ECHOES OF CORONATION DAY IN THE CITY AND PROVINCE

The Salute, Religious Services, Parade at the Park, Review, Singing by Children, Torchlight Procession in Evening, Military Tattoo and Fireworks.

Many anxious eyes were cast heavenward and many anxious faces were to be seen on our streets Saturday morning, as the appearance of the sky promised anything but "King's weather." However as the morning wore on it became evident that a smiling sun and clear sky would greet the processions held in honor of the coronation of His Gracious Majesty. The incoming trains from the east and west brought large crowds of people, who with those who drove in from the surrounding country thronged the streets all day long. The City officials and the citizens in general had taken great pains in decorating the city, which with its innumerable small and large flags presented a remarkably gay appearance. The merchants used every means at their disposal in making their shop windows both showy and patriotic. The whole city presented a holiday appearance. Conspicuous among those who came to do honor to the great occasion was Chief Mitchell in the regalia of his office.

At 7:30 o'clock the booming of cannon at Fort Edward announced the coronation of the King, who it was learned had borne the ceremony well and experienced little fatigue. Divine Services were held in St. Peter's Cathedral at 7 o'clock and in the First Methodist church at 2 o'clock. Both services were well attended and prayers were offered for the speedy recovery of our King to his usual health. In the Methodist church Prof. Watts and his orchestra supplied music; and Rev. T. F. Fuleit in delivered a masterly oration on the position which our nation holds in relation to the other powers of the world and of two great crises through which we have just passed, the war in South Africa and the serious illness of our Sovereign. He closed his discourse with the prayer that goes up from all the British people to-day: "Long Live His Majesty King Edward VII."

THE PARADE.

At 2:30 the school children formed in battalions on their respective grounds, and after presentation of flags and medals they marched to the City Hall and thence to the Park. At three o'clock the procession moved off from the Market Square in the following order:

- Mounted Infantry, Capt. J. A. McDonald commanding.
- 4th Reg. Canadian Artillery and Band.
- Lieut. Col. J. A. Longworth in command.
- Charlottetown Engineers, Major W. A. Weeks commanding.
- 82nd Reg. and Band under command of Lieut. Col. D. Stewart.
- Army Medical Corps, Lieut. McLaughlin commanding.
- Worth's Band.
- Sons of England.
- League of the Cross Band.
- Ancient Order Hibernians.
- St. Paul's Brigade, Capt. S. Grey commanding.
- Highland Brigade and Caledonia Club.

DR. FLETCHER'S ADDRESS IN Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Fletcher prefaced his address by a brief reference to the need of knowledge that will fit the boys and girls for living, the importance of training not one or two but all the faculties of the mind.

He explained that his work is to keep his fellow-laborers informed as to the very best methods for keeping weeds and insect pests in check which destroy at least one tenth of our crops after all our work is done. He spoke of the vast change in the treatment of trees and shrubs since spraying was first introduced only seventeen years ago. Our orchards, pastures and grass fields as well as grain fields, he said, show plainly that much can be done by controlling weeds, many of which are excellent in their place. Samples of barnyard grass and yarrow which are a nuisance if left amongst crops. While the former is largely grown as Japanese Millet on account of the excellent succulent growth

Benevolent Irish Society.

The parade about the city was orderly and well conducted, the streets being lined with spectators. At the Park a hollow square was formed and the Coronation Ode, The Maple Leaf, the Coronation Hymn and The National Anthem were sung with the accompaniment of massed bands. After the military manoeuvres, and march past the review line, three lusty cheers were given for the King. After which the troops were marched off the grounds, and the citizens wended their way back to the city.

The evening's celebrations. If the streets of Charlottetown were crowded during the day what shall be said of the throngs who turned out at night to view the torchlight procession of firemen, union laborers and bands, which were well carried out. After their parade through the city the Military Tattoo took place, a description of which was given in Guardian readers a few days ago. Solos choruses and other parts of the program were carried out as indicated in the announcement. The Market Building, City Building, Parliament Building, Banks, Hotels, Schools and many private residences were brilliantly illuminated. Rows of colored lights were strung across Water Street from the Railway Station and a grand display of fire works was given from the top of the station. So ended one of the most eventful days in the history of our Empire.

God Save the King.

IN ALBERTON.

The Coronation Celebrations at Alberton on Saturday night was a successful affair. By dark business was suspended, the whole town turned out, and people gathered in from the country to join the celebration. Many private residences were artistically illuminated, a bon-fire lighted the town the whole evening, and from the roof of H. B. Rogers' store a magnificent display of fire works was disposed off.

At the Seaside Hotel Ristic.—A most enjoyable time was spent at the Seaside Saturday when the Coronation was royally celebrated by the guests at that place. Fire works, bon-fires and speeches by Premier Peters and others passed away the evening, which was closed by a dance and supper in the host's best style.

Charlottetown doubtless has several citizens who remember the coronation of our late Queen Victoria, but to Mr. James Barrett belongs the honor of having assisted in the manufacture of the fire-works used in the celebration here. The late Watson Duchemin, with whom Mr. Barrett was employed as a lad, had the contract to supply and the latter gentleman has a vivid recollection of the many tedious hours spent in the manufacture of the various articles for the effective pyrotechnic display.

It makes, the latter is grown throughout Europe as Sheep Parsley.

Nature Study will teach boys and girls who their friends and enemies are as well as how to meet them and use both to their own advantage. Weeds take larger quantities of water and soil-fertility than men think. There are certain general principles that everyone should know; specialists are necessary and are ready to serve the farmers, but let the boys and girls have a chance to learn the general principles.

C. C. Gardiner asked why timothy is so little grown in England though so largely here?

Dr. Fletcher replied that the plant is grown in England under other names. They grow a great many grasses there, some of which are not suited to our climate.

Judge Fitzgerald in a brief appreciative address moved a hearty vote of thanks which was seconded by Mr. Howard and carried unanimously. Then after brief remarks by the chairman and responses the meeting adjourned.
