One Man Killed Fifty Wounded

Minneapolis Police Engage In Stubborn Battle With Striking Truck Drivers — Martial Law May Be Declared By Governor Olson.

(A. P. By Guardians' Special Wire)

MINNEAPOLIS, July 20.—An ominous tenseness pervaded Minneapolis tonight as an aftermath of a stubborn battle between striking truck drivers and police convoying a truckload of merchandise in which one man was killed and 50 wounded.

A military censorship immediately clamped down over the identity of the dead man and his affiliation as well as another said by Adjutant General E. A. Walsh to have been wounded probably fatally near the Closum Bergen Company when pickets of the strikers attacked a police-escorted truck in defiance of union orders that no trucks move.

Several hours later it was announced that the dead man was a striker but his name was not given out. Otto Lefdahl, another striker, was so seriously wounded that relatives were summoned to his bedside.

Walsh's guardsmen moved in force into the contested area near the market place where two special police were killed in the 11-day strike of truck drivers last May.

Thirty-four hundred guardsmen were ordered into the city. Governor Floyd B. Olson, who has tried since the walk-out Monday night to settle the strike, considered declaring martial law.

Forty-eight men, several of them merely spectators of the vicious clash between strikers and police, were taken to hospital with wounds. Thirty-five others nursed beaten heads.

Two policemen, Sergeant Austin Brannon, 8, and patrolman John Green were among the casualties. Brannon was slugged. Green was shot in the leg.

Machine gun companies, moving under orders of Walsh, took command of the area and cleared it.

Federal metiators, the Rev. Francis Haas and E. H. Dunnigan, framed a tentative outline on which they hoped to build a final agreement terminating the walkout. The employers advisory committee turned down the proposal and the mediators sought another conference with them. The plan has not been submitted to the strikers.

LONDON, July 20.—(C.P. Cable)—The government's decision to add 41 new squadrons to the Royal Air Force, announced yesterday, will face a double attack in both Houses of Parliament.

In the Lords and Commons alike the Labor party has put down motions of censure. On the other hand Conservatives who have been pressing for action, attack the program as inadequate and dilatory.

PREMIER TAKES COTTAGE NEAR THE SEA

Ramsay MacDonald Anticipates Pleasant Two Months Stay In Maritimes—Must Be Back At Desk By Sept. 20.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

DIGBY, N. S., July 20—An ocean separating him from the cares of state, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain rested tonight in a cottage near the sea. Home affairs and the complexities of international relations he hoped to forget as he sought relaxation and renewed health in his vagabond journey through the Canadian Maritimes.

He came to Nova Scotia today for the first time, accompanied only by his daughter Ishbel and a secret service man from Scotland Yard. They were travelling simply and without ceremony, and it was a simple welcome to Nova Scotia they received as they came ashore after a trip across the Bay of Fundy from Saint John.

On the voyage across the fog-shrouded bay, Mr. MacDonald talked in a general way of conditions in the Old Country. "Great Britain's remarkable economic recovery," he said, "has been brought about by a united national effort and honest politics, by facing the situation resolutely and by not being afraid to ask sacrifices for the attainment of great national ends."

But he warned against narrow nationalism. It was, he asserted, a "misdirection of group pride and self respect," brought on perhaps by "a miss-reading of history."

About world affairs the Prime Minister had nothing to say except to offer the opinion that the world was travelling at too fast a pace. "People must learn to play as well as work," he declared.

And Mr. MacDonald himself plans to follow the precept. For the next two months he and his daughter will be wandering through the Maritimes, stopping wherever fancy dictates. It will be the Prime Minister's first real holiday in years, and he plans to divorce himself entirely from official duties during his stay in Canada.

In keeping with this attitude, his reception here this morning was extremely simple. Without for-

Hog And Lamb Market Review Is Optimistic

Island Farmers Urged To Increase Hog Production In View Of Marketing Opportunities Now Available

Present conditions and future prospects in the hog and lamb markets, as affecting Prince Edward Island producers, are reviewed in the following interesting bulletin just received from the Livestock Marketing Board:

Hog markets for the past month or so have been holding from a "good steady" price to rather strong quotations during the past couple of weeks. The volume moving was barely equal to requirements, and destination of all shipping club loadings was determined on price basis alone. Quotations in Montreal on Monday, gave $9.75 as the prevailing price for Bacon grade, off cars, while Toronto beat about the bush at $9.30 in an effort to dodge a higher figure. However, by Wednesday, Toronto had toed the mark and got rightly in line. It can thus be seen that the highwater mark of $10.00 per cwt. reached in March, is in prospect of being duplicated if conditions maintain their present tendency to encourage an upward trend. Farmers who had the odd hog to dispose of this summer struck it rather lucky, and have been pulling in from Eighteen to Twenty Dollars per unit according to weight and grading.

