BELIEVED STOLEN ON MAINLAND—A C. N. R. detective is investigating the theft of four cartons of cigarettes, valued at $400, shipped by the Imperial Tobacco Company from their warehouse at St. John, N.B., to DeBolis Brothers here. It is believed that the cigarettes were taken while the car was standing, possibly overnight, on a siding on the mainland. Last week 7,000 cigarettes and 100 small cigars were reported missing from a freight car at Montague. It is understood this car is supposed to have been tampered with on the mainland.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH—At the forenoon service in St. James Church yesterday Miss Lena McLure delighted the large congregation with an exceptionally fine rendering of "I Will Extol Thee, Oh Lord." (Michael Costa). The sermon by the minister, Rev. E. Moorhead Legate, B. D., was an inspiring message on the subject of "Truth." At the evening service there was a large choir which rendered with fine effect the beautiful anthem of Sullivan: "Thy Children Keep." This was in connection with a special service for young people conducted by the Minister, who gave a very fine and timely address on "Finding Oneself," based on the appearance of God's messenger to Gideon.

Post Office Inspector Whear left this morning to attend a conference of Postal officials from the New England States, which meets in Boston on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

FAST WORK

Over 3,000 miles of land and water in its holds was the shipment totalling 2,000 bags weighing more than 15,000 tons in all which commenced being rushed into the ship shortly after the salesman in Toronto had hung up the receiver. Passing through the Welland Canal early yesterday it occasioned widespread comment when the nature of its cargo and the method of its negotiation was learned. The shipment which will be hurried direct to Glasgow, was in charge of Captain Joanson of the "Anna."

SUBSTANTIAL

Over one of $919,329—wiped out the gain. Revenue collected from all sources totalled $1,854,520, as against $1,036,945 for October, 1930. An increase of $71,406 was noted in income tax collections, the amount gathered in being $825,443 compared with $754,037 for October, 1931.

HONEST LABOR

trenches, no clock watching," and the Canadian troops had shown that each for all and all for each was the gospel of the trenches, Sir Arthur continued. Unemployment had a demoralizing effect, and it was to be hoped that Canada had gone through the worst of the depression. "Honest labor is the secret of national progress," he maintained. The position of prestige which this country occupied among the great nations of the world was due in no small part, to the manner in which Canadians had acted during the Great War, when they had proved superior to some of the mightiest soldiers in the world. "I am not one of those to whom any pomp and circumstance, any waving of plumes, can dignify war," he said, "but the most glorious achievements of history fall and grow dim beside the exploits of the Canadians in France."

WORLD POWERS

Unlikely the U. S. Government would be sponsor formally for any proposal before the League's council. Tsuneo Matsudairo, Japanese Ambassador to London, conferred with Mr. Dawes, who also talked with Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese spokesman, and Rene Massigli, French expert on international relations. No results of the conferences were announced, but there was a growing belief that Japan's representatives had a plan which would permit their graceful retirement from Manchuria. The Japanese have entrusted the leadership of their negotiations with Ambassador Matsudairo and it was understood that he had cabled Tokyo for approval of the plan before having it submitted to the council.

"Some way out is necessary for us all—for us Japanese, for the League and for the whole world," a Japanese spokesman said. Japanese quarters, however, were unwilling to define a probable basis for a compromise solution. It was suggested that the Japanese might propose Sino-Japanese negotiations for evacuation of Manchuria and negotiations of Japan's five fundamental principles, both to begin at the same time. Japanese hold the most important of their five points to be respect for existing treaties.

In the face of extended Japanese occupation of Manchuria since the Council adjourned on October 24, the Chinese position was said in authoritative circles to be: "We can no longer be satisfied with mere promises, but expect the Council to take some action to restore the status quo ante in Manchuria."

HEARST PARTY IN CANADA

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 15—(By the Canadian Press)—United States Senators, Congressmen and officials, in a party about 75 strong and forming the largest delegation of its kind that has ever paid a visit to Canada, arrived here today in a special train from Washington. The party, guests of William Randolph Hearst, prominent newspaper proprietor, will visit Montreal, Ottawa and Quebec to obtain first hand information concerning the operation of sales tax legislation in the Dominion.

