To clean gold picture frames beat the white of an egg; add to it one pint of cold water; moisten your frames with this mixture, using a sponge. Then with a soft flannel carefully wipe. Take a second cloth, perfectly dry, and give the frames a light rubbing, if the frames are not clean and bright after this treatment you had better take them to a goldsmith and have them re-gilded.—August Ladies' Home Journal.

For sponge cake, weigh six eggs, take their weight in sugar, and half their weight in flour; separate the yolks, and beat until light; then stir in carefully the well-beaten whites; sift the flour two or three times, adding it a little at a time, folding and cutting it in. Turn into a pan with greased paper, and bake in a quick oven for from twenty to twenty-five minutes.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer in the August Ladies' Home Journal.

A new jacket for that "between-time", when one must have a wrap that is not warm and still warm enough, is in satin cloth in the old blue shade that may be belled either purple or blue. It is lined and faced with black satin, and buttons easily with big black horn buttons. It's the figure closely in the back, but it is semi-loose in front, with sleeves that are large enough to get into with ease but without suggesting the large or puffed sleeve.—August Ladies' Home Journal.

For a kidney stew, split the kidneys into halves and trim off the sinews and fat inside. Cut them into small pieces; stand over a moderate fire and bring almost to boiling point. Drain this off, cover again with cold water and beat again. Do this three times. Put one table-spoonful of butter into a frying-pan and stir until a nice brown; then add one table-spoonful of flour and half a pint of stock or boiling water. Stir constantly with a wooden spoon until it boils. Add one table-spoonful of Worcester's sauce, one table-spoonful of mushroom ketchup, a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet, salt and pepper, and the kidney. Stir again until the kidney is thoroughly heated; take from the fire and serve immediately.—Mrs. S. T. Rorer in the August Ladies' Home Journal.

Early to bed should be the first motto. In the morning, after a sponge bath with a thorough rub, she should drink half a glass of comfortably hot water. When appetite is felt a soft-boiled egg, a piece of whole wheat bread thoroughly baked and well buttered, and a little while after a glass of cool water, not iced, may be taken. The noonday meal should consist of a good, clear beef soup, a broiled steak or roasted beef, a little boiled rice, a lettuce salad with olive oil dressing, and some simple dessert, such as whipped cream or Bavarian cream. After dinner, rest should be taken in the open air, either in the hammock or steamer-chair, and without reading or heavy mental occupation. For supper, beef or mutton broiled, and good whole wheat bread well buttered. At the close of this meal she should take slowly about two teaspoonfuls of olive oil, and masticate it before swallowing.

Men, women and children who are troubled with sores, tumors, pimples, etc., may find permanent relief in Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Coal is King.

In the current issue of the Nineteenth Century appears an article from the pen of Benjamin Taylor, dealing with the coal question. Says Mr Taylor, "Coal is the concentrated essence of power." From this standpoint he reviews the coal supplies of the world. On the whole his conclusions are satisfactory, inasmuch as they are free from any masked alarmist tendency, although Mr Taylor makes it abundantly clear that the United States is likely soon to take our place as the largest coal producer in the world. "When this happens the Republic will become our most formidable competitor in the Atlantic, the Pacific and the Mediterranean coal trade. But putting aside the United States as a power with whom we ought to combine in bonds of permanent amity," Britain will still have more coal than all the powers put together?—of the world's annual supply of 574,000,000 tons or 38 per cent. Moreover, Mr. Taylor points out that as coal gives sea power our future in the Pacific and the East depends not on the whims and vagaries of Welsh and English colliers but on the developments and on the resources of the unplumbed depths of the Chinese seams. Canada's position in this matter, Mr. Taylor considers to be peculiar, inasmuch as while possessing coal beds distributed over 100,000 square miles, she does not produce enough for her own consumption but is an exporter both from Atlantic and Pacific ports. He fully recognizes, however, the importance of the coalfields of Nova Scotia and British Columbia: "Although the coal area of the Canadian Pacific coast is estimated by Dr. Dawson at about 13,000 square miles, as yet the only collieries in active operation are on Vancouver Island—that is to say, in immediate contact with the whole Pacific basin. It is hardly open to doubt that British Columbia coal is destined to be an important factor in the problem on the Pacific. At present the chief coal exports of British Columbia are to the Pacific ports of the United States, where it comes into direct competition with American coal brought across the continent, and with British, Japanese and Australian coal imported. By and by the area of competition will be widened and British Columbian coal will find markets farther afield; when the present high cost of production (averaging $8.9d. per ton) is reduced. The cost of labor is against British Columbia in the meantime, and in order to develop the export of black diamonds the province will have to import yellow labor."—Vancouver World.

AN OLD SHOPPERS

Receipt for Keeping Cool This Hot Weather.

"Every lady knows there is nothing so tiresome as shopping in warm weather. Now I have found that by dealing at My Store this inconvenience can be overcome to a great extent.

In the first place you'll lose no time bantering over prices as they have only one price there and that so low that it is almost out of sight

And then the goods—why they have underclothing there that will really make you feel cool to look at. In Shirt Waists too, they show a splendid assortment in all the newest patterns at prices—well! I don't know how they were ever made for the money. But it would take me too long to tell of the 101 pretty things they are showing at My Store. They have everything that goes to make up a Ladies' Hot Weather Wardrobe.

Oh my! but the clerks have a busy time of it. They are on the jump all day long. But I don't wonder at that for they are almost giving goods away at
