

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND LEADS CANADA IN QUALITY OF BUTTER

She Comes Second Only To Ontario In Quality Of Cheese.—Interesting Addresses By Mr. Hyndman And Mr. Machin Before Rotary Club Monday Emphasize Need Of Provincial Department Of Immigration.

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club was very largely attended. It was presided over by Mr. J. A. Clark and a timely address was given by Mr. J. O. Hyndman, who spoke in part as follows:

DOES PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND NEED INCREASED POPULATION

Immigration or Colonization is a problem requiring most careful study and attention by those competent to handle it, so as to meet the special needs of each Province. It should not be difficult to impossible in Prince Edward Island to find a common-sense solution. Our own citizens were awakened to its importance as a vital factor in our economic life and future prosperity. Robert Louis Stevenson used to say, "God give me a young man with brains enough to make a fool of himself. He meant by this, I think, that every fresh adventure, every experiment, every step forward, involves somebody's risk of making himself look silly or as he said "making a fool of himself." This is a big subject to tackle, and I have decided to take the risk of making a fool of myself by introducing it, of which you will be better able to judge as I proceed.

If, on making a study or survey of the situation, we discover there is a real need, what are the opportunities and facilities available and what line of action should be taken to achieve our objective? I have given considerable attention to the subject for some time past and have discussed it with members of the Board of Trade, with agriculturists and politicians, but find very few who have given it any thought or regarded it of much importance to our Province. I had been in hopes that someone else better fitted would be found to launch the subject, when one undertakes to introduce a new idea, he at once subjects himself to severe criticisms, and most people naturally do not care to become a target. I had some experience in that regard during my activities with the Board of Trade. When you advocated the second Car-ferry, standardization of the railroad, pullmans, trading at home or changing of the rule of the road it was amazing to find the many differences in opinion among our own people. When I became President of the Associated Boards of Trade in 1923, the first thing I started out to do was to endeavor to bring agricultural and commercial interests closer together. When I invited Agricultural Societies to send representatives to our Annual Conference in 1924, I was somewhat ridiculed, but when I invited the Women's Institutes to join us in 1925, it was taken more or less as a joke. The effort, however, to foster a better feeling and to strive to work together for our common interests, succeeded beyond anticipations, and the Boards of Trade and commercial interests have won the good will and esteem of the agricultural community in this Province to a much greater extent than it is found elsewhere. I think all Board of Trade members will agree today, that such a move resulting in the closer co-operation of all citizens has turned out to be of the greatest value in promoting the welfare of this agricultural Province. What do we find at present? That this very thing we initiated in Prince Edward Island in 1924, is being advocated throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, and is one of the principal planks in the platform of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. At the Annual Meeting of the Chamber in Vancouver, last fall, Premier Bracken of Manitoba read a valuable paper on the subject. Only last week an editorial appeared in the "Telegraph" Journal of Saint John, taking credit for the Board of Trade of that city in having been the first in Canada to make a move in bringing agricultural and commercial interests closer together, as a result of a joint conference held last summer to investigate the agricultural situation of New Brunswick. On my attention being called to same, I immediately wrote to the Editor of the paper, pointing out that the movement originated here, and that credit belonged to Prince Edward Island, also pointing out that as far back as 1920 we held a "Farmer Day" at the Charlottetown Rotary Club, the first event of the kind in Canada. Why do I refer to these matters at this time, which appear to you would have no connection with the subject under discussion?

For the reason that it is essential that we conserve our present prosperity and not allow anything through negligence or lack of foresight on our part to disturb the present economic situation, which is equal in both provinces. Indeed we might well ask ourselves whether, if this the beginning of the fulfillment of the Confederation pact, had been begun twenty-five years ago instead of ten, our population would now have been doubled.

Here Mr. Hyndman continued our position with that of British Columbia, which at the time of Confederation had only 30,000 or 40,000 people, but which, ten years after was connected with the rest of Canada by the C. P. R. resulting in its rapid growth in population.

