A free day was given the children of the school, and a picnic to the resident pupils through the kind generosity of His Lordship. Ketchup was chosen as the site of the afternoon's pleasure. The day was thoroughly enjoyable games, climbing and walks on the seashore, happened the appetite for the delicious lunch furnished. It was a tired but happy set of girls who boarded the motor bus for the return to "Home Sweet Home."

trust this deception and double-dealing of the Bell government with the attitude and conduct of the late Government as to poll taxes. The Conservative plan to raise money to further increase teachers' salaries, (which they had already raised) included a poll tax. Did they deceive the people in this or conceal their intentions from the people? Not at all! That is not the Conservative way. They submitted their plan to the popular vote and the majority of the people rejected it. The Conservative government bowed to the people's will and accepted their verdict as in duty bound. The Bell Government had that verdict before them when they secretly and treacherously sprung this odious tax upon the people! Surely the facts of the case call loud enough for its repeal.

The Public Forum

Granted that the majority in the present Legislature are all that they themselves claim—granted that their adoption of the road policy of the late government— which their organ before the election declared would result in Provincial ruin—was all right, granted that the stoppage of the mind-boggling work at St. Peter's was advisable, granted that the Party now in power has done better for the country than other governments have done ought the farmers and other electors of this Province to condone and reward the deception that was practised upon them? If they should do so, they will deserve to be cheated again. Nevertheless I should like to see Mr Stewart's policy set forth fully and clearly and the electors properly organized to secure the election of honest men—most of them farmers—to administer the public affairs of this Province, according to the well-understood wishes of the people.

CUPID'S STOCK EXCHANGE IS BOOMING IN GERMANY

BERLIN, June 12.—Fewer babies are being born in Germany now than before the war and fewer people are dying, but the marriage license clerks are doing more business than during 1913. The Germans say there is a boom in the marriage market. "After a year's wait," The state of Hamburg lived up to its name of having the most attractive "frauleins" in the republic. It chalked up a wedding record of about 15 to every 1,000 inhabitants. Schaumburg-Lippe, a little to the south of Hamburg and in romantic proximity to Steinhuder Lake, ran a close second with 14 to every 1,000. Saxony's proportion stopped at slightly over 13, while Berlin city's was only 12.8. The most timid bachelors in all Germany appear to live in the mountainous state of Waldeck, in the Weser basin, where there have been only about seven weddings to every 1,000 residents. And yet the Waldeck boys have not such faint hearts as before the war, when their average was only 5.4. The statistics for Wuertemberg, Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and Mecklenburg-Strelitz have not yet been received at official headquarters here, not including these three states, Germany's marriage rate the past year was 10.9 for every 1,000 inhabitants, compared with only 6.6 in 1913. Babies appeared in the states reported at the rate of 23 for every 1,000, as against a proportion of 28.9 before the war. Most of the births were registered in Upper Silesia and the least Berlin. The former's proportion was approximately 22, the latter's less than 12. Germans have been dying at the rate of 12.5 out of each 1,000 the past 12 months, while in 1913 death was taking a proportionate toll of about 15. Upper Silesia, which had the highest birth rate, also led in the ratio of deaths.

A WARDROBE'S HISTORY

LONDON, June 12.—How a wardrobe made up of odd pieces of furniture and of match boarding acquired a history was told in the 'arms, an in that way acquired King's Bench Division, when Mr. Justice Avey settled the dispute between Oscar Callow and Mrs. Georgina Gordon. Mr. Callow the plaintiff, had paid Mrs. Gordon $2,250 for the wardrobe. His lordship thought that there was a panel with a coat of arms on it, and someone thought to patch it up and make a valuable piece of furniture out of it. The wardrobe was built up round the coat of arms, and match boarding acquired a history.
