OYSTER BED BRIDGE AND VICINITY.—Mr. John Parkman, president of the Oyster Bed Bridge Driving Club attended the races at Stanley Bridge on Saturday. —The young people of this vicinity are enjoying themselves every evening on the new rink at Horne's Creek, the ice is being kept clean and in perfect condition, under the management of Parkman brothers to whom much credit is due, crowds gather every night to enjoy the moonlight and skating. —Our village blacksmith, Mr. J. Gallant is preparing for the next race, and expects to show 'em some speed. Good luck Joe.

GLEN VALLEY AND VICINITY.—When it was learned that Miss Hazel Craswell, of Fredericton intended leaving on Friday Feb 4 for U. S. A. a large number of her friends gathered at the home of her brother, Mr. Ben Craswell of Clyde, on the evening of Wednesday, Feb. 2nd to bid fairwell on her departure. When all had assembled to the parlor, Mr. Everett McLeod rose to the occasion, and in his usual happy manner, discharged the duties of chairman most capably, called upon Miss Agnus Arthur, who read the address, while Miss Myrtle Cutliffe presented Miss Craswell with a well filled purse, on behalf of those present. Although taken by surprise Miss Craswell made a suitable reply, thanking all, and giving them to understand that she would be back before too long which everyone hoped is true. The evening was then happily spent in various amusements, till the wee small hours, when all departed wishing Hazel a very pleasant trip.

WESTMORELAND NOTES.—The farmers of this district have completed hauling their winter's wood. Mr. Heath McVittie certainly procured a goodly sized amount which was recently sawed by Mr. Lorne Simmons. —Mr. Alfred Canfields have received some grand music over their new radio. The religious services which are broadcasted are greatly appreciated by Mrs. Canfield who is unable to attend church service. —Mr. Chron McVittie sold a valuable horse Saturday to Mr. Norman Matheson, Bradalbane.—The many friends of Miss Ruby Oakes are sorry to learn that her visit is near at an end, and in the near future she again returns to Milltown, Conn. —The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. MacVittie, Cambridge, Mass., (formerly of this place), and left a bouncing baby girl, Feb. 1st. Congratulations. —The Supt. of the Westmoreland Baptist Sunday School requests a larger attendance. He extends a hearty invitation to all who can possibly attend. —Mr. Erle Thomson, N. Tryon, was a visitor to Westmoreland, Sunday. —The many friends of Mr. Fred Wilson are sorry to learn of illness in their family, and wish a speedy recovery.— Mrs. Everett Simmons and little baby, Noreen, Crapaud, are visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs C. Wilson.

Delicious Fodder Known As White Clover

ALL ANIMALS DEVOUR IT

(Historicus)

As a fodder many claim that it is the best of all. It is an old favorite among the boys who grew up on the farm. And cattle go frantic at the sight of it. An expert says: —"The heads of White Clover develop from the lower parts of the stem, the heads of Alsike from the upper. White Clover heads are smaller than those of Alsike, and the flowers are pure white. As in other clover species the flowering starts from the base of the head. As the blossoms turn brown and remains so without falling the same head may be white in the upper part and brown in the lower.

"White Clover is fertilized by insects which carry pollen from one flower to another. Seeds will not develop unless the flowers are fertilized from another plant. The blossoms are rich in honey, and as this can be reached by the ordinary honey bee White Clover is of great importance to bee-keepers. When ripe the pods are oblong and contain three to five seeds.

"White Clover is indigenous to all Europe, northwestern Asia, Siberia and Northern Africa. It is also claimed to be native to Canada, and the United States. The locations where it occurs naturally in Canada are those in which it may have escaped from cultivation, and the fact that all undoubtedly native species of Trifolium are found only in British Columbia and that these form a group widely different from the European ones indicates that White Clover is not indigenous to this country, but was introduced by the early settlers.

"White Clover was first cultivated in Holland—hence the name Dutch Clover. It is at present grown in all European countries and practically all over South America.

White Clover is especially adapted to a rather moist and medium warm climate. When other conditions are favorable it will endure more cold without injury. It is also able to stand a long spell of drought, provided the sub-soil retains some moisture. It is true that most of the roots are rather superficial and that the growth is therefore affected by dry weather; but the main toproot pentrates to a considerable depth and the plants will survive with sufficient moisture in the subsoil. In Canada White Clover succeeds best in the Maritime Provinces ,in the Great Lakes region and on the Pacific slope. It is not well adapted to the Prairie Provinces.

When well established it covers the ground rapidly. The creeping stems branch freely, develop numerous roots and readily form large patches. The heads produce many seeds which fall to the ground and are thus able within a few years to make surprisingly large patches. This easy propagation accounts for much White Clover in places where it has not been planted and explains why it has been considered indigenous to Canada.