Fall Prospects

With regard to the future, it is not possible to be so definite, but information available at the moment indicates that there will be a few dollars passed along for hogs this fall. Among other things, a recent official report from the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, states, "Supplies of hogs to yards and plants continue quite moderate in volume and the outlook would seem to indicate light runs during the remainder of the summer. Increased runs, however, are expected to materialize during the closing months of the present year." It should be quite obvious then, that Prince Edward Island hog

DOLAN NAMED TO FEDERAL TOURIST POST

New Head of Dominion Bureau Was Formerly Director Of The N. B. Tourist Office.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, July 20—The appointment of D. Leo Dolan, to be director of the newly formed Federal Tourist Bureau was announced today by Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, under whose department the bureau is to be operated. Mr. Dolan has for some years been director of the Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel in New Brunswick.

No large expenditures would be made on tourist advertising this year, Dr. Manion explained. Two advisory councils probably would be set up later, one of civil servants and a national council of persons outside the service.

In a statement issued today Dr. Manion explained that at a conference held in his office and attended by Senator W. H. Dennis, Halifax, chairman of the Senate committee on tourist traffic, various details of the federal tourist bureau organization were discussed and agreed upon. Senator Dennis had been called to Ottawa for the purpose of discussing with the Minister of Railways certain recommendations which the Senate committee had presented to the government.

Following the conference Dr. Manion announced that the staff to be set up at once would consist of a federal director of tourist traffic, to be assisted by a secretary. This will probably be the whole permanent staff, in order to retain for publicity purposes as much of the appropriation as possible.

It was felt that in view of the fact that many tourist organizations throughout Canada had already completed their advertising and publicity schedules for 1934 and that for the most part the tourist appeal from this country had been generously made in newspapers, magazines and other periodicals, the federal tourist bureau would not need to make, at the present time, any large expenditure of money for advertising and publicity.

It has been unanimously recommended by the Senate committee that D. L. Dolan, should be, with the consent of the Premier of New Brunswick, loaned to the federal organization, in order, through his experience, to assist in getting the federal organization under way.

Small Expenditure This Year

Because of the lateness of the season it was the unanimous opinion of those who had been actively identified with the tourist industry in Canada, that it would be unwise this year to expend any large amount of money upon tourist advertising in 1934. Therefore it is expected that only a small portion of the appropriation ($100,000) will be utilized between now and the hunting season in the fall, and that later in the year a campaign will be initiated to advertise Canada's winter sports.

Dr. Manion this afternoon made it quite plain that a large immediate publicity campaign would not

Seattle Scene Of Violence As Pacific Coast Maritime Strike Continues — Workers Threaten Walkout In Portland.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 20.—More rioting, threats of another general strike, and the possibility of additional military rule overhung the Pacific Coast today despite the abandonment of labor's mass walkout in the San Francisco area.

In Seattle, a terrific gas attack by 300 policemen personally led by Mayor Charles L. Smith drove 2,000 pickets from a strike-blockaded section of the waterfront.

Hundreds were affected by the intensified barrage of tear and nausea gas. A score of policemen were hurt. The pickets cared for their own injured and refused to estimate the casualties.

Aroused labor forces and 1,100 mobilized national guardsmen faced each other from still widely separated lines in Portland. The workers muttered threats of a mass walkout. Troops were under orders to move in if violence broke out.

On the outcome of attempts to open the strikebound port of Portland with non-union workers behind heavily armed police lines rested the crisis in the Oregon City.

Portland shipping interests gathered workers and moved them to a dock to load the first steamship there in 73 days. Ninety policemen pushed back 150 Maritime strike pickets a block and a half away from the piers. The only violence at the outset was a mysterious dynamite explosion in the early morning hours that blew a hole in a fence.

Militiamen, mobilized last night by order of Governor Julius L. Meier to prevent "bloodshed and loss of life," encamped 10 miles from the city.

Labor leaders previously promised Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York they would withhold plans for a general strike of 32,000 organized unionites pending the outcome of negotiations in San Francisco for ending a 73-day old strike of longshoremen and marine workers.

