Ephraim Gallant, Rustico, one of the directors of the New Glasgow cheese factory and who also hauls milk, has been obliged to put on a second team this summer on his route, which is only short, owing to the large quantity of milk sent.

A fire alarm was rung in at four twenty yesterday afternoon for a blaze in the Victoria Hotel. When the firemen arrived the flames had made some progress in the back of the hotel just at the rear entrance on the bottom flight and were quickly running up on the exterior of three walls, catching on the dry shingles. Two streams were applied and in twenty-five minutes the fire was over. The shingles, windows, frames and sashes on these walls were scorched badly while a good deal of damage was done the interior of the affected sections by water. The cause is attributed to children setting fire to a pile of papers in the yard near the walls, which, being very close together, caught from one another. Had the blaze obtained the same headway at night more disastrous results might have followed. The loss is covered by insurance and it is probable that an insurance adjuster will come from St. John for appraising purposes. Mr. Sterns kindly treated the firemen to a box of cigars which were thoroughly appreciated by them.