Col. Hanford MacNider, United States Minister at Ottawa, and Mrs. MacNider, accompanied the party and will remain with it during the Canadian visit. The guests were welcomed to the city by Mayor Camillien Houde.

Four United States Senators headed the visiting delegation, which also includes forty-nine Congressmen, one of them a woman. The Senators were W. H. King, Utah; T. P. Gore, Oklahoma; W. R. Austin, Vermont, and E. Thomas, Oklahoma.

Forty-six States in the Union have laws requiring public schools to instruct pupils in the effects of alcoholic beverages on the human system. Arizona and Wyoming are the exceptions.

PREPARATIONS

The coming loan is looked upon as a form of temporary financing to be repaid, if possible, within the life time of the generation which borrowed the money. As there will be a substantial refinancing program in 1933 and 1934, when large war loans mature, the five and ten year terms will doubtless be practiced upon as it has been the practice to have the year terms of loans divisible by five. It is said the Ministers of the crown do not want to add to the fixed charges of government any longer than is absolutely necessary.

One reason why a 15 year issue is unlikely is that the Dominion has several long term loans callable any time fifteen years from now and it is assumed in financial circles that the government will keep the load on those years as light as is practicable in order that full advantage may then be taken of market rates.

at Washington, November 14th between the Hon. W. D. Herridge, Minister to the United States, and the Hon. H. L. Stimson, United States Secretary of State, with respect to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway project. This conference marks the initiation of the discussion forecast in the announcement of the two governments on October 8th last.

"Following the conference at the State Department, it was announced that the discussions had been of a broad and general nature, confined to an exchange of views upon the more important phases of the problem facing the two governments. The discussion dealt with the international section of the waterway. The development of the purely Canadian National section of the St. Lawrence was regarded as a matter of domestic concern for Canada. Consideration, however, was given to the work done or projected by both countries in their respective National sections which would serve as essential links in the development of a waterway from the head of the Lakes to tide water.

"Arrangements were made for the immediate reconvening of the joint engineering board with a view to ensuring agreement upon the general form of development to be undertaken in the international section of the St. Lawrence River, as to which some divergence of views existed in the 1926 report of the board.

"An exchange of views took place as to the allocation of work and division of costs in the work done in the international section. It was stated by the representatives of both countries that they proposed to keep in close touch with the respective provincial and state authorities in the consideration of the power features of the development."

Government contracted a chill and was unable to be present. He is confined to his bed, but is progressing satisfactorily. His place was taken by his wife, who said if she were able to keep her husband in bed until Monday, he would be well enough to renew his official duties. When Sir Emsley Carr, the President, referred to the former "Iron Chancellor" as the "mildest man who ever scuttled a party," it brought a stout defence from Mrs. Snowden. The former Laborite Chancellor did not "scuttle" his party, his wife declared; he simply destroyed the one thing he always had hated above everything else—humbus. That spirit, said Mrs. Snowden, has been exhibited and by it, efforts were made to deceive the people.

Last Tributes Of Respect

The high esteem in which the late George W. Hibbett of Georgetown was held, both within and beyond the town where he had made his home for many years, was shown by the large attendance of his friends from different parts of the province, at his funeral, which was held on last Sunday afternoon November 8th.

There was a brief service in the home at 2 o'clock, which opened with the singing of "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

Rev. C. U. MacNevin, pastor of the United Church, read the 90th Psalm, at the conclusion of which Rev. A. R. Pike, pastor of the Baptist Church, led in prayer.

The funeral procession then moved slowly to the Baptist Church, where many people were already gathered and waiting to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased.

The church could not accommodate all that sought admission, so with the building crowded to capacity, and many people standing outside, the solemn service began.

Rev. Mr. Pike officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. MacNevin. Following the singing of "Lead Kindly Light," Rev. Mr. MacNevin read the Scripture and led in prayer, after which the well known hymn "Abide With Me" was sung.

Rev. Mr. Pike taking as the theme of his funeral discourse, the words of the Psalmist, "We spend our years as a tale that is told, paid an eloquent and worthy tribute to the late Mr. Hibbett as a man who had spent his years well, and left behind him a most enviable record.

He, however, believed that if the wishes of the departed were observed, very little would be said about him, as Mr. Hibbett was known for his modesty and unassuming disposition.

