and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants and anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and saddle-bottom—all demand a remedy of almost supernatural virtues, to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The "purity" and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent, to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete local and constitutional treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all else fails.

Cuticura Resolvent, liquid and in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap are sold throughout the world. Dealers: London, G. F. Johnson & Co., 15, Pall Mall; New York, J. C. Ayer & Co., 15, Broadway; Boston, J. C. Ayer & Co., 15, Broadway; Montreal, J. C. Ayer & Co., 15, Rue St. James; Toronto, J. C. QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY AND ITS RELATIONS TO PRESBYTERIANS

Principal Gordon is of the Opinion that Queen's University Should be Separated from the Church, and Gives His Reasons for Thinking So.

St. JOHN, June 3.—This morning the Presbyterian General Assembly adopted the home mission reports after a short discussion. The widows and orphan fund committee's report was adopted. An interesting discussion took place on the question of ministers' salaries. This subject was touched last year, but this year for the first time in the history of the assembly, it was discussed as assembly business.

Dr. Warden, of Toronto, strongly advocated an increase of minimum stipend from $700 to $1,000. Some comparisons were made between salaries of ministers and those of steam drivers and other workmen. This led to strong protest from Mr. Adamson, an Ontario layman, who objected to that line of argument, though he favored the increase. The question was referred to a special committee, which is instructed to prepare a report to be presented later in the session. Dr. Sedgewick presented the report of Pine Hill college, which was regarded as very favorable, and was adopted.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

The whole afternoon was occupied with the discussion of the affairs of Queen's university, Kingston, and its relations to the Presbyterian church in Canada, and at six o'clock the debate had not concluded. The assembly first adopted a resolution of thankfulness for the resignation of the health of Principal Gaven, of Knox college. The report from Queen's was moved by Principal Gordon, who expressed regret that Professor Gaven could not come on account of the state of his health. Speaking of the report, Dr. Gordon described various types of universities in Canada and their various relations to the state and to the churches. Every college should have its aims and ideals. He would not have all connected with the church, because more good comes of variety. There should be a spiritual atmosphere in every church. Some thought that all denominational colleges were bigoted, others that all non-sectarian schools were godless. From both sides he prayed "Good Lord, deliver us." Queen's had always been broad and catholic, and to-day a majority of her students were the best of Presbyterians. During the last quarter of a century Queen's had graduated many students, and her association with these alumni had tended to nationalize the university. Graduates of all denominations had retained their interest. Many graduates, not Presbyterians, were on the college council, and their presence had a tendency towards the separation of the school from church control. Another influence was the relation of the university to the people and government of Ontario. As a church school it received no government grant, though government aid had been given to the school of mining in connection with Queen's. Another reason for separation from the church was that Queen's could not move without the consent of the church, while the church declined to nominate the university staff.

CHURCH SHOULD ASSIST THE WORK.

It was determined at the assembly last year that separation should not take place. The church had approved of his appointment as principal. Therefore, while he had no fears for the university he felt that the church should give all possible assistance to the work that Queen's was doing.

Professor Dyde, of Queen's, seconded the motion for the adoption of the report, spoke of the former attempt to move Queen's to Toronto. He strongly opposed the separation of the arts and theological work of Queen's. He could not see how the assembly could do other than support the recent action of the university council and trustees. These bodies had expressed hearty sympathy with the spirit which prompted the assembly to maintain the connection of the university with the church, but pointed out that this was a reversal of the previous tendency and imposed limitations on the development of the school and created a grave financial situation. Dr. Dyde spoke strongly on the obligation which the church assumed for Queen's by its course in maintaining the connection and thus limiting the development of a national school. Dr. Fletcher followed, strongly urging the continuance of the connection between Queen's and church.

