RHEUMATIC PAINS.

Why Do You Suffer When an Application of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment Will Take Out All the Pain in a Few Minutes? It Penetrates Muscle, Membrane and Tissue to the Very Bone. Here is the Proof.

Mr. Robert Collett, 70 Elliott-street, Toronto, writes: I am sure if the poor rheumatic sufferer only knew of the virtues of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment there would not be so much suffering from this terrible disease. I had been suffering for several weeks with a painful attack in my shoulder. Half a bottle of Griffiths' Menthol Liniment removed every trace of my trouble. I have also found it exceedingly good for sore throat.

Special Notice

Having purchased from Mr. F. J. Hornsby the stock and good will of his books and Stationery Business in the Morris Block, we will continue the business in its various branches, selling at lowest prices for cash only, Miss B. M. Hornsby, who has managed the business in the past, will be in charge of the store, and will be pleased to attend to all old customers and many new ones.

A choice new stock of Wall Papers will be at once put on sale, and all departments of the business will be kept well stocked. A well supplied news stand will be a special feature of the business. The store will be known as "The Bazaar Bookstore."

The Scriptures Say

That we are to be moulded and fashioned, so the sand we use for our castings needs to be moulded and fashioned. That's what our moulders are doing every day, moulding and fashioning the sand like unto the patterns, it is therefore very important that the patterns be first-class in every respect, for as the patterns are so will the castings be. We have first-class pattern-makers employed and are able to meet the required need.

THE MORNING GUARDIAN

TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1906.

FORTUNATE CONDITIONS.

The temperance people and prohibitionists have much to be thankful for in the fact that the Prohibition Act has been passed by the unanimous vote of the Legislature. A year ago the same House by a majority vote committed itself to the principle of deriving a revenue from the traffic. To-day the Government stands committed to the principle of forbidding the sale of liquors for beverage purposes, whether at retail or wholesale, and in affirming this principle the Opposition stand with the Government. At the same time the Opposition have gone still further in moving amendments, which, if adopted, would in the opinion of many have rendered the Act more stringent and effective.

We are not to suppose that all the men of either party in the House have been converted to the prohibition platform, or are at heart in favor of this method of dealing with the liquor traffic. A number of them are prohibitionists at heart, but all have shown so much regard for the dominant temperance sentiment of the country as to vote in the manner we have seen. This is a condition which THE GUARDIAN ardently desired to see brought about. The law will be before the country in a much fairer light and with greatly increased chances of being enforced for being thus adopted, not as a mere party measure but as endorsed by both parties so far as it goes.

Another fortunate condition is that the Premier has asserted in the strongest manner his determination to give full force and effect to the measure now enacted. When the time rolls round it will be the duty of temperance men in all parts of the Island to give their utmost assistance to every honest effort toward enforcing the law. We do not doubt that in introducing and enacting the law the Government has materially improved its standing with the country. But the chances of an election are always more or less uncertain, and if the fortunes of the coming contest should bring the Opposition into power it is most satisfactory to know that they stand committed to make the law more stringent than it now is.

If between this time and the next session of the Legislature an appeal should be made to the people we do not doubt that the electorate will consider prohibition is one of the prominent issues before them and will strongly affirm that principle. If on the other hand another session of the Legislature intervenes before a general election, the opportunity will be afforded to strengthen any weak places that may in the meantime be discovered in the law, in order that it may be made as effective to the desired end as any merely Provincial Act can be made. We therefore regard the outlook as a most favorable one from almost every point of view.

THE GUARDIAN has been for years, and from the beginning of its existence wholly committed to the advocacy of prohibition, and we cannot but regard with the greatest satisfaction the fact that the Legislature has now unanimously affirmed that great principle and has crystallized it into law. With equal satisfaction we congratulate the prohibitionists throughout the Island on the fact that the time is approaching when the liquor traffic, the fruitful source of so much misery and crime, will be under the ban of law in city and country alike. It is due to the firm and uncompromising stand of the churches, the organized temperance bodies and the many staunch prohibitionists in all parts of the Province that we are able to congratulate ourselves on that which has been obtained.

TO CURE A COLD IN A DAY. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. Dr. E. W. Grove's signature on each box.

Martin, though badly beaten at the polls announces that he will hold on to power until the Legislature meets a month hence, no doubt hoping to prevent the various factions of the Opposition from consolidating, and possibly to gain additional support from one or more of them. The defeat of a number of prominent men of the Opposition may make it possible for him to do something in that way.

Our telegraphic news this morning from South Africa, from China and from Ashantee is alike serious. Most serious of all is from the far east where many missionaries' lives are immediately in danger and prolonged and serious warfare is threatened. The reverse in South Africa, while most regrettable can in no way materially affect the general progress of the British forces.

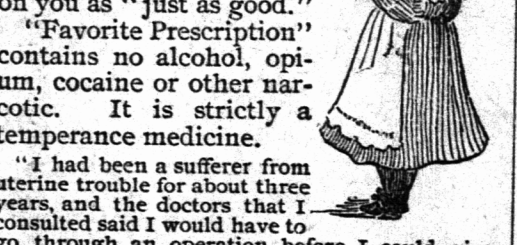

The Windsor Fire Incendary.

A petition has been forwarded to Ottawa, praying for the release from the penitentiary of McIntyre, who was convicted of setting fire to a house at Windsor, the day of the big conflagration. The petition has been referred to Judge Chipman, and it is understood that the report thereon, to be sent to Ottawa, is very unfavorable to the prisoner. McIntyre was sentenced to five years.

They are noisy but they are nice. Who would exchange the merry noise of children at play, for the childless home where the clock tick can be heard hour after hour in the dull silence? But there are a great many who would like to people the silent house with the children that fate has refused them. Fate is often in this case only another word for ignorance. Many a glad mother dates her happiness from the day she first began the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It often happens that with the cure of female weakness and the establishing of the delicate womanly organs in good health, the way is opened for the joy of motherhood. "Favorite Prescription" is a specific for the chronic ailments peculiar to women. It cures them perfectly and permanently. No other medicine can do for women so much as "Favorite Prescription." Do not therefore let any other medicine be palmed off on you as "just as good."

"Favorite Prescription" contains no alcohol, opium, cocaine or other narcotic. It is strictly a temperance medicine. "I had been a sufferer from uterine trouble for about three years, and the doctors that I consulted said I would have to go through an operation before I could give birth to children," writes Mrs. Blanche E. Evans, of Parsons, Luzerne Co., Pa., Box 41. "When about to give up in despair I saw the advertisement of Dr. Pierce's medicine and thought I would give it a trial. I bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and after taking it felt better than I had for years. Felt improved before I had taken one-half of the bottle. After taking four and a half bottles I gave birth to a bright baby girl who is now four months old and has not had a day of sickness. She is as bright as can be."

A woman's complexion often suffers because of poisonous accumulations in the system. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets remove these accumulations and cleanse the complexion. They regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.