The preacher then appealed to all to live in such a way that when they came to the end of their lives they might feel that the tale then told would indeed be a worthy one.

After the singing of the beautiful hymn "Shall We Gather at the River," Mr. Pike pronounced the benediction.

The long procession then wended its way to the cemetery, where the Masons and Oddfellows of Georgetown and Montague conducted service at the grave site in memory of their departed brother.

The pall bearers were: Harold Brothers, Benjamin Stewart, Allan MacDonald, Ernest Doyle, Albert Dalziel and Thomas Renton, all railway men, and former fellow workers with the late Mr. Hibbett. The floral tributes were as follows: Family—Pillow.

Order of Railway Conductors—Wreath.

sense of extreme regret," that the Soviet Government was obliged to note that Japanese military circles continued to spread "absolutely unfounded rumors about Soviet assistance to this or that Chinese General," the Commissar said.

Particular exception was taken to a statement reported to have been issued by a Japanese representative at Mukden on Tuesday that reinforcements had been moved from Blagoveshchinsk in the form of Chinese and Korean Communists.

After calling the Japanese Government's attention "to this unscrupulous anti-Soviet campaign systematically conducted in certain military circles in Manchuria to complicate relations between Japan and Soviet Russia," the declaration requested renewed assurances from Japan that Soviet interests would not be injured by events in Manchuria.

Foreign Commissar Litvinoff reminded the Japanese Ambassador of his previous assurances.

"I have the more reason to remind you of this," he added, "as information is available that the Japanese command are preparing to cross the Chinese eastern railway in the region of Tsitsihar, which would paralyze the railway and cause material loss to Soviet Russia."

Japanese

were planning to resume their enveloping movement farther to the east. Their attention was concentrated on the Japanese right flank because the left was protected by the Nonni River and marshland. One Japanese cavalryman was said to have been killed and five wounded in repulsing an attack by Chinese cavalry on an outpost yesterday.

About 600 Chinese were driven off but they withdrew a short distance, it was said, and were awaiting reinforcements before resuming the attempt to turn the Japanese right flank.

Japanese officers admitted that their troops had been involved in a number of skirmishes during the past four days, but denied they had carried on an offensive movement on a large scale or bombarded the Chinese positions, as reported in messages from Harbin.

More than half the Japanese population of Mukden marched and sang in an orderly, impressive demonstration this morning which proclaimed Japan's rights and determination to remain as the dominating force in south Manchuria. In excess of 10,000 persons, including infants on their mothers' backs, and grandparents and each carrying a Japanese flag, participated in the manifestation.

TEN DAY TRUCE FAILS

(By James P. Howe, Associated Press Staff Correspondent) (Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 15—Negotiations looking toward a ten-day truce between the Chinese and Japanese armies in the Nonni river sector of Manchuria were reported today to have failed and General Mah Chan-Shan was said to be planning a general attack tomorrow at dawn.

The Rengo news agency said in a dispatch from Harbin, that the Japanese representative, Consul Shimizu and Major Hayashi, had been unable to conciliate General Mah and had returned to Harbin, closing the Consulate at Tsitsihar.

Chinese sources in Harbin said that the Chinese commander would take advantage of a thick fog and launch a strong offensive against General Honjo's troops to illustrate his repudiation of the Japanese warning to evacuate his position by Nov. 25. He was said to consider that his withdrawal would be contrary to Chinese interests.

Consul Shimizu was quoted by Rengo as saying that General Mah had displayed no sincerity regarding the Japanese proposals to withdraw north of the Chinese eastern railway to avert the danger of an other clash. They decided to leave Tsitsihar because of the difficulty of communicating with Tokyo and because of Chinese interference.

These reports conflicted with a Mukden dispatch to the Tokyo newspaper N'chi N'chi which said that the truce had been arranged pending completion of repairs on the Nonni river bridge. The Japanese envoys were said to have presented General Honjo's five conditions on which he would transfer his own troops.

CHURCH SERVICES

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH. Large congregations were present at the Anniversary services yesterday and suitable reference was made to the building and dedication of the Church, 67 years ago in which as Rev. Mr. Brown stated, salvation has come to many souls and the lives of young people have been inspired. It has indeed proved to be the meeting place of God with His people. It is therefore in keeping with the thoughts and the spirit of the people that one of the anthems to be heard on Anniversary Sunday is "Jerusalem, my glorious home, my heart still pants for thee." As rendered by the choir it must have brought a thrill to the hearts of the older members as they recalled memories of former days. The response from every heart would no doubt be "Forward Press to Thee."

