to cure that skin disease of yours if you will only use the right remedy. Zam-Buk is the right preparation for all such troubles, because Zam-Buk is specially adapted for obstinate and chronic troubles. Zam-Buk owes its great power to its unique herbal composition.

Mr. W. D. Love, of 33 Rand St., Central Falls, R.I., U.S.A., writes: "For nine months my little son endured a bad attack of eczema on his face and head. The pain at times was intense and although we tried numerous remedies and spent dollars upon doctors, he got no relief. Finally we were persuaded to use Zam-Buk."

"To say the results were gratifying is putting it mildly. The first few applications ended the pain and irritation, and it was soon evident that Zam-Buk was effecting a cure. We persevered, with the result that my little son is now completely cured. In the interests of other sufferers you have my permission to publish what a wonderful cure Zam-Buk has wrought in my home."

Zam-Buk is also unequalled for ringworm, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poisoning, piles, burns, scalds, cuts and all skin injuries. All druggists and more for $1.25. Co., Toronto, 50c. box, 2 for $1.25.

—KENNINGTON PATRIOTIC COLLECTION—The envelopes for the Patriotic collection have, practically all been distributed in the Kennington district and a considerable number of donations have already been received. The outlook for a generous donation from this district is good. One large firm from the Margate section of the district donated $20.00, another from Kennington $10.00 many others $5.00 each, it looks as if Kennington will not be too far behind when all the envelopes are gathered. Dr. Jardine the new mayor of Kennington is taking an active interest in the welfare of the collection, especially within the town limits—Dr. Darrach and Mr. James Pendergast are the official distributors of envelopes, and are being assisted by Mr. Geo. Brown and Mr. John Thompson in Margate section. Messrs. Peter McIvor and John Mill in the western part of the poll and Mr. Robt. Douglas in the Southern. Those men deserve credit for the graceful and cheerful manner in which they consented to assist, considering the fact that all services are gratuitous. The collections will be deposited in the vault at Tullins, as they are collected, till they are all in, when they will be forwarded to Mr. H. V. Blanning, grand treasurer, Charlottetown.—K.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels. A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which becomes clogged up with waste. Liver gets sluggish; stomach sour. Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs." then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, happy child again! A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

Have You Been Sick? Then you must know that sickness leaves weakness and you should commence taking SCOTT'S EMULSION to put an edge on your appetite, put power in your blood, induce restful sleep and restore your nerve force. Scott's is a true tonic-food free from the drug peril.

—SEA VIEW—The semi-annual examination of Sea View school was held on Friday afternoon Jan. 26th and was well attended by ratopayers and other visitors. The pupils were examined in the different subjects by their teacher Mr. Henry Ready, and they showed by their prompt and intelligent answers the splendid manner in which they had been taught. The pupils present their teacher with a costly fountain pen accompanied by the following address: "Mr. Henry Ready—Dear Teacher, it gives us a great deal of pleasure at this time to express our esteem and respect for you. Although it is a little past the season for presenting gifts we feel this little token of remembrance will be appreciated by you, and help strengthen the feeling of love between us. Please accept this gift not for its intrinsic value but as a little remembrance. With every good wish from the pupils of the Sea View School. The teacher although taken by surprise, and in an incredibly short space of time, the whole nation abandoned those time-honored traditions, which had been cherished for centuries, and sprang to arms. The Germans realized the occurrence of a civil war in Ireland. The result was that the Ulstermen gave his hand to his southern opponent. They anticipated that the overseas dominions would shake off their loose connection with the Mother Country. The reply was that Canadians, Australians and New Zealanders shed their blood like water in order to preserve that connection which German politicians erroneously held to be irksome. They thought that South Africa was yearning for revenge and for complete independence. To their amazement, they found that the policy of "conciliation," as it has been rightly termed, adopted by the British democracy after the Boer War, led to the expulsion of Germany from her South African possessions. They pinned their faith on Indian discontent and disloyalty, and again they found the light fetters, forged by a benign democratic imperialism, constituted a far stronger bond of union than the heavy yoke imposed by absolutism. The Sikh and the Gurkhas stood side by side with their British comrades in a supreme effort to dispel the absolutist nightmare. They thought that Egypt and the Sudan must assuredly turn against those whom they erroneously designated as their oppressors. But even the religious held the attention of the Egyptians and Germany's bewildered friend, the retrograde Turk, of whose methods of government the inhabitants of the Nile valley have had some bitter experiences, failed to produce any effect, whilst the perfect tranquility of the Sudan, garisoned by a mere handful of British troops, rendered the most emphatic testimony as yet recorded in history to the soundness of the foundations on which the British Empire rests.—The Earl of Cromer in the January Yale Review.

