INDIGNATION MEETING HELD AT MORELL

Resignation of Messrs. Cox and McIntyre Demanded and Governor Asked to Dissolve the Legislature.

Sir: I enclose report of the farmers meeting at Morell. As I was chairman at the meeting, I would like to see it reported truthfully, so send report myself. I am, Sir, &c.,

LEMUEL KENNY,
Byrne's Road, July 13.

A large meeting of farmers was held in the hall at Morell on Friday evening, June 9th, to consider the need of starting a United Farmers party.

Mr. Lemuel Kenny was elected Chairman. He explained the object of the meeting and reviewed the political situation at some length.

Mr. Paul McLaughlin, Peaker's Sta. was then called upon. He delivered a stirring address in which he pointed out the urgent need of this movement if farmers are to have any real voice in our government. Professional politicians and scheming lawyers, he said, have too long been using the farmer voters as stepping stones over which they stepped into fat offices, judgeships, senatorships and governorships. They kept the people divided into two hostile camps, the Grits on one side, the Tories on the other.

By means of a well subsidized party press they kept their minds inflamed with the "party" mania. Sometimes the voters turned one party out and put in the others. They found this gave no change of government but only a transfer of power. The action of the

The new Prime Minister accepted office and was sworn in by the Governor-General on Saturday last. At the same time Hon. C. C. Nine more members of the Cabinet were sworn by the Duke of Devonshire this morning and three this afternoon. The Hon. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. P. E. Blondin, Postmaster General, and Sir Edward Kemp have yet to take the oath of office. The Cabinet of seventeen contains three new men, Hon. F. B. McCurdy, M.P., of Colchester, N. Changes in distribution of portfolios are few. The Prime Minister leaves the large Department of the interior and undertakes the administration of the Department of External Affairs as well as the discharge of his duties as head of the administration. Sir James Loughheed succeeds to the office of Minister of Interior. Hon. J. A. Calder assumes the office of President of the Privy Council vacated by the retirement of Hon. Martin Burrell.

Another accident occurred at the home of Sunny Brainerd, a patient lying on board a motor launch, the engine of which was sustained injuries to the back and shoulders and was taken to hospital. His injuries are not considered dangerous.

THE AYRSHIRE BREEDERS' PICNIC YESTERDAY

Social Afternoon at the Experimental Station. Interesting Address by Mr. W. F. Stephen of Huntington, Quebec. Demonstrations in Bee-keeping and Stock-breeding.

An enjoyable picnic was held yesterday afternoon at the Experimental Farm, under the auspices of the Ayrshire Breeders' Club of this Province. Dinner and tea was served on the grounds, and although the attendance was hardly what might be expected upon such a fine day, the outing came off successfully, all present voting it a jolly affair.

From an educational point of view the picnic of the Ayrshire Breeders' Club was altogether successful. Visitors will remember, after the social side of the affair has been forgotten the many interesting facts picked up there.

After the noon lunch, and before the general addresses began, a demonstration on bee-keeping was given by Mr. Harold Newson, bee-keeper at the farm and In-keeper of Hives for disease. The speaker of the busy morning was first "smoked" to keep the bees in a lethargic condition. It was then opened and the combs, one by one, were inspected, spectators were a little shy at first venturing near the busy crawling combs, with their thousands of tiny little workers, in the careful hands of the keeper. But curiosity was stronger than the fears even in the gentle sex, and the circle of highly interested spectators quickly closed around the bees and the demonstrator. Much interest was aroused when the "Queen bee" was pointed out by Mr. Newson. Questions relating to bees and bee-keeping were asked and readily answered, and much interesting information was given. In one hive there were about 250,000 bees, worth of honey to the value of $500.00 and a weight of about 100 pounds in weight and is valued at about $250.00.

The next event of the day was the addresses by prominent members of the Club. Mr. Clark, Superintendent of the farm, acted as chairman and introduced the speakers to the audience, which was grouped about the tea tables under the shady trees behind the farm buildings.

Preliminary addresses were delivered by Messrs. Walter Shaw, W. J. Reid, and Bert Brown, President of the Association.

Following these gentlemen came Mr. W. F. Stephen, Secretary of the Dominion Ayrshire Breeders' Huntington, Que.

