To Develop Maritime Industry

"At least a superficial consideration of the importance of Coal and its allied products should bring one to a realization of the great benefits it will confer upon the public at large...

"Notwithstanding the fact that Canada's potential wealth in Coal and Lignite fields is greater perhaps than any other country in the world, she is importing today eight-hundred to nine-hundred million tons of coal at a cash outlay of considerable more than $100,000,000 annually.

"By the use of Coalmin, Super Coal and the allied products that will be manufactured through the activities of the Syndicate, it is confidently believed and the results of the most searching investigations, that Canada's most serious and vital problem is now entering upon a permanent and definite solution.

"Our engineers and experts assure us that there are no unsolved problems in connection with the successful manufacture of Coalmin, oil. The Syndicate has obtained adequate supply of coal in Canada where its first plant will be installed.

"I violate no confidence in saying that it is the confident hope and expectation of the Syndicate to establish plants at various points across the continent in such proximity to each other that the railroads may be operated with the utmost efficiency and a reduced fuel cost.

"I have been repeatedly asked for an estimate of the profits the Syndicate will derive from its operation covering the next five years. I have hesitated to state my own belief for fear of being over-optimistic.

"I have decided to put the same question to some of the most conservative financial men in New York, who were supplied with complete data—men who are not in the habit of taking anything for granted; the kind of men who must know that for every dollar they put out after studying the problem, they asked me to give a conference during which they showed me a net figure of over $50,000,000 as being what they considered as a minimum result under a conservative but vigorous management.

"It matters not how good nor how valuable a proposition may be unless it has the peculiar kind of management necessary to make the enterprise based upon it financially successful. It is unworthy of public confidence, honesty and integrity of purpose, knowledge and experience, adequate capital and the necessary driving power are all vital to the success of any enterprise.

"It has successfully engineered some of the greatest industrial consolidations in America and out of over twenty there has not been a single failure. The fact that this house accepted the Management of the Syndicate justifies a confidence that could hardly be otherwise obtained."

C. G. I. T. Banquet And Closing Session

PROVINCIAL C. G. I. T. CONFERENCE BROUGHT TO A CLOSE LAST NIGHT, SPLENDID BANQUET TENDERED DELEGATES SATURDAY EVENING.

Saturday evening last, at 6 o'clock a banquet was held in the social hall of Trinity Church, as part of the program governing the Provincial C. G. I. T. Conference which opened last Friday evening and continuing through Saturday and Sunday held its closing ceremony at Zion Church last night.

At the banquet was assembled a magnificent representation of the C. G. I. T. girls of our province, the tables being set for approximately 175, including leaders and guests.

After a splendid and beautiful picture of the place the home takes in the life of our country.

"To the Gleam from Noble Schools" was next proposed by Miss Marjorie White who capably described the great part taken by our schools in the instilling into young hearts and minds of noble ideals and principles.

Miss Mary Irving responded with a graphic description of the way in which the school adjusts the growing child to suit the environment of the world, teaching it the secrets of health and happiness, the harmless and profitable enjoyment of leisure, the principles of good will and social service, and giving it careful guidance in right thinking and living.

"The Gleam from Community Fellowship" was ably proposed by Miss Gladys Farquharson and responded to by His Worship Mayor Miller, who also took the opportunity of extending a hearty and cordial welcome to the delegates from other parts of the province.

RHEUMATISM DID THIS

See the enlarged joint-stiff and awkward at all times—knobs of torture when they are inflamed and raging with pain.

Rheumatism is responsible. Perhaps it is Rheumatism which makes your hands ache—which is swelling the joints. Or Rheumatism may catch you in the back—or keep you helpless in bed for days at a time because it attacks your knees or feet.

Perhaps you too, can get relief—permanent relief—by taking DELANO'S Rheumatic Conqueror.

There are many forms of Rheumatism, and there is no one remedy that will completely relieve all forms, but if you are a sufferer it costs you nothing to find out if the formula that has helped others will help you, as I will gladly send you free a full 75c package of DELANO'S Rheumatic Conqueror.

Try it on your own case without cost, then judge for yourself. Mr. Delano has so much faith in this medicine that he wants everybody who suffers from Rheumatism, or has a friend so afflicted, to get a 75c package to prove what it will do.

Simply cut out this notice and send it in with your name and address. If you wish you may send 10c in stamps to help pay postage on the distribution. F. L. Delano, 800 P. Craig St. W., Montreal.

FREE DELANO'S RHEUMATIC CONQUEROR

"Gleam" was then sung and the Friendship Circle was formed, extending all around the body of the church. The C. G. I. T. Purpose was repeated and then the Circle sang the C. G. I. T. Hymn.

"Taps" was then sung and the girls marched out of the church after which the large audience dispersed.