—POLICE REPORT—The chairman of the Police Committee, Mr. John Grady, in his annual report, says "The Police Department has been very satisfactory for the past year, the officers discharging their duties faithfully." Receipts from the Police Court have been large, with less arrests than in 1915, as per Chief of Police report. The disastrous fire of December 13th, which destroyed so much valuable property, caused extra expenditure by having to put on watchmen to guard against further accident. Chief of Police Oaks and Officer Todd are at all times ready to see that the laws of the town are properly enforced and the Council has every confidence in their ability to do so.—H.

—SEA VIEW—The semi-annual examination of Sea View school was held on Friday afternoon Jan. 26th and was well attended by ratopayers and other visitors. The pupils were examined in the different subjects by their teacher Mr. Henry Ready, and they showed by their prompt and intelligent answers the splendid manner in which they had been taught. The pupils present their teacher with a costly fountain pen accompanied by the following address: "Mr. Henry Ready—Dear Teacher, it gives us a great deal of pleasure at this time to express our esteem and respect for you. Although it is a little past the season for presenting gifts we feel this little token of remembrance will be appreciated by you, and help strengthen the feeling of love between us. Please accept this gift not for its intrinsic value but as a little remembrance. With every good wish from the pupils of the Sea View School. The teacher although taken by surprise, and in an incredibly short space of time, the whole nation abandoned those time-honored traditions, which had been cherished for centuries, and sprang to arms. The Germans realized the occurrence of a civil war in Ireland. The result was that the Ulstermen gave his hand to his southern opponent. They anticipated that the overseas dominions would shake off their loose connection with the Mother Country. The reply was that Canadians, Australians and New Zealanders shed their blood like water in order to preserve that connection which German politicians erroneously held to be irksome. They thought that South Africa was yearning for revenge and for complete independence. To their amazement, they found that the policy of "conciliation," as it has been rightly termed, adopted by the British democracy after the Boer War, led to the expulsion of Germany from her South African possessions. They pinned their faith on Indian discontent and disloyalty, and again they found the light fetters, forged by a benign democratic imperialism, constituted a far stronger bond of union than the heavy yoke imposed by absolutism. The Sikh and the Gurkhas stood side by side with their British comrades in a supreme effort to dispel the absolutist nightmare. They thought that Egypt and the Sudan must assuredly turn against those whom they erroneously designated as their oppressors. But even the religious held the attention of the Egyptians and Germany's bewildered friend, the retrograde Turk, of whose methods of government the inhabitants of the Nile valley have had some bitter experiences, failed to produce any effect, whilst the perfect tranquility of the Sudan, garisoned by a mere handful of British troops, rendered the most emphatic testimony as yet recorded in history to the soundness of the foundations on which the British Empire rests.—The Earl of Cromer in the January Yale Review.

—POLICE REPORT—The chairman of the Police Committee, Mr. John Grady, in his annual report, says "The Police Department has been very satisfactory for the past year, the officers discharging their duties faithfully." Receipts from the Police Court have been large, with less arrests than in 1915, as per Chief of Police report. The disastrous fire of December 13th, which destroyed so much valuable property, caused extra expenditure by having to put on watchmen to guard against further accident. Chief of Police Oaks and Officer Todd are at all times ready to see that the laws of the town are properly enforced and the Council has every confidence in their ability to do so.—H.