Mr. Stephen first expressed the pleasure he felt at the opportunity

GERMANS REFUSE ALLIES' TERMS ON COAL DELIVERY

Further Discussion Probable and Germans Have Already Given Their Excuses.

SPA, BELGIUM, July 4.—A deadlock has been reached by the Allied representatives and the Germans on the coal question and Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson, the Allied Military Chiefs, have again been summoned to discuss possible enforcement measures. The Allied Premiers having been informed that the Germans were ready, called a meeting for 5.30 o'clock this evening instead of tomorrow as planned. This morning the German reply was not acceptable, and the summoning of Marshal Foch and Field Marshal Wilson, it is understood, means immediate measure to enforce the Treaty unless Germany modifies its attitude.

The German Foreign Secretary said to the Associated Press: "The Allies may, under the Treaty give us an order concerning coal; if they give an order we of course would try to satisfy it but we do not believe we could. That would not be a voluntary cooperative arrangement. Simons said later that the Allies can occupy the Ruhr or other territories; they can send their own agents into Germany and probe the situation; they may fix any penalties; we are not in a position to resist. The Secretary expressed the attitude of the German delegation as it is tonight but the Allied Ministers hope before they take further measures that the Germans may change their decision. M. Millerand the French Premier, regrets that it is not possible for Germany to co-operate with the Allies in the execution of the Treaty but he is firmly resolved to stand on the position now taken up."

GRAND OPERA SEASON CLOSED LAST NIGHT

Two Splendid Performances, Afternoon and Evening Ended One of the Pleasantest Musical Seasons Ever Enjoyed in City.

Yesterday was devoted by the Boston English Opera Company to the presentation of two Gilbert and Sullivan Comic Operas at the main theatre. In the afternoon, "The Mikado," and in the evening, "The Ritz." The first named is so thoroughly well known to the majority of theatre-goers that any extended description of it is unnecessary. As its name implies, the play has to do with the Kingdom of Japan and is the first act of a somewhat despicable Desmond while in the second he might have been the incarnation of the Bishop of Rumi-foo in the "Bab Ballads." Brainerd, as the sailor foster brother, made a clear break from the straight tenor category and was very amusing. Deacon also registered as the hero, a part which by no means easy to grasp. Northwood was excellent as the old servant, especially so in the first act. Miss Morrill was delightful as the heroine, a perfect lady through the medium of a book of etiquette, and sang charmingly all through. Miss Carley, also, sang most beautifully and made the most of the different parts of Mad Margaret.

This closed a series of remarkable and memorable performances—a series that will be the theme of our musical people for a long time to come. A word of special praise should be given to the excellent work of the conductor, Mr. Max Fischander, throughout the week, and also, (although this is somewhat belated) to the violinist Mr. Louis Bosmer, for his beautiful lovely mannerisms.

One of the most important characters in the Opera is that of Koko, the Lord High Executioner. He was imitated by Mr. Phil Fein, who was imitated by his high-class fellow, who was imitating Mr. Fein's lovely voice, but by their equally lovely mannerisms.

Cape Traverse, July 13.—Claude Howatt, the driver of the team was a 13 year old boy and a near relative of the deceased. He is the son of Mr. P. S. Howatt.

Besides his parents the deceased had leaves to mourn five sisters and one brother.

The funeral takes place this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Two boys, Otto Doull and Earl Howatt, of the wharf opposite a bicycle on Campbell's place. It was about 9 o'clock on Tuesday night and dark at the time.

Young Doull was driving the bicycle and the other boy Earl Howatt was on the handle-bars, a frequent practice among boys. In the darkness they collided head-on with a team coming towards them, driven by another boy, Claude Howatt, aged 13 years. The impact of the collision threw the boys to the ground with great force.

Earl Howatt had three ribs broken and a blood vessel burst. He only lived half an hour. Dr. Seaman was summoned but the unfortunate lad was dead before the Doctor could get to him.

Otto Doull was badly hurt about the head and was rendered unconscious remaining in that state until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Up to 11 o'clock last night he had not been told of the sad fate of his companion.

The horse was somewhat cut by the bicycle which machine however was not damaged.

Claude Howatt, the driver of the carriage was knocked out of the carriage under the horse's feet.

The sad affair is deeply deplored.

The deceased Earl Howatt was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howatt of Cape Traverse. He was 14 years of age.