The determination of shippers to work cargo in view of the easing of the coast strike situation generally led to the extra police preparations in the Oregon City and the Governor ordered the militia to prepare against trouble.

Climaxing the negotiations, Senator Wagner flew today from Portland to San Francisco to work with the federal naitonal longshoremen's board toward settlement by arbitration of the long, violence-flecked strike. He said he had received assurances that labor there would "remain calm."

The rest of the San Francisco metropolitan area meanwhile was returning to normal. But 2,800 carmen of the Market Street Railway still declared they were on strike because of separate grievances. The 2,500 teamsters went back to their jobs to move everything but waterfront cargo. They arranged to vote tonight on whether to handle goods from the docks.

As Wagner arrived here Johnson left for Los Angeles. The administrator said he expected an answer in the southern city tonight from the ship owners as to whether they would submit the waterfront strike trouble to arbitration. Johnson said he would return to San Francisco tomorrow.

At the same time the joint marine strike committee representing coast longshoremen and Maritime workers formally declared their way out "is continuing and is stronger today than ever."

The committee expressed its "sincere appreciation to the entire labor movement for its tremendous show of unity. It scathingly attacked the San Francisco industrial association, which fostered the non-union movement of cargo from strike-bound piers here, and said the mass strike here, and the united sympathy of the public at large with the strikers has proved conclusively that this city will not stand for an organization such as the industrial association, whose only aim is to destroy, regardless of the monetary cost and the cost of lives, the right of American working men."

The statement was signed by Harry Bridges, dynamic leftist leader of the San Francisco longshoremen and chairman of the strike committee.

PRES. GREEN IS CRITICAL OF STRIKES

Head of American Federation of Labor Says Workers of San Francisco Made Grave Mistake In Their Sympathetic Strikes.

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

WASHINGTON, July 20—Sharp criticism of general strikes by William Green and reports of marked progress in San Francisco peace negotiations today led United State government officials to hope for a speedy truce in the coast's labor war.

Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said organized workers in San Francisco made a "grave mistake" in their "sympathetic strikes" and acted wisely in going back to work.

Apparently, the labor leader also sought to discourage general strike sentiment among Portland employees.

Green left no doubt of his on the Federation's attitude on general walkouts by organized labor. He said unionmen could not afford "to engage in a sympathetic strike when such action calls for the violation of contracts arrived at through collective bargaining, and involves the possibility of losing all the economic gains they may have secured through years of sacrifice and effort."

Identify Body Of Young Woman

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

TORONTO, July 20.—The body of a young woman, beaten to death and tossed in a clump of lilac bushes on a North Toronto sideroad, was identified late tonight as that of Mrs. Viola Thompson of Toronto. Mrs. Thompson, 25 years of age, was the mother of two children.

Identification of the woman was made by her brother-in-law, Stanley Thompson of Guelph, two sisters-in-law and a number of friends, but her 27-year-old husband said he was not positive the body was that of his wife. Chief coroner Dr. M. M. Crawford, however, said identification had been completed to his satisfaction.

Numerous persons paraded in file past the scratched and bruised body, discovered by children playing in the bushes yesterday, but it was not until late tonight the family of Mrs. Thompson were able to make identification.

Slaying Of Young Woman Puzzles Glace Bay Police

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

GLACE BAY, N. S., July 20 — A murder in the Greek colony of Glace Bay left police with a mystery on their hands tonight. Mrs. Steve Markadoois, 28, was found lying in her kitchen with a bullet wound in the back of her head, and she died without revealing any clue to the identity of her slayer.

A thorough search revealed no trace of the revolver and members of the family questioned by the police disclosed little information on the case.

The victim's mother-in-law, Mrs. George Markadonis, 65, said she heard a "commotion" and on rushing downstairs was horrified to find her son's wife lying on the floor in a pool of blood. No one else was in the house at the time.

The aged woman summoned Bobby Murrant, a truck driver employed by the Markadonis firm, and he hailed Dr. A. G. MasAskill passing at the time. When the doctor reached the house the young woman was dead.

BAD FIRE AT SAINT PETERS

Fire which broke out at 10.30 yesterday morning completely destroyed the residence of William Fraser, St. Peters. It is thought the fire originated in the kitchen flue, Mrs. Fraser having put on a big fire in preparation for washing. Nearly all the furniture was burned, including a piano. Part of the loss was covered by insurance. There was also great difficulty in saving Dr. MacDonald's house, which is nearby.
