Souris News

Mr. Joseph Madore left for Boston on Thursday, April 28th.

Mrs. David Bolger is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Hanley, Souris.

Among the passengers to Charlottetown on Thursday, was Mr. Maurice Cheverie who was on his way to Boston.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in the B. I. S. Hall on Friday, April 29th, when a dance was held, under the auspices of the Souris orchestra. The music was furnished by Messrs. Wilfred Cheverie, Walter Cheverie, Ivan Cheverie and P. D. MacDonald.

On Monday, April 25th, between the hours of 8 and 12 p. m. a series of damages occurred. A number of windows of the residence of Mr. John MacQuaid were smashed by rocks being thrown through them. Also a stone thrown at the power house smashed the window, hitting Mr. James McIsaac and cutting his head. Later some of the windows including the plate glass of the office of Mr. H. H. Acorn were broken. Mr. Acorn's mill was also damaged. It is hoped that the offender will be found before any more damage is done.

Mrs. Spurgeon Graham, St. John's, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Gillam, Souris.

Chocolate should always be cooked rapidly in a porcelain or china-lined saucepan so that a large surface is exposed. If this is done the oil does not separate as it would in a covered pot or when the chocolate is cooked slowly.

The Niagara Falls war memorial which is to be unveiled by Brig. Gen. F. W. Hill of Kingston on May 22. The monument cost $10,000 and was designed and executed by Coeur de Leon McCarthy of Ottawa. The sight chosen is a most attractive one near the main entrance of Queen Victoria Park. A granite shaft surmounting the stone foundation bears the names of those who died for their country. The bronze figure is 8 ft. 6 in. in height and represents a typical Canadian soldier.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On Wednesday eve, April 27th, a few friends and neighbors met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Martin, Eldon, to say farewell to the family before their departure for their new home in Orwell.

The following address was read by Miss Katie McEachern, while Miss Margaret Martin graciously passed to the recipient an outward token of the inward good-will of those present, also of some not there.

To Mrs. J. D. Martin and family,
 Dear Mrs. Martin:

We are assembled at your home this evening as we have frequently been in the past, but the pleasure anticipated and derived from other gatherings is absent on this occasion. For there is a reason as there is for most happenings in life. A short time ago we learned that you and your family had decided to move to a neighboring community.

We unanimously regret this and the fact that Eldon's loss is Orwell's gain is but small consolation. In all things pertaining to the welfare and improvement of the district you willingly and efficiently gave your time and talents.

When a divergence of opinions arose (as always does in any organization of society) you agreed to disagree agreeably. As past president of the Eldon Women's Institute, you were largely instrumental in bringing it to its present splendid standing, and we trust you will not transfer your interest from its various activities. Yes, we shall miss you; but some one has truly said, "Every cloud has a silver lining." The bright side of this cloud is that you are not going very far away, and in these days of rapid transit, we hope scarcely to feel that you are away. In this way we may keep unbroken the tie of good fellowship.

We believe that the younger members of the home will always remember that Eldon is their native place, and hold tender memories of the friends with whom they have grown up. In this connection the fraternity of "Thistle L. O. L." united with us materially and sentimentally. And now before we say "Farewell" not "good-bye" please accept this small tangible evidence of good will and fellowship, and may God bless and prosper you and yours as He sees best.

Signed on behalf of the residents of Eldon.

Mrs. Martin fittingly replied for herself and family especially emphasizing the kindness and friendliness she had met with since coming to live in our community.

A complimentary speech was then given by Dr. J. F. Martin, whose oratorical ability is well known. Mrs. T. F. West followed with a brief humorous speech.

Instrumental selection were rendered by Mrs. Melvin McDonald,

Gleanings From Tryon And Vicinity

Mr. Walter H. Bell of Tryon paid a flying visit to Cape Tryon and Augustine Cove on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dawson of North Tryon, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Campbell of Augustine Cove on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Boswell of Victoria are receiving the congratulations of their numerous friends on the arrival of a bonnie wee lad.

Friend stork paid a flying visit to Clinton and deposited a tiny daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodside, who formerly lived in Tryon.

Some frogs were heard piping their mournful dirge in the marshes of this vicinity last week. This was the first time they were heard this year—or rather Spring!

Friends of Master Sheldon Dixon are delighted to know that at time of writing the young lad is much improved and his young friends hope for to see him about again in the course of a few days.

Miss Grace Wright, who graduated successfully at C. B. College, Charlottetown at Easter, is home spending the summer months at the home of her father, Mr. Charles D. Wright, previous to her departure to Western Canada.

Miss Ruth Harper of Charlottetown Royalty, arrived on Saturday morning at Tryon, where she is employed as milliner in the store of our courteous general merchant, Mr. Ernest Howatt, Tryon, was surely full of people—especially of the fair sex, who were more in evidence than the opposite—and no rainy day either. The hats displayed were well up to the standard with any city store and Miss Harper proved very amiable and capable to her customers. We wish Mr. Howatt the very best luck in his undertaking.

On Friday evening a delightful social was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. G. Somers of Tryon, by the Utopian Society of the United Church. The evening was pleasantly passed in contests and crokinole. The latter caused much laughter and fun. With Miss Emma Thomas presiding at the piano, some of the newest and most up-to-date music. Refreshments were served in Mrs. Howatt's best style. In the wee small hours the happy young people dispersed to their homes, hoping for many more evenings as enjoyable as this one had been.

Neighbors and friends of Mr. William Muthread of N. Tryon, are sorry to learn of his indisposition, but hope for complete recovery soon.

GOODRICH SILVERTOWN CORD ORCHESTRA TO BROADCAST.

Thirty weeks in big time vaudeville have just been completed by the Goodrich Silvertown Cord Orchestra and the Silver-Masked Tenor. On May 5th they go back on the air through WBEA and a network of 18 other stations to give the radio audience a new series of concerts.

These concerts will be given every Thursday night throughout the summer between the hours of 9 and 10 Eastern Standard Time.

The return of the radio studio of this orchestra and the famed Irish tenor, who hides his face behind a mask, will be welcomed by millions of radio fans.

Miss Annie McRae and Mrs. R. West.

Mrs. Martin, assisted by some of the ladies present served a buffet-lunch, which was greatly enjoyed by all. A pleasant evening was brought to a close with a solo by Mrs. West and the singing of some old familiar songs.
