Broadcasting Commission Change Seen

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, April 16—Imminence of legislation affecting the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission was seen today by political observers after yesterday's introduction of a government bill extending the Commission's authority only until the end of June.

It was known some members wished to discuss the Commission before Parliament is prorogued and it was recalled also that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett spoke in his series of broadcast speeches last winter of creation of a Department of Communications.

Considerable speculation was heard as to whether the nation's broadcasting would be placed under authority of that department if and when it is created.

Introducing the radio measure which amends the act under which the Commission was constituted, Sir George Forley, acting head of the government, said: "This bill is one of section only and provides for the extension of the life and the powers of the Radio Commission for a couple of months in order that this matter may be dealt with more fully upon our return."

Stevens Motion On House Order Paper

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, April 16—Notice of Hon. H. H. Stevens that he would move the House of Commons adopt the report of the Royal Commission on price spreads and mass buying will appear on the House order paper after all, Arthur Beauchene, clerk of the House, said today.

Mr. Stevens, former Minister of Trade and Commerce and chairman of the commission, gave his notice last Friday after the report had been tabled in the House, but there was some question over its admissibility, largely because the report had been made to the government and not to the House.

Mr. Beauchene said it had been decided to place the notice on the order paper, however, after consultation between Mr. Stevens, Speaker James L. Bowman and himself.

THE RIGHT OF WAY

After the locomotive had smashed a flyover at the crossing, a young girl rose from the wreckage, uninjured and powdered her nose. The engineer and others gathered around.

"Why in the world didn't you stop when you saw the engine coming?" asked the engineer.

The girl was indignant.

"I sounded my horn before you blew your whistle," she said defiantly.

Hon. John McEvoy Laid To Rest

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TORONTO, April 16—Prominent associates of the Bench and Bar were present today at the funeral services and interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery of Hon. John Miller McEvoy, K.C., Justice of the high court division of the Supreme Court of Ontario, who died last Saturday, aged 71, after a long illness.

Rev. Stanley Russell, pastor of Deer Park United Church, where the late justice worshipped for the last seven years, officiated at the services at the residence and later at the church.

WHAT'S IN THE CAN

Have you ever opened a can of peas and found to your disappointment that they were hard and perhaps not of the size you like best? Yes, this has happened often, but quite unnecessarily.

All fruits and vegetables sold in tin cans in Canada are graded and the grade designation is plainly marked on the label. Fancy Quality, Choice Quality and Standard quality are found in retail stores. The lowest grade—second quality is rarely seen. These grades of quality are enforced by Dominion Government inspectors and if products are bought by quality satisfaction is assured.

"Fancy quality" is as nearly perfect as possible, selected for appearance and care in preparation. It may be used when uniformity of size and colour are considered important. Use it as it comes from the can, or for special salads.

"Choice quality" is not so perfect in appearance but quite as good in flavour and is packed from tender products. It may be used to advantage where flavour and tenderness are important, but appearance is not so essential.

"Standard quality" lacks uniformity, but is quite as good in food value. It may be used where economy is essential. Fruit of this grade is excellent for puddings, gelatine dishes or frozen desserts. Vegetables may be used in escalloped dishes, some salads and for soups.

Commercially canned foods have left the emergency shelf and taken their place in every day meals if bought by grade and if different grades of each product are kept on hand, the menus may be varied and economical.

The size of can is important. It is always economy to buy the largest sized can which may be conveniently used. The following table showing common sizes may prove helpful:

Can Size	Approx. Measure
No. 1 special	3-4 cup.
8 oz.	1 cup.
No. 1	1-1/4 cups.
No. 2 1-2 flat	1-2-3 cups.
No. 2	2-1-2 cups.
No. 2 squat	2-1-4 cups.
—The average family will use Nos. 2, 2-1-2 or 2 squat. No. 1 special, No. 1 and 8 oz. may be useful in very small families, or for luxury foods. No. 2 squat is the same diameter as No. 2, but not so tall and the two may be easily confused.

ROSS FORFEITS LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

Action Paves Way For Another McLarnin-Ross Welterweight Battle.

(By Edward J. Neill, Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, April 15—Barney Ross, the little fellow who has ruled the lightweight for the past two years, decided he was too big for them today, and so he turned in his resignation as champion of the 135-pounders to the New York State Athletic Commission.

This sudden move, first of its kind in lightweight title history, brought several swift developments. First it relieved the dapper Chicago wallop of the necessity of fighting Lou Ambers, a tough, rubber ball sort of warrior who has been pestering him for a chance at the lightweight crown for months, and who is designated as no. one title challenger here.

It paved the way for another really "big money" battle between Ross and Jimmy McLarnin, welterweight king from Vancouver, B. C., whom Barney outpointed last May to become a double champion, and then bowed to in a return engagement in September. Mike Jacobs, promoter of the newly formed 20th Century Sporting Club, says he has their rubber duel all arranged and will ask the Boxing Commission tomorrow for permission to stage it May 28 in the Polo Grounds.

This left the way open for Ross, one of the brighter of the leather slingers, to discover after after he has fought McLarnin again that by superhuman methods he can get down to the class limit of 135 pounds.

Finally it brought forth a thundering herd of aspiring lightweights. Pending serious consideration of the situation at tomorrow's meeting of the commission, General John J. Phelan, chairman of the commission, said a match between Ambers and Tony Cannoneri, former titleholder, probably would get title recognition here.

TREATING AILMENT AT HIGH PRESSURE

CLEVELAND, April 15—(Canadian Press)—For the benefit of its patients the Lake Shore Sanitarium will use pumps to produce a highly rarified atmospheric condition inside an air chamber the size of a railroad sleeping car.

Sufferers from asthma are the principal patients, the medical staff says, and the treatment will consist of their living inside the chamber for a week at a time.

Other patients, suffering from various non-contagious debilitating afflictions, such as certain types of anemia and high blood pressure, will receive the high-pressure treatment in the air-tight, five-story, spherical structure.

LETTER ASSAILS TUBER GROWERS

U. S. State Department Flays Maine Growers in Open Letter.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WASHINGTON, April 17—Turning indirectly away from high diplomatic matters, the State Department today assailed in an open letter to the potato growers of Maine and other states what it called "potato propagandists."

The letter was designed as an answer to a stream of protests to President Roosevelt against any reduction in duty on potatoes in the trade agreement with Canada, now under negotiation.

Denying the question of reduced tariffs on potatoes has yet been considered in the negotiations with Canada, the State Department's letter charged that the numerous protests were "obviously the result of organized and directed propaganda."

"The wording of a large portion of the letters," the State Department said, "corresponds exactly with four or five set forms. Many of the letters to the President have been written by school children whose views could not possibly be founded upon an adequate understanding of tariff questions.

"The letters from many school children are identical, as if they had been copied from the blackboard. Scores of other letters are carbon copies of a standardized working, indicating a common source and not original authorship."

Maps and posters connected with the grasshopper control campaign in Western Canada have been published and distributed, 4,000 maps in colour and 3,000 posters being used for Manitoba, and an edition of 5,000 map posters for Saskatchewan. A smaller consolidated map indicating the outbreak in all three prairie provinces has also been distributed to commercial organizations and agricultural leaders.

Daughters of Senior Scout

As their parents, Sir Robert and Lady Baden-Powell conferred with boy scout and girl scout officials in Seattle, their daughters, Hon. Betty (LEFT), and Heather Baden-Powell sought scenic thrills from the saddle. They are shown here with their mounts, as they started out to trot over the miles of bridge paths of this community. They will be touring Canada in a few days.
