New Medical Findings Reported At Medical Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 9.—(AP)—A form of ammonia found in the common pitcher plant of swamps in the eastern United States, one shot of which relieves deep-seated pain for days or weeks, was described to the American Medical Association here today. Bald-headed men now can boast that their hair makes an definite evidence of possessing an abundance of he-hormones, according to a study reported to the association for the study of internal secretions. Evidence that a new drug may possess the power to immunize against stomach ulcers was reported to the internal secretions meeting, which is held in conjunction with the American Medical Association. The ammonia treatment for pain was exhibited by doctors William Bates, Bernard Judovich and Winifred Stewart, Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia. It grew out of the fact that Dr. Judovich studied the pitcher plant because it was one of the few whose medical brews neither grandeur nor medical scientists know anything about. He found that a distillation of the leaves relieved pain if injected. Several years' study by chemists showed that the relief was due to an ammonia ion—ammonia atoms minus electrons—and produced a pure synthetic ammonia of this form. This drug, in the form of ammonium sulphate or ammonium chloride, now is injected into the spine, the same as a spinal anesthetic. But it does not act like an anesthetic, except on pain. The ammonia knocks out only the portion of the nerves which transmit pain. One injection lasts from days to months. The treatment requires, however, a doctor skilled in knowing what part of the spine to inject. When placed properly, the ammonia has quickly stopped the pains of sciatica, of the form of alcoholism known as peripheral neuritis, of tabes dorsalis which is a withering of some spinal nerves, and of cancer in many different locations. The new remedy does not relieve other types of pain reported by Dr. James B. Hamilton, Yale University School of Medicine. He found that men who had lost their normal supplies of male sex hormones through being emuuchs or other accidents, tended not to become bald, even in families where baldness was the rule. When some of these men were given male sex hormones, they started to lose their hair, stopped losing it when the hormone was taken away. He concluded that two factors in predisposition, one an inherited predisposition, the other male hormone stimulation. Discovery of the possible immunizing substance for stomach ulcers was reported by doctors A. P. Hands, H. Greenfield, G. B. Pauley and A. O. Ivy, Northwestern University medical school. The drug is a substance called interogastrone which Northwestern has been experimenting with for several years. Previous experiments had shown that the drug if given often enough definitely prevents ulcers in dogs. But now seven dogs which have been receiving the drug for long periods have become at least temporarily immune.

71 Presbyterian Ministers Serve As Chaplains

MONTREAL, June 9.—(CP)—The fact that 71 Presbyterian ministers are serving as chaplains to the active forces is creating a problem that will become increasingly difficult to solve, the Presbyterian general assembly heard today. Dr. S. C. Parker, reporting for the chaplaincy committee, asked that the church in its presbyteries should help to release men to minister to the armed forces by doubling up on the work at home. Through a letter from Wing Commander John McNab, principal chaplain (P) R. C. A. F., the Presbyterian commissioners were asked to open their homes and churches in hospitality to the large number of young women now serving in the women's division of the R. C. A. F. Dr. C. M. Kerr, of Halifax, said that even although one third of his work is practically chaplain's work, he is unable to obtain new tires or retreading of old ones. He appealed to the assembly to take up this matter before it wound up its business. The committee of assembly to nominate a committee to investigate the two theological colleges was named as follows: Dr. Robert Johnston, Ottawa, convener; Dr. A. T. Barr, St. John's; Mr. J. C. Grier, Quebec, Ont.; Prof. N. Macdonald, Hamilton, Ont.; D. W. Yuille, Montreal; Rev. R. M. Ramsay, Rosetown, Sask.; Rev. J. W. Lean, Victoria, B. C.; Rev. Alfred Bright, Calgary.

United Church Conference Is Concluded

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 9.—(CP)—Liquor sales and international affairs were among numerous subjects dealt with today before the final session of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada adjourned until the first Thursday of next June. The delegates adopted a resolution "that this conference commend the Premier and government of Nova Scotia for the stand they have taken in regard to the stoppage of the sale of liquor on Saturday together with the closing of many clubs." The conference also commends the Halifax Herald for the policy it has maintained in this matter, in assailing the lack of restrictive policy on the part of the Dominion government. Reporting for the committee on international affairs, Prof. C. H. Mercer, Halifax, said that one of the main reasons for confidence in the peace to come was that emphasis had shifted from "peace and security" to "justice and order." The committee presented a pledge of loyalty and cooperation in prosecution of the war. "We again commend study of plans for total world or regional sectional federal union, in particular the economic and military might occupy in some inter-American federal system." Rev. A. G. Pentz reported the camp meeting at Berwick, will be held from July 31 to Aug. 9 with Rev. J. H. Freeston, Moncton, as the preacher, Prof. Ellis Andrews, of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, will conduct the Bible course. Mrs. J. H. A. Anderson, president of the Maritime Conference branch of the women's missionary society, reported the society had 930 organizations with more than 17,000 members. There were six missions in the Maritime provinces during the past year were $74,000. The society had sent clothing and medical supplies to Labrador and aided Red Cross work. Much material destined for Trinidad had been held up by war conditions. Dr. Gordon S. Sisco, United Church secretary, reported there were 117 United Church ministers in the chaplaincy service as of May 1. Under the war services committee $50,000 had been forwarded for the bombed children of Great Britain and Ireland. A total of 1,018 women's war service units of the United Church had sent 2,310,000 articles for war relief. He credited Lord Beaverbrook with establishing British-British relations and said that if it had not been for the arrival of British war equipment the Russians "would have despaired and let Moscow be bombed by the Axis." A. W. Williamson, controller of supplies, department of munitions and supplies, told the convention that the rubber shortage now is so acute that it is impairing the ability of the United Nations to fight the Axis. He said "anyone who fails to do his part in conserving rubber is assisting the enemy."

