Socks Acknowledged

Miss Edith Proude, 37 Douglas St. City, has received the following letter from France thanking her for the socks which she forwarded through the Red Cross Society of the Two Methodists Churches in this city, and which were fortunately received by Frank Puncher, a Charlottetown boy.

Somewhere in France.
Feb. 9th, 1917.

Dear Miss Proude:— It is now some time since I received your letter and also those most appreciated socks and so I thought it was a very small way of thanking you for your kindness, by writing, as you asked me to do.

Now I must tell you I find it very hard to write a letter to a friend that I have never met, but as I come from Charlottetown myself I thought perhaps that you might know something about me, or at least heard my name before.

When you write me, I want you to tell me if you know John Proude, as I know him quite well, I might also tell you that I have met him since I came to this country, also most all the boys from home.

Now tell me a little about that brother you spoke about in your letter, as I have met a number of fellows from the 43 Battalion since I first came to France, I know it must have been a very hard blow to you, but it is an every day occurrence in this war. (I cannot express myself just like I would like to, but I hope you won't think I am hard hearted, as we become accustomed to such things even with our best friends.)

Again thanking you for your kindness, I am your Charlottetown friend.

FRANK PUNCHER.

PRESENTATION TO MR. T. J. SCOTT

One Wednesday evening last a committee representative of the inhabitants of Tignish waited upon Mr. T. J. Scott, Manager Royal Bank, at that place for two years and presented him with an address and well-filled purse of gold, previous to his departure to take up similar duties at Annapolis Royal. Mr. and Mrs. Scott made many friends during their stay in Tignish and the people were sorry to see them depart. Mr. Morris of Newcastle succeeds Mr. Scott as Manager at Tignish. The following is the addess:

Tignish, P. E. I.
March 12'17

To T. J. Scott,
Manager of the Royal Bank of Canada,
Dear Friend:

The inhabitants of this old parish of Tignish have learned with regret that you are about to sever your relations of two years and remove to another part of the Maritime Provinces. The universal respect and affection you have engendered in your all too short stay in our midst make the snapping of our social and business ties a matter of profound sorrow to the entire community. Your genial, urbane and courteous personality made it a pleasure to do business with you and the unselfish manner with which you entered into the sports for the benefit of the younger generation has endeared you to the hearts of our youth.

To your sincere well-wishers, however, your departure is tempered by the knowledge that your superior officers have adjudged you worthy of promotion in the great institution to which you have dedicated your life work. In this connection, too, we cannot but bear testimony to the way in which your every effort at all times has been supported by the worthy lady who came to us as your helpmete starting down life's way together. Be assured that she, hardly second to you, bears away to your new home the affectionate and well-merited wish of God speed from our entire population.

In saying adieu we beg you to accept the accompanying purse as a slight earnest of our good-will and high esteem.

Wishing you both every success and happiness in your new home and further promotion in your chosen calling, on behalf of the people of Tignish.

APPEAL FROM MAJOR MCNUTT

Shoreham Camp, Sussex
England

25th February, 1917

Sir,—I notice by papers received from home that there are quite a number of recruits on the island for the good old 105th Battalion. The number is not so great as it should be, as there are still plenty of young unmarried men at home who should and can respond to their Country's call in this time of our Emire's peril.

As I read over the list of names in the paper it struck me that now as there is no longer a distinct Island Battalion that it might tend to badly effect recruiting for the Infantry, so I spoke to Lieut. Colonel Fowler, the Commanding Officer of this Battalion, which is a New Brunswick and P. E. I. reinforcing unit, which will send reinforcements to the fighting 26th N. B. and P. E. I. Battalion, and to the 104th N. B. and P. E. I. Battalion (which was formed as you know by amalgamation of the 104th and 105th Battalions.)

The 26th Battalion is as you will remember the first Battalion (clear of first contingent) to which the Island contributed men—and real good men they were, some of whom have given up their lives for the cause of King and Country. The 104th Battalion is also a good unit and will no doubt bring honour upon itself and the Provinces it represents.

Colonel Fowler asked me to write and tell you that all men recruited for the Infantry in N. B. and P. E. I. will in future be sent to this unit, and then forwarded after being trained to either the 26th or 104th Battalions where they will meet old friends from home.

I trust that this information will stimulate recruiting on the Island, and that in the near future we will be receiving reinforcements in a steady stream from the little Island Province, which we all hope to see again in the near future, but to help assure this and bring the war to a successful issue, we must have more men (this does not mean boys under 18 years old—they can serve their country better at home) not only from the Island but from all parts of Canada.

