HANDED OVER TO SUPREME COURT

The Coroner's Jury in the Warren Murder Mystery Failed to Agree Upon a Verdict After Deliberation.

The Coroner's Jury in connection with the murder of Harriet Warren on October 13th has not yet reached a conclusion. After being in secret session for almost four weeks a report of disagreement was made to the Coroner last night about half past ten. The deliberations have been conducted with the utmost secrecy, all but witnesses at times being excluded from the upper portion of the city building, and the public therefore were unable to know how the investigation was proceeding. They had confidence however in those who were laboring to discover the criminal and as the weeks rolled by the report became current throughout the city that excellent progress was being made and in a short time the assassin would be discovered.

With such assurances the public mind became more easy, the intense interest that had for the first week characterized the case, abated to some extent, and citizens waited patiently for the finding of those who were entrusted with the responsibility of discovering how, when and by what means Harriet Warren came to her death.

The Jury met last night at eight o'clock and in a few minutes the Coroner had concluded his address.

They were afterwards left by themselves to consider what verdict they would bring in. Their deliberations continued for over two hours and then reported to Coroner Dr. Johnson that they could not agree upon a verdict.

The law provides in such an exigency, which probably has never occurred in the Province before, that the Jury be handed over from the Coroners Court to the Supreme Court in order that the Chief Justice may dismiss the jurors or request them to further consider the case. This course Dr. Johnson took and the Jury will meet at the Supreme Court this afternoon at three o'clock.

It is understood that a portion of the jury were in favor of incriminating in their verdict the person whom they supposed to be the guilty party and others held that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant such a course.

LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET AT THE GUILD HALL LAST NIGHT

Important Speeches by War Secretary Arnold-Forster and Foreign Secretary Lansdowne Touching Britain's Relations With Russia

THEY STAND FOR PEACE BUT NOT PEACE AT ANY PRICE

Awful Responsibility of Ministers Who Precipitate a Needless War--Anxious Days Over the North Sea Incident--"An Affront to the British Flag"--Different Versions of the Outrage--Most Important Pledges and Guarantees Secured from Russia--Apology, Reparation, No Recurrence in the Future, Guilty Russian Officers to be Punished--Hopes for Good from the War in the East.

LORD MAYOR'S BANQUET.
LONDON, Nov. 9.—(Special)—At the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guild Hall tonight Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, in the absence of Premier Balfour, who by the advice of his physicians is still resting in his injured leg, was the principal speaker.

MANY NOTED GUESTS.
The two hundred and fifty guests included the Archbishop of Canterbury, the members of the Cabinet, the Foreign Representatives, members of Parliament and other prominent persons.

WAR SECRETARY FORSTER.
After the usual loyal toasts, War Secretary Arnold-Forster said it was the determination of the Army Council not to rest until the British army was ready to enter the field at any time with absolute confidence in success.

LORD LANSDOWNE SPEAKS.
Lord Lansdowne responding to the toast of His Majesty's Minister said that while London was principally interested that peace should prevail everywhere, he did not think they should think of peace at any price.

THE HORRORS OF WAR.
"At this moment," said Lord Lansdowne, "contemplating the proportions of the terrible struggle between two brave and gallant nations in the Far East, can one of us contemplate without regret the legion after legion of brave men being led forth to meet their fate and the ruined homes and broken hearts."

MINISTERS' RESPONSIBILITY.
"We can conceive no more terrible punishment than the remorse of any Minister or body of Ministers who from loss of temper and desire of popularity brought upon the country the scourge and calamity of needless war."

PEACE STILL UNBROKEN.
"At this auspicious moment I am able to announce to you that not only the peace of the country is unbroken, but so far as I am able to foresee there is no reason why it should not remain unbroken."

SOME GOOD WORK DONE.
"Not only have we had the good fortune to avert war, but by the strict neutrality and wise international arrangements we have done something to restrict the area of hostilities."

SOME ANXIOUS DAYS.
"The country however has not altogether escaped anxieties for during the last few days we have been face to face with an incident which moves the people of this country as few other incidents have done."

THE NORTH SEA OUTRAGE.
"The incident of October 21 in the North Sea was an attack on British citizens and an affront to the British flag of which, if intentional, I would rather not contemplate the consequence."

BELIEVED DIFFERENT STORIES.
"It was a deplorable and unaccountable blunder, but I am bound to add that recent evidence has satisfied the British Government that the Russian Government believed that the facts were different from what we supposed and that each party was convinced of the Justice of its cause."

OTHER MATTERS TOUCHED.
After discussing what would be the procedure of the Court Lord Lansdowne referred to the smallness of the number of Russian officers left at Vigo and said:

RESPONSIBILITY OF RUSSIA.
"It was not for us to assume the responsibility for the selection of the officers. That rested with Russia and it would be a great mistake to release her of the responsibility."

The Foreign Secretary added that the Government had received distinct assurance during the last day or two that the Russian officers detailed were those who were directly implicated and if the inquiry showed that others were culpable they also should be punished.

WHAT BRITAIN SECURES.
"Great Britain had received a full expression of regret, a promise of ample satisfaction and a guarantee against a similar recurrence with security for all neutral commerce and a promise of the punishment of the guilty persons. Was it possible to secure more?"

GOOD OUT OF EVIL.
"I am sanguine enough to say," Lord Lansdowne remarked, "that good is likely to come from the struggle in the Far East. It is my hope and belief that this terrible war will give a stimulus to the existing desire for some less clumsy and brutal method of adjusting international differences. Is it not better to so arrange matters that a dispute shall not arise at all?"