After remarks by Hon. Colin Campbell, Rev. J. A. McDonald, the editor of the Toronto Globe, got to the floor. He was not sure the church should withdraw its influence from Queen's, but would heartily oppose the concentration of the attention of the church on Queen's and withdrawal from all other institutions. Toronto university, for example, needed the support of the church. It appeared that Ontario province was going to confine its assistance to Toronto university, and the state university would not receive much private assistance. There was no reason why Queen's should not draw to the fullest extent on private sources. Dr. Murray, of the Presbyterian Witness, Dr. Bayne and others spoke of the great work done at Queen's. Principal Patrick, of Manitoba, was by no means certain that they were on the right path. He would like to know what the church proposed to do for Queen's after placing her in the present position. He was himself in favor of the nationalization of Queen's and was not at all sure that the provincial government would withhold aid. That would depend on the electors. Dr. Macqueen thought it would be a great wrong for the church to throw Queen's over. The property there was worth $800,000. Queen's and Toronto both had their work to do.

Principal Falconer thought that the question chiefly concerned Ontario. In the maritime provinces Presbyterians gave the chief place in their affections to Dalhousie. The debate was in progress at six o'clock.

Been Used in War.

There are at least two recorded instances in which bees have been used as weapons of defense in war. When the Roman general Lucullus was warring against Mithridates, he sent a force against the city of Themiscyra. As they besieged the walls the inhabitants threw down on them myriads of swarms of bees. These at once began an attack, which resulted in the raising of the siege. These doughty little insects were also once used with equal success in England. Chester was besieged by the Danes and Norwegians, but its Saxon defenders threw down on them the beehives of the town, and the siege was soon raised.

Times Have Changed.

Once upon a time a superstition existed that a lady ought to blame herself if a man whom she did not intend to accept proposed to her, but that, should such an unpleasant incident occur, it was at least not to be made a subject of gossip among her acquaintances. Parents thought it incumbent upon them to let a man understand in time if they did not wish him as a son-in-law. It is needless to remark that such honorable reticence and kindly prudence are quite out of fashion.—London Standard.

Why He Remained Home.

Model Husband (boastfully)—Yes, gentlemen, I've been married ten years and never spent a night away from home yet.

Doubting Thomas—Large and interesting family, eh?
"Only three of us."
"Have one child, eh?"
"No; the other is my wife's mother."

Optimistic.

Young Lawyer—Well, the judge has rendered a decision in our favor in that will case. Older Partner—Never mind. The other side will appeal, and we will continue to get fees out of it.—Puck.

Honesty is the best policy, but he who is governed by that maxim is not an honest man.—Whately.

WANTED—A case of headaches that Kumfort Headache Powders will cure in ten minutes.

The best disinfectant of all is sunlight. It destroys by its very brightness all sorts of germs and at the same time helps the growth of plants and animal life. Doubtless all have noticed that mould grows during the night and in dark, damp cellars. Bright sunlight quickly destroys germs, mould or other organisms. That is why it is best to let the sunlight into your houses for its purifying influence.

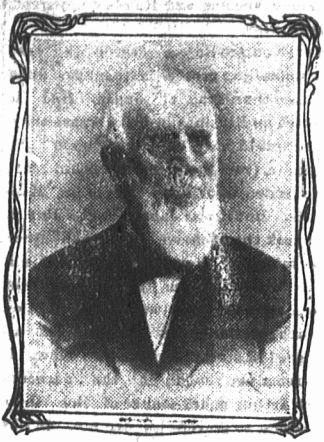

At the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce, chief consulting surgeon, studied experimentally some three years ago, with the Finest light in conjunction with the X-ray in the treatment of diseases. He got excellent results therefrom, and was among the first to adapt this remarkable cure to many cases which it was formerly supposed must of necessity be treated by the knife.

Not only is Dr. R. V. Pierce notable for his surgical achievements at his hospital in Buffalo, but nearly a third of a century ago he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that would be easily procured and ready to use. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains the patient's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and in this way fever, night-sweats, headaches, etc., are done away with. It fortifies the body against the germs of consumption, grip and malaria; it builds up the tissues and puts on healthy flesh.

Those desiring to know something about the body in health and disease, also medicine and surgery, without technicalities, should read the "Common Sense Medical Adviser," which can be had for 50 cents in one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Is there a lack of harmony in your Department of the Interior?
A little less meat.
A little more "FORCE."
Often that restores the balance.