Dr. A. S. Rogers of Centenary United Church, Saint John, was the preacher both morning and evening and delivered two addresses which were received with the greatest pleasure. Dr. Rogers' visit was looked forward to with much anticipation and he fulfilled every desire and aspiration of the worshippers. His morning text was, Eph: 3-21, "Unto Him be glory in the Church" from which he set forth "The Marks of a church." The evening text was Psalm 23-3 "The Lord restoreth my soul."

It was certainly a tribute both to Dr. Rogers and to Professor Kendall under whose leadership the musical service was so admirably rendered, to have such a full church as greeted them at night. The service as a whole was worthy of such an attendance, words would fail to do justice either to the Minister or to the choir and those who so kindly assisted. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond were given unstinted praise as the people moved down the aisles. Delightful, magnificent, high-class, a real City service were some of the expressions heard. Everybody appeared to be lifted up. The sweet melody of the music captivated them.

The attendance at Sunday School was 424 being a thirteen per cent increase over the same Sunday last year.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH. A sermon of more than ordinary power and eloquence was preached by the Rev. A. C. Vincent at the morning service yesterday, his theme being The Supernatural Jesus. The basis of the thought of the speaker was found in the gospel of Saint John, the text taken from the 30th and 31st verses of the twentieth chapter, "but these are written that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the son of God; and that believing ye might have life in His name."

The gospel of St. John presents an atmosphere different from that of the other gospels. The synoptic gospels present plainly the life of Jesus, the facts. St. John presents a spiritual interpretation, massing evidences, summoning witnesses to the divine sonship of the Christ. St. John points out that He is life, He is light, He is the bread of life, He is the water of life, and calls the testimony of the Father, His friends, His enemies, His works, His atonement.

tributed General Mah's defiance partially to the fact that he allegedly was receiving aid from the Soviet Republic. Consular reports and military intelligence, it was said, had accumulated evidence to show that hundreds and perhaps thousands of Koreans and Chinese, trained in Siberia by Soviet officers, made up a so-called "International Communist army" which descended on Tsitsihar last week.

ing death and resurrection, His resurrection appearances, His witness to immortality. At the evening service, which was very largely attended, the sermon was a continuation of the most fruitful series of studies in the epistle of St. James, the theme for this occasion being the Two Tongues. The ministry of praise was very reverently led by the choir under the direction of Mrs. G. Elliott Full, and included as well as the congregational hymns, Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Turn Thy face from my sins," Dudley Buck's "Fear ye not O Israel," Woodward's "The Sun shall be no more."

Sunday School at 2.30 p. m. was encouraging in attendance and impressive in interest. Particular attention was called in the announcements of the day, to the increase in attendance at the mid-week prayer meeting, Wednesday evenings at 7.30.

Y. M. C. A. STUDENT SONG SERVICE. The regular Sunday evening after church service was held in the Baptist Church last evening with Rev. Dr. A. C. Vincent and Mr. Don Campbell in the chair. The special speaker of the evening was Rev. Dr. A. S. Rogers, of St. John, N. B. Dr. Rogers gave the students and young people present a most forceful and eloquent address, one that was calculated to set everybody thinking. The soloist for the evening was Mrs. Dr. Vincent. She was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. C. Elliott Full who also played for the regular hymns.

Mr. Earl Jelly led in prayer and Mr. Don Campbell read the scripture lesson. Rev. C. N. Brown introduced Dr. Rogers to this group and in doing so told how the students at Mt. Allison always liked to have Dr. Rogers preach to them at college and Mr. Brown said he enjoyed many of Mr. Rogers sermons when he was attending college there at Sackville.

The Power of Personality or the Fact of Individuality was the topic of this noted speaker and he was listened to with great interest by a large group who filled the Baptist Church to Capacity. At the close of service the chairman extended the hearty thanks of all to Dr. Rogers and Dr. Vincent closed the meeting with prayer. The services next week will be held in Hertz Hall. A complete summary of Dr. Rogers address will appear in a later issue.
