4 tokens for 1/2 lb. bacon. 2 tokens to carry over.

With Thanksgiving behind us and Christmas before us, the time seems opportune for chicken to be the centre of eating attention for Sunday dinner. By choosing a good-sized bird you should be assured of left-overs to incorporate in a good cream sauce on Tuesday. This rightly assumes a festive air when served shortcake-fashion on baking powder biscuits of cornmeal squares. A savoury pot roast for Monday will answer the call of hearty appetites. From a two-coupon expenditure you should have some luncheon fixings on hand. And for Wednesday's dinner a little culinary first aid can revive the remnants. The suggestion is that they be fashioned into croquettes, delicately browned in the oven, which is a simple way of getting around the fat shortage, and served with a sauce such as mushroom or a tangy tomato. On Thursday half a coupon's worth of shoulder lamb chops can form the tasty basis of a stew or casserole dish. Friday is yours to make a selection from the aquatic world. A beef and veal loaf, to which for nutrition's sake and ration economy you may care to add half a pound of unrationed liver, can do double duty by being served hot on Saturday and sliced cold for Sunday supper. A bacon purchase of half a pound for breakfast or luncheon treats will leave you with two tokens of ration change for future use.

MacPherson-Frank Wedding

A quiet but pretty outdoor wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wentzell, Maplewood lane, on the 27th when Miss Thelma Ruth daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frank, Parkdale, became the bride of Danny MacPherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacPherson, Kilmuir, P. E. Island. Rev. Sydney Horton, pastor of the Rev. St. Michael's double ring ceremony being used. To the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Roy Wentzell, the bride looking winsome in her floor length gown of white sheer with brocaded yoke and long sleeves took her place under an arch of Autumn leaves. Her finger tip veil arranged in a coronet fell from a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of pastel shade glads, asters and white roses. Her only ornament was pearl earrings. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Carl Frank, Parkdale. The room was supported by his brother, Carl W. L. MacPherson, of the P. E. Island Light Horse Regiment. Miss Grace Naas, cousin of the bride acted as the bridesmaid and wore a floor length gown of blue taffeta, with blue hair band and carrying an arm bouquet of mauve and white glads and rose asters.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for about fifty guests was given by Mrs. Ira Wentzell, aunt of the bride. The rooms were very prettily decorated with pink and white streamers, autumn colored flowers and maiden hair fern. The bride and groom took their place under a canopy of green leaves and yellow flowers. The bride's table decorated in pink and white, was centered by a large three tiered wedding cake which was presided over by Mrs. Milton Rhodenizer. Eight girl friends of the bride acted as bridesmaids. Reginald DeLong, assisted the hosts in serving the dainty luncheon. Those serving were Mrs. Lester MacPherson, Mrs. Rhodenizer, Mrs. Ira Rhodenizer, Mrs. Moran Sperry, Mrs. Reginald DeLong, Mrs. Marie MacPherson, Mrs. Roy Wentzell and Miss Myrtle Wentzell. Guests were received by Miss Jennie Veinot.

After the reception an old fashioned serenade was given by the bride and groom by friends from both Parkdale and Maplewood, after which the remainder of the evening was spent in a sing-song. The bride and groom were married by Rev. Sydney Horton. This wedding ceremony was performed on the 27th wedding anniversary of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Ernest Naas, and Mr. Naas. The bride's gift to the groom was a Rembrandt watch; the groom's gift to the bride a brooch and purse. Gifts received by the happy couple included a collection of pyrexia glasses, enamelware, bedding linen and money. The bride and groom left on Saturday morning for Moncton where they will spend a two week honeymoon, after which they will take up their duties with the Mersey Paper Co. at French Village. For travelling the bride chose a lime green wool coat, dress and hat with brown accessories. Guests from a distance attending the wedding were Capt. W. L. MacPherson, Kilmuir, P. E. I.; Mrs. Florence Frank, Rockland; Mrs. Ernest Naas, Miss Grace Naas, of Somerset; Carmen Colliers, Nicholasville; Mr. and Mrs. Moran Sperry, Union Square, and other friends from Maplewood and Parkdale. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. David Frank, age 88 years, was also able to be present and enjoyed the occasion. This young couple are followed by the best wishes of their many friends in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Following the marriage, on Thursday evening, Miss Thelma Frank and Mr. Danny MacPherson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wentzell a miscellaneous shower was tendered them. A large number of lovely gifts were received. The best wishes of their many friends were expressed. A party including Clinton, Colina, Grace Naas of Somerset; Mr. and Mrs. Danny MacPherson, Carl W. MacPherson, Kilmuir, P. E. I., and Miss Myrtle Wentzell motored to Bridgewater on Friday afternoon when they attended the horse races and Lunenburg County Exhibition.

