IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Sarah McCabe who departed this life on December 1st, 1922. One year has passed, our hearts still sore,

As time goes by we miss her more Her memory is as dear today, As at the hour she passed away.

Inserted by her Loving Niece ARGYLE SHORE TENDERS A SPLENDID FAREWELL TO A. J. AND MRS. MacNEVIN

On the evening of Monday, the 19th inst. the people of Argyle Shore gathered at the home of A. J. MacNevin, M. L. A., when a splendid tribute to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. MacNevin who are about to take up their residence in Charlottetown, Mr. and Mrs. MacNevin, 7.30 p. m. when between fifty and sixty of their neighbors and friends of the District together entered their home and made known the purpose of their coming.

The ladies came fully prepared and during the evening served lunch. After lunch all were gathered in the living room when the removal of Mr. A. A. MacNevin, Chairman for the evening and after a few remarks called a very nice program of music, reading, singing, etc., which was much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. MacNevin, Dear Friends:- We understand that you are about to leave us to take up your residence in the Capital City of this Province and we, your friends and neighbors, have the opportunity of assembling here this evening for the purpose of saying farewell. Although sincerely regretting your departure we are quite sensible to the fact that to a certain extent your work as a representative in the Provincial Legislature will be more convenient to you by your removal from our midst to the seat of government.

While you have been residents of Argyle Shore we wish to remind you that we have not looked upon you as merely filling a place, but have learned to regard you both as very essential persons to the community and we feel that your going away will leave a vacancy which will indeed be very difficult if not impossible to fill.

And now we would ask you to accept these gifts which but slightly express the kindly feelings with which they are presented and with these gifts we wish to convey our heartiest and best wishes for your going away, and we trust that you may God's blessing, be upon all your plans and purposes.

In conclusion we assure you that our hearts and homes will be ever open to receive you whenever you can find it convenient to visit us. Signed on behalf of the people of this Community. During the reading of the address Mr. and Mrs. MacNevin were each presented with a valuable and useful gift.

Mr. MacNevin very feelingly replied and in the course of his remarks spoke of the esteem in which the people of his home School-District were held by him and his wife and, while he deeply appreciated the kind references contained in the address, accepted the generous gift presented in the good spirit prompting the giving he never-the-less valued more the presence of the occasion of so many friends, a token that should indeed make anyone feel proud. He was glad to know that any little help he had given for the general welfare of the community was appreciated. Although going away from the immediate vicinity he would always consider it a privilege to be allowed to share in any public enterprise by the District, and hoped always to be able to maintain the kindly and neighborly feeling now existing, and wherever his home might be, he extended to all a cordial welcome. Mrs. MacNevin also thanked all for their kindness and was very pleased indeed to be precipitant in this happy event and trusted her few words would make all feel that she fully appreciated their remembrance, assuring them that she very much prized their gift.

Short complimentary speeches were given by Messrs. S. A. Murray, W. A. Sellers, Peter Inman, J. G. MacPhail and others, all paying a high tribute to Mr. and Mrs. MacNevin and extending them their good wishes in their new home. For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" hours to a close a very pleasant evening.

Marriage Unites Two Prominent P. E. I. Families

A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends throughout the province and in the east, in that it united two prominent Prince Edward Island families, was solemnized at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening Nov. 20th, at St. John's Presbyterian church, Vancouver, when Bernice, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill DesBrisay of city, became the bride of Robert Scott Laird, youngest son of the late Honorable Alexander Laird and Mrs. Laird of Prince Edward Island. Reverend A. D. MacKenzie, assisted by Dr. W. H. Smith, were the officiating clergymen.

A background of rose hydrangeas and white chrysanthemums, interspersed with bronze foliage and blooms, was the charming setting of the ceremony. The youthful bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a sleeveless gown of white georgette, heavily encrusted with rhinestones and silver crystals. A cascading ash fell as drapery from the low waistline, which was girdled with silver beading. The court train of carrick-macross lace fell from the shoulders, while a narrow bandeau of rhinestones and clustered orange blossoms held in place the traditional veil of Brussels net. White kid sandals, buckled in brilliants and sapphires, and a shower bouquet completed the beautiful bridal costume.

Miss Alleen DesBrisay, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid was charming in an orchid georgette frock made on classically straight lines, softened by draped epaulettes. Beaded motifs of rhinestones and transparent crystals and a corsage of sorrento blue conventional flowers were the trimming. Apicture poke created of gold lace on black net was effectively trimmed with a loop and rolls of sorrento blue shot velvet. Her bouquet was of single chrysanthemums in shades of mauve and pink with purple everlasting.

Miss Mary Elizabeth DesBrisay, the petite niece of the bride, was a quaint figure in a hooped Kate Greenway costume of white voile, inset with lace medallions and pink rosebuds, worn over a pale pink slip and beruffled lace pantelettes. She wore a frilled lace mob cap and carried a colonial bouquet of shell pink baby chrysanthemums and violets.

Mr. Ian Shaw supported the groom, while Dr. George Lamont and Mr. William Manson acted in the capacity of ushers. Mr. Andrew Milne, the church organist, rendered a programme of hymnal music, and during the signing of the register Mr. Wilson sang.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Thirty-third Avenue, Shaughnessy Heights, where the young couple, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. DesBrisay, received the guests beneath a large white wedding veil, flanked by tall standards of white and pink chrysanthemums. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Laird left by motor for Portland, the bride travelling in a smart frock of navy Roshanara crepe, the collar and cuffs being heavily corded. Shoes of cocoa brown suede matched in color a duvetyn chapeau going away will leave a vacancy which will indeed be very difficult if not impossible to fill.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McGaffey, Mrs. Harold Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Comeau, all of Seattle; Mrs. J. K. Simpson of Nanaimo; Mrs. Rob Ross of Victoria, and Mr. Albert DesBrisay of Penitico.