You men of Prince Edward Island don't waste your time reading party politics which I see the papers are filled with, think only of the time of strain and stress which your Empire is at present passing through, and how best you can play your part in her defence and the cause of right. Come along, we want every fit man who hears and will respond to his King's appeal.

I am Sir etc.
T. EDGAR MacNUTT, Major
13th N. B. & P. E. I. Reserve Batt.

THE CLEAN-UP ON THE ANCRE IS CONTINUING

(By Stewart Lyon Special Correspondent)

PARIS, March 10.—Dear as foodstuffs are France smiles at the submarine blockade. The strain of the war has not prevented the cultivation of land even here in the north. In a motor run along the coast toward the Canadian field headquarters a remarkable proportion of tilled soil is seen. Whereas, in the English midlands fully half the land along the railways is devoted to grazing, here I note the landscape has the brown of the plowed field. The work of farming is largely done by old men and women, with facilities lessened through the use of the farms for billeting men along the lines of communication and the use of the roads to bring up munitions supplies only. The wonderful industry of the French peasant enables the work of food production to go on under these difficult conditions.

The forward movement, to which the British press makes frequent reference, depends, to a marked degree, on the drying up of the roads. The winter here has been almost unprecedentely severe and the frost which was deep in the ground is coming out now. The strain on the road system will be lessened when the railway construction battalions recently despatched from Canada are added to the force employed in the upkeep and extension of the light railways.

Meanwhile the clean-up along the Ancre continues, having already restored to France more of her soil than any more since the battle of the Marne. The Canadian front trench raids are frequent and these keep our men keyed up for the big show.

AMPUTATED ARM WAS PUT BACK AGAIN.

LONDON, March 10— A son of the Hon. J. O'Grady, a member of Parliament, was wounded several months ago in France in such a manner that his arm had to be amputated. The surgeons cut off the arm, removed the shattered bone and then put the arm back again, setting the bones and sewing the tendons.

The arm has now healed and is gaining strength. The patient can use it effectively. The only defect is that it is two inches shorter than the other arm.

::SWEET AND PALATABLE, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is now acceptable to children, and it does its work surely and promptly.

HORSEMAN

If you want to produce a race horse of the "iron" variety, breed to one.

There are many reasons why you should breed your mare to Seymour Dillon, 2.14, Registered in Canada and the States, sired by Sidney Dillon, 23157, sire of Lou Dillon 1.58½, Helen Stiles, 2.06½, Fleeta Dillon, 2.06½, (full sister to Seymour Dillon and 75 others. The dams of Seymour Dillon, 2.14, are by: 1st, Wilkes Bay, 2.22½; second by Almont, 33; third, Norman, 25; fourth Pilot Jr., 12—the real fountain of speed progenitors.

Seymour Dillon, 2.14, is the fastest stallion standing for service on the Island. Has been more miles from 2.12 to 2.15 on a ½ mile track than all others combined.

Seymour Dillon, 2.14, has the distinction of being a full brother to a World's Champion, a 2-year-old with a record of 2.08¼—who later has proven a race mare of real "iron" as the Yankees call her. He is also a half brother of the first 2-minute trotter Lou Dillon, 1.58½. He is the best bred horse imported for many years.

Seymour Dillon, 2.14, has what most other stallions lack—enough vim, courage, stamina—or if you like "pep."

Seymour Dillon's pedigree stands for what he is—"game"—yes, game, and yet he is kind, tractable, and a horse you can't help but like.

Seymour Dillon, 2.14, has the best of flat, heavy boned legs, perfectly straight feet, a good head and body and the proper carriage and race horse size. Will weigh over 1075 in the stud season. Without "superfluous" fat. A strongly made horse—a 1, 2, 3, 4 trotter, that has to be shod with the minimum of weight in his shoes.

Seymour Dillon, 2.14, is a sure foal getter of elegant, strong, and trappy foals. Watch his two-year-olds this summer, some of which are to race in the Southern States. He is sure to be a producer of note in a short while.

Seymour Dillon, 2.14, is not an out-cast, or "bunged-up" race stallion. He has been worked on the ice this winter and has shown his usual 2-minute speed, which such great horsemen as Sterling R. Holt of Indiana, Frank Fox of Boston, George Leonard of Boston, Peter Conroy of Charlottetown, and Hammond Kelly of Southport, and others, claim he has.

Seymour Dillon's 2.14, sire and dams have and are producing great sires, and as Sterling Holt, his breeder, says: "None are better bred, and I look to see him a sire of repute himself."

Seymour Dillon's season opens this week at $15 cash or note. He will stand at our barn until further notice, and further, we are willing to match him against any trotter or pacer on the Island—race to a finish—"Where you'll find him as he is a proven stayer," race to take place any time after June. For further particulars call or write,