INCENDIARIES? No! This fire was a civil disaster. But who knows when Canadian firemen may play the same heroic part as their fellows in London? Wives and mothers of men like these know the importance of diet. . . insist on a flavoured-packet breakfast. They, too, know that a bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk and sugar gives them the start they need!

Colonel Drew Raps Report Presented On Hong Kong Probe

TORONTO, June 10.—(CP)—Lieut. Col. George A. Drew, named by Conservative House Leader Hanson at Ottawa as counsel at the Hong Kong inquiry, has issued the following statement: I find it almost impossible to believe that the summary of the report which I have read in the press has any reference whatever to the evidence given before the inquiry which I attended. The actual facts brought out in evidence were so blood-curdling that the public have a right to know what did take place. One thing which I have learned from this inquiry is that there is nothing so contrary to the public interest as a secret inquiry into the activities of our own forces. There was never, at any time, any reason for this inquiry to be held in secret. It is clear now that secretiveness was the only excuse to hide from the public the evidence of inexcusable blundering, confusion and incompetence which marked every stage of the proceedings from the time that this force was decided upon until the time it left Canada. The Government refused to make full disclosure before the commission of important communications regarding this matter and the minutes of the committee relating to the authorization, organization and despatch of this force were examined upon the objection of Government. For this reason, evidence was not before the inquiry upon which any report regarding the conduct of the Government itself could properly be made. There was, however, very complete evidence upon which marked every stage of the proceedings regarding the handling of this matter by the military authorities. I will defer any further comment until I have had an opportunity to read the full report in detail and compare its findings with the actual facts disclosed at the inquiry.

United Church Conference Is Concluded

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 9.—(CP)—Liquor sales and international affairs were among numerous subjects dealt with today before the final session of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada adjourned until the first Thursday of next June. The delegates adopted a resolution "that this conference commend the Premier and government of Nova Scotia for the stand they have taken in regard to the stoppage of the sale of liquor on Saturday together with the closing of many clubs." The conference also commends the Halifax Herald for the policy it has maintained in this matter, in assailing the lack of restrictive policy on the part of the Dominion government. Reporting for the committee on international affairs, Prof. C. H. Mercer, Halifax, said that one of the main reasons for confidence in the peace to come was that emphasis had shifted from "peace and security" to "justice and order." The committee presented a pledge of loyalty and cooperation in prosecution of the war. "We again commend study of plans for total world or regional sectional federal union, in particular the economic and military might occupy in some inter-American federal system." Rev. A. G. Pentz reported the camp meeting at Berwick, will be held from July 31 to Aug. 9 with Rev. J. H. Freeston, Moncton, as the preacher, Prof. Ellis Andrews, of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, will conduct the Bible course. Mrs. J. H. A. Anderson, president of the Maritime Conference branch of the women's missionary society, reported the society had 930 organizations with more than 17,000 members. There were six missions in the Maritime provinces during the past year were $74,000. The society had sent clothing and medical supplies to Labrador and aided Red Cross work. Much material destined for Trinidad had been held up by war conditions. Dr. Gordon S. Sisco, United Church secretary, reported there were 117 United Church ministers in the chaplaincy service as of May 1. Under the war services committee $50,000 had been forwarded for the bombed children of Great Britain and Ireland. A total of 1,018 women's war service units of the United Church had sent 2,310,000 articles for war relief. He credited Lord Beaverbrook with establishing British-British relations and said that if it had not been for the arrival of British war equipment the Russians "would have despaired and let Moscow be bombed by the Axis." A. W. Williamson, controller of supplies, department of munitions and supplies, told the convention that the rubber shortage now is so acute that it is impairing the ability of the United Nations to fight the Axis. He said "anyone who fails to do his part in conserving rubber is assisting the enemy."

Colonel Drew Raps Report Presented On Hong Kong Probe

TORONTO, June 10.—(CP)—Lieut. Col. George A. Drew, named by Conservative House Leader Hanson at Ottawa as counsel at the Hong Kong inquiry, has issued the following statement: I find it almost impossible to believe that the summary of the report which I have read in the press has any reference whatever to the evidence given before the inquiry which I attended. The actual facts brought out in evidence were so blood-curdling that the public have a right to know what did take place. One thing which I have learned from this inquiry is that there is nothing so contrary to the public interest as a secret inquiry into the activities of our own forces. There was never, at any time, any reason for this inquiry to be held in secret. It is clear now that secretiveness was the only excuse to hide from the public the evidence of inexcusable blundering, confusion and incompetence which marked every stage of the proceedings from the time that this force was decided upon until the time it left Canada. The Government refused to make full disclosure before the commission of important communications regarding this matter and the minutes of the committee relating to the authorization, organization and despatch of this force were examined upon the objection of Government. For this reason, evidence was not before the inquiry upon which any report regarding the conduct of the Government itself could properly be made. There was, however, very complete evidence upon which marked every stage of the proceedings regarding the handling of this matter by the military authorities. I will defer any further comment until I have had an opportunity to read the full report in detail and compare its findings with the actual facts disclosed at the inquiry.