"Development is slow in dry weather, but growth starts quickly when rain falls. If germinating early in spring the plants generally blossom in the fall of the same year. The second and following years they produce an abundance of heads, which, if the plants are kept back by grazing continue to appear during practically the entire season."

No opinion is given in the above as regards the market value of this clover, but it is known that it ranks along with all kinds of fodder as a high class article. It, moreover, is cheaply raised, does not conflict in any way with hay and clover of other varieties. It also makes fine pasture and possesses fattening qualities which are valued by stock raisers, particularly by feeders. It is also considered a first-rate fertilizer of the soil in the Maritime Country. In fact it will always be in demand and never at a discount in Prince Edward Island, and our farmers are wide-awake to see the different points that count in feeding stock.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, entertained at a charming reception this week at Laurier House, Ottawa, for the members of the House of Commons and their wives. Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Viscountess Willingdon were present and this proved a delightful opportunity for the Parliamentarians and their wives to meet Their Excellencies. The Premier was assisted in receiving his guests by his sister, Mrs. Lay, of Barrie, Ont.

• • •

Charming in every detail was the Bridge given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Heartz, wife of the Lieut. Governor, at Edgewater, their lovely private residence. After a very pleasant game, afternoon tea was served and the prizes awarded.

• • •

Happiest congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rogers who are today celebrating the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

• • •

Mrs. C. C. Richards and Miss McCollum left Wednesday on an extended Mediterranean trip followed by hosts of good wishes for a pleasant journey and safe return.

• • •

The many friends of Mrs. H. R. Hillson were sorry to learn that she slipped on the icy sidewalk while returning from church Sunday and is now confined to her home, The Birches as a result of the accident.

• • •

The Premier and Mrs. J. D. Stewart have returned from a visit to Ottawa and Montreal.

• • •

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Bousefield on the sudden death of Dr. Bousefield which occurred Wednesday night at his home Upper Prince Street.

• • •

The chubby cupid, the crimson heart, the frilly paper and the affectionate if somewhat unmetrical rhymes were greatly in evidence last Monday evening when St. Valentine was honored all over the city. There was a regular round of social activities to do the Patron Saint honor.

• • •

Many happy returns of the day were extended to Judge W. S. Stewart last Sunday, Feb. 13th being his seventy-third birthday.

• • •

The weekly Bridge Club met at Hillhurst on Thursday, Mrs. C. H. B. Longworth being hostess.

• • •

Prince George Chavchavadze, of Russia, pianist of note, and Earle Spicer, of Berwick, brilliant baritone, who have recently completed a tour of Canada and the United States, during which they gave recitals in the larger and more important cities of both countries, arrived in Halifax last Saturday night and sailed for Europe Monday morning on the S.S. Cedric.

The well-dressed man will wear chic lace-trimmed hats of tulle or voile this season in Jersey, it has been declared by Mr. F. S. Donnelly, Trenton, newly-elected President of the New Jersey Retail Clothiers' and Furnishers' Association, in an address before that body at the Hotel Ambassador, in Atlantic City. Other hats, he said, would show red and green feathers. Mr. Donnelly predicted the return before the Fall of derby hats, and the convention agreed with him that it was "scandalous" for men to wear "last year's hats." Besides, suggested one delegate, it isn't good for business.

Mrs. T. C. Edgett has returned from a visit to Moncton the guest of her friend Mrs. F. W. S. Colpitts.

• • •

Mrs. W. E. W. Owen was among the popular Bridge hostesses entertaining at her home yesterday afternoon.

• • •

Among the hostesses this week was Mrs. A. A. Pomeroy who entertained her friends at a pleasantly arranged Bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home 84 Fitzroy Street.

• • •

Mrs. Ray McDonald held her post nuptial reception on Tuesday afternoon at her pretty home 108 Weymouth street and was assisted in receiving by her mother Mrs. J. L. Mullen. The rooms were pleasantly crowded during the afternoon and Mrs. (Dr.) R. J. Ledwell ushered to the diningroom where the dainty tea table, with large centre of yellow jonquils and yellow candles, was presided over by Mrs. F. P. Hennessey, pouring tea and Mrs. C. Frank McDonald cutting the ices. Assisting were Miss Margaret Jenkins, Miss Bessie Blanchard, Miss Katherine Irving, Miss Eileen McDonald and Mrs. Mark McGuigan.

• • •

Mrs. S. G. Peppen entertained at a prettily arranged Valentine Bridge on Monday evening, her guests sitting down to six tables. Shortly after eleven a dainty supper was served after which music, vocal and instrumental whiled away a few pleasant hours.

