EVERYBODY should see the Big Web Perfecting Press printing so many Guardians at 11.30 a. m. on Monday or Wednesday of each week. A monstrous roll of paper, several miles in length, is pulled through the press at a high rate of speed in a manner similar to that of the largest papers throughout the world. This is the only press of its kind in the province and well worth seeing.

The Labor Union maintains that the above system works satisfactory in most up to date and progressive cities of the United States and Canada and that no reason can be adduced why it should not be established in Charlottetown.

In regard to a letter from L. B. McMillan, Vice President of the M.P.A. A.A. which appeared in yesterday evening's Patriot, The Guardian desires to state that the description of the "brutality" of the recent hockey match was furnished this paper in connection with the information it gave of the instructions of the Magistrate to the police officers with reference to future games. It would appear that there is at least some ground for the request for the police surveillance that has been ordered.

In other columns of this issue appears the mammoth advertisement of the Truro Knitting Mills Company, Ltd. whose famous product of "unshrinkable underwear" has become a household word throughout Canada. The annual report of the Company shows a rapidly growing business with proportionately expanding profits from year to year. The Company now proposes to establish a worsted yarn plant to produce the yarn which they have been hitherto importing to the value of $50,000 annually. There is good reason to believe that this addition to the present large plant will prove not the least remunerative part of the Company's very profitable enterprise. It will at the same time give additional employment to labor and increase the volume of Canadian manufacturing industries by so much. The products of the Truro Knitting Mills become increasingly popular from year to year.

A very enjoyable concert and supper under the auspices of Court Wiltshire No 1189 L. O. F. was held in Brookfield Hall on the night of Jan'y 11th. The night, so very fine and the roads in excellent condition, brought forth large crowds from all sections, many being present from Charlottetown. Long before the hour of opening the seating capacity was all taken up and by the time the chairman came forward to open the concert standing room was not available. But although the aisles and every available corner was filled the best of order prevailed and every number on the program was listened with the greatest attention. The address on "Forestry" was delivered by Brother L. U. Fowler, High Secretary, and from the deep interest taken in his address by the audience, the membership of Court Wiltshire will doubtless be very materially increased. At the close of the concert the tables in the dining hall, which were groaning under the weight of the good things, were attacked and for about two hours the eatables were severely dealt with. Between 150 and 200 took supper.

BROKEN SLEEP—TIRED NEXT MORNING.

Sleep not only rests, but builds up the body. Cut down the hours of sleep, and you cut down health in the same proportion. Rebuilding then ceases, nerves go to smash, you grow tired, weak and wretched. To restore sleep you must get more nutritious blood, healthier nerves. Ferrozene solves the whole problem, makes you sleep soundly, gives endurance, vim, ambition. No more morning weakness, instead the fire of youth will run in your veins, supplying abundance of energy and vigor. Witchery expresses the instant effect of Ferrozene; try it.