Here the speaker read an extract from a resolution adopted several years ago at the annual conference of the Associated Boards of Trade. It was as follows: "Whereas it is generally conceded that in the past other parts of the Dominion have been boosted and favoured largely at the expense and neglect of Maritime Province interests, and whereas the population in Prince Edward Island has dwindled from 109,078 in 1891 to 38,536 in 1921, or a loss of 70,542 in thirty years, largely on account of the lack of transportation facilities, and non-fulfillment of the terms of Confederation for many years past, leaving our province in such a position that she could not take advantage of the transportation facilities available to citizens on the mainland, and thus debarred from the proper development of her natural resources, consisting principally of agriculture, live stock, fisheries and tourist resorts. Be it therefore resolved that the Dominion Government be petitioned to grant this province special consideration in the promotion of a colonization and public policy to help offset the incalculable loss sustained in the past, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honourable the Prime Minister of Canada, the Department of Immigration and each of our Island representatives.

St. John men who had been to Wembley had told the speaker, that, at that exposition absolutely no literature or other similar advertising of the Maritimes was to be had. Furthermore, the Canadian Government Immigration agents in the U. S. A. were not allowed to send people to the Maritimes.

Three reasons why we should advertise Prince Edward Island's advantages in Mr. Hyndman's opinion are: 1. To proclaim our existence, resources and possibilities. 2. To give our young people pride and confidence in their own Province; and thus help stem the exodus. 3. It has an appreciable effect on potential citizens, as well as acting as a stimulus to awaken many of our own people from the inertia caused by discouragements of the past.

WHOSE WHO?—A correspondent writes:—What about our wonderful Liberals now; what great progress are they making? Horses have been travelling on the ice from Rocky Point to Charlottetown for almost two weeks and the ice still remains unbroken. The steamer stopped running over two weeks ago and the floats at Rocky Point are not taken out.

AUCTION FORTY FIVES.—A large number of Knights of Columbus attended the Auction Forty-fives in the Home, Kent Street, Monday evening. Great interest is being taken in the tournament and the score is close in the running for the grand prize. The prizes last night were won as follows: First, Cyriae Gallant; second, Richard Lillet, and Joseph Francis. The former won the draw, third prize, going to the latter.

INSTITUTE MEETING.—The January meeting of Cornwall-York Institute was well attended in spite of a stormy night. The programme consisted of a debate on the relative advantages of city and country life. Three members stressed the advantages of life in a city, while three others brought forward the many advantages of living in the country. The debate was then thrown open to all and a lively discussion ensued. The great majority expressed a strong preference for life in the country. The next meeting will be held on February 6th at the home of Mrs. George MacDonald, Cornwall Mr. Even MacMillan has very kindly consented to give a talk on some phases of Life in South Africa.

Y CLUB MEETS.—At the Young Men's Business Club Luncheon Monday evening in the Victoria Hotel, Dr. Farras of St. John and Dr. S. R. Jenkins of Charlottetown, were the guests. Dr. Farras delivered a most interesting address on tuberculosis and strongly urged that the committee of the city or province take up the work and take the burden of furthering the cause. He stated that the death list on Prince Edward Island from this dread disease is the greatest in Canada, and that this was a greater surprise to him because he did not think there was any place where this disease could be so easily fought as here, owing to the Island not being congested and also to the fact that our people are more or less isolated.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN.—A special mission of Evangelism was opened on Sunday, Jan. 20th in the United Church, Dundas, of which Rev. D. McD. Clarke, B. A., is pastor. Rev. Hector N. Maclean, Evangelist and Miss Gladys I. MacKinnon, soloist, were most cordially received. Commencing with a bright song service every night (except Saturday) at 7:30 o'clock, meetings will continue till February 12th. All outside Sunday services are cancelled during the mission period. Sunday services are at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. All who love to hear the Gospel Message, simply told and sweetly sung are invited to take advantage of these special services. This mission although under denominational auspices is not denominational, but is meant to be a community movement for the quickening and deepening of spiritual life.