• • •

Mrs. Adrian Peters entertained very delightfully at a shower on Friday evening the 11th, in honor of Miss Cecelia Noonan whose marriage to Mr. Stephen B. Hughes takes place the latter part of the month. A prettily decorated basket filled with lovely gifts was wheeled into the drawing-room by little Miss Margaret Kiggins. The humorous verses attached to the gifts elicited much merriment from the many friends of the bride-to-be. A dainty buffet luncheon was served, after which music and dancing occupied the remainder of the evening.

• • •

Mrs. A. C. Duchemin entertained at a pleasantly arranged afternoon tea on Thursday inviting her friends in for a social hour. The rooms were prettily decorated with daffodils and potted plants. Assisting her in dispensing hospitality were Miss Martha Wright, Miss Dorothy Duchemin and Miss Lilia Duchemin.

• • •

Miss Noonan was also the recipient of a beautiful piece of cut glass from the guests of the "Davies."

• • •

At the marriage of Miss Jean Thomson Stavert, daughter of Sir William and Lady Stavert, to Mr. Hubert H. R. Welsford, of Winnipeg, which took place on Wednesday afternoon at half-past four o'clock, at the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, Montreal, the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Grahame Stewart, as matron of honor, and Miss Louise Fraser, of Lancaster, Ont., and Miss Mildred Bennett, of Calgary, as bridesmaids. The brides brother, Mr. Ewart Stavert, was best man, and Mr. Cyril de W. Welsford, Mr. Grahame Stewart, Mr. James Young and Mr. Hugh Wallis acted as ushers.

• • •

To lengthen the skirts of young girls sufficiently that they shall not be confused with their shorter-skirted mothers, Paris now adds a hem of tulle, for modesty forbids the Parisian girl who is not yet out to show more than 18 inches of her silk stockings in the evening, but her mother, however, may display as much as 24 inches.

• • •

Ochre and yellow shades of face powder have given way to delicately-tinted and pale cream powders among English womenfolk, and the new shades are delightful, some taking after application the shades of mother of pearl, jasmine white and the pale pink of the dog rose, while lip salve is also becoming more modest, since bright reds and tangerines are a thing of the past.

• • •

At her recent marriage Lady Barbara Bingham, an intimate of Princess Mary, wore a gown of silver tissue cut away on the left side to reveal a lining of cream chiffon velvet, while a long train of velvet lined with tissue falling from an open V at the back was cut tail-like and edged with cream fur, and the tulle veil was caught into place by a high Russian coronal of pearls and small orange buds, while her bridesmaids wore lace frocks in a deep hard blue, which has come definitely into fashion, over silver skirts, and blue turbans corresponding in tone completed the costumes.

Mr. John Hanna of Esher Street has returned home after spending a week's visit to New Haven.

The Guardian regrets to learn of the continued illness of Mr. Robt. Thompson, the genial proprietor of Sydney Mills, Suffolk.

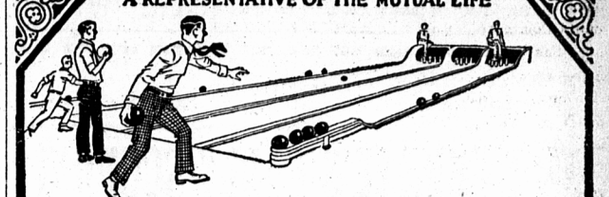
TRUE STORIES ABOUT LIFE INSURANCE BY A REPRESENTATIVE OF THE MUTUAL LIFE



He Thought He Was "Overloaded"

HE bowled on the office team and collapsed one night in the alley. Nobody knew that his heart was affected.

He carried $17,000 of Mutual Life Insurance, and always claimed I had "overloaded" him, because all his spare funds were absorbed by premiums. He had earned about $8,000 per year.

However, his widow doesn't think he was "overloaded." How else could he have left her an estate of $17,000, in cash?

The cost of carrying Mutual Life insurance is reduced by the profits. The Mutual Life is run on a sound business basis and earns a substantial surplus. There being no ockholders in this company surplus profits, after reserves are cared for, accrue to the policyholders. Write for the Mutual Book.

Sure of Himself Now!

So Clean Inside, No Fear of Perspiration Offense, However Over-Heated

Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered.

It's no trick to "clean out the bowels." Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew! The old-fashioned way was "salts." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascaret is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more."

And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascaret tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.

"ANYTHING that gets results, was all the thought I ever gave to laxatives. In those days my perspiration was so acid, it used to rot my clothes. Then a doctor tipped me off to those wonderful little sweeteners—