With Canadian Naturalists

TORONTO, Dec. 1—(CP)—A roof of the Christmas rose, sent from Vancouver, Toronto naturalist some years ago, has flourished and is now in December bloom with about two dozen flowers of pale yellow blossoms fringed with mauve. The plant, dormant all spring and summer, has its springtime in November and is at its best when snow is on the ground and all the rest of the flowers are withered. It has thick, velvety leaves of dark green, spreading low over the ground and the tulip-like blossoms stand erect above them. In Ontario gardens it has withstood temperatures close to zero without appreciable hurt. There is a happy legend about this winter-blooming plant. A young shepherdess, it relates, wept on that first Christmas morn because the snow had buried her and not a flower bloomed to welcome the heavenly Babe. An angel heard her distress, waved a wand and a path from where she stood and all the way to Bethlehem blossomed with these hardy flowers. On a sweltering day of 1828, J. R. Poinsett, an American diplomat, made a discovery in a lonely valley of Mexico, and forgot the heat in the excitement of it. As far as the eye could reach, vivid masses of scarlet stood out against a foliage of restful green. Natives said the plant, so new to Poinsett was an old friend they called "Poinsettia". He wondered why the American dug up roots of the common plant so carefully. Specimens were sent to botanists at Philadelphia and elsewhere. It was Professor Graham of Scotland, who was so thrilled by its beauty that he suggested the name Poinsettia to honor the man who had found the plant of such outstanding brilliance. Now the most popular Yule decoration in North America, the annual crop of evidence brought forward by nature into many millions of dollars. In Japan, not far from the centre of greatest havoc created by the atomic bomb, water-lilies were found still blowing in a drainage canal. This was one of the bits of evidence brought forward by investigating radiologists and other men of science when discrediting Japanese claims that residual radiation from the explosion had continued to exert destructive effects on all forms of life.

Hamamelis virginiana—better known as witch hazel—is a tree which does not blossom in spring or summer, but waits until the fall, often in November. Nor does the cold weather, even zero temperatures affect the flowers. They open without hurt. Not until a year later do the resulting seeds ripen. They are then shot from the tree with a distinct sound sometimes as far as 12 or 15 feet away. This is done to prevent "crowding" of the parent shrub.

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 30—(AP)—Twice blacked out by the war Florida's 190-day winter racing season will get under way tomorrow with some of the United States' top thoroughbreds featuring a nine-race program at picturesque Gulfstream Park, 14 miles north of Miami.

Annuities And Taxation Changes

Federal Government did not breach its contract with the holders of annuities by making annuities subject to taxation after June 30, 1940, Finance Minister Tuley said tonight in the commons.

He was replying to Harry Jackson (PC—Toronto Rosedale) who charged that the government had breached its contract by subjecting annuities to income taxes.

Prior to 1940 government annuities were tax-free. On June 30, 1940 they were made subject to income tax. In the last budget change was made so that only the interest on the annuities now are subject to tax. Those purchased prior to June 30, 1940 continue tax free.

Mr. Tuley said the Government agreed in the contracts to allow assignment to annuities but never agreed to refrain from taxing the enlargement. No one was prevented from cancelling his annuity subject to conditions existing at the time the enlargement was made.

Prospector Strikes It Rich; Plans Trip With Wife

RED LAKE, Ont., Nov. 30—(CP)—George Campbell, 47-year-old prospector, said today he is ready to leave for Hollywood, New York and Bermuda with his wife and his share of the $800,000 in cash and stocks he and three partners received for sale of a claim to Campbell - Red Lake gold mines. Red Lake is 175 miles east of Winnipeg.

Already Campbell says he has a plane, a yacht with a crew, the first player-piano to come into Red Lake and 500 rolls of music. He and his wife live at Hill's Acres, a two-room log cabin five miles across the lake from Red Lake gold camp.

Campbell was 10 years old and driving a dogteam in South Fork when his elder brother and his brother-in-law, Jack Wilson, staked a claim and received $500,000 in cash and stock from Dome Mines for their property. He said his brother spent about $500,000 then lost $100,000 in a wheat pool during the First Great War.

He looks upon an 80-year-old Indian, Jake, as his good luck charm. Jake was along when Campbell made his strike—the first in the Campbell family in 30 years. As soon as the lake freezes and planes can take off, Campbell and his wife will leave the bush for the first time in 14 years and head for

N. Z. Barque Runs Into Rough Weather

VANCOUVER, Nov. 30—(CP)—The New Zealand barque Pamir rode alongside a Vancouver tug today after a terrific 10-hour fight for life against a 75-mile-an-hour gale off Cape Flattery. Historic death-trap for sailing ships. Magnificent seamanship by her captain and crew, heroic rescue work by a little Victoria tug, and the great four-master's own superb qualities saved her from being dashed to pieces on the southern rocks of Vancouver Island in one of the worst storms of her 44 years afloat.

Her every sail must be overhauled here before she returns home in a month with 3,500 tons of Canadian wheat but otherwise she escaped damage, according to her third officer, F.M. Renner. The Pamir was built at Hamburg in 1905. Later she was sold to Finnish interests but the New Zealand Government seized her during the war. The barque is 316 feet long with a 46-foot beam and has a gross tonnage of 3,202.
