INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly.

Sufferers from Eye strain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.

The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eye-strain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body and produce ill health.

Canadian History Of World War Wanted

(Canadian Press) SAIJI JOHN, N. B., June 13.—Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, Premier of New Brunswick, during the course of his address of welcome to the delegates attending the second annual dominion convention of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, this morning, made a strong and eloquent plea for a Canadian history of the world war for use as a text book in the public schools.

Such a book, he said, should contain something more vital than mere dates and not be merely a record of achievements, but instead "a record of the soul that made them possible."

Such a work would inspire the children of the land with the sacrifices that were made for them.

President Addresses Canadian Legion

(Canadian Press.) ST. JOHN, N. B., June 13.—Sir Percy Lake, K. C. B., K. C. M. G., of Victoria, delivered the presidential address to the delegates of the Dominion Convention of the Canadian Legion, B. E. S. L., here this afternoon. He dealt with immigration and colonization and declared them to be the most important matters pertaining to the welfare of the ex-service men at the present time.

Sir Percy referred feelingly to the death of the Legion's revered leader, Field Marshal Earl Haig and the loss sustained by the Empire in his passing.

"We believe in loyalty to king, country and Empire and this loyalty entails on us the recognition that we have duties to perform, as well as our rights to safeguard. We are bound to stand up for honor and right, patriotism and public service—to work for a national and united spirit and for the good government of our country," said the Dominion president.

The services in the United congregation on Sunday were conducted by Rev. Mr. Kaye, of New Brunswick, who on the first of July takes up the pastorate work in the Hanover field. Mr. Kaye has already made many friends, and all are delighted to know that he continues the work here for the month of June.

Hon. Mr. DANDURAND: In order to indicate the nature of that work, it occurred to me that if there were any possibility, under the rules or the constitution of the Senate of transferring the inquiry, the taking of evidence, and the report, to some of the courts of those three provinces that have no regular divorce courts, we would thus place the labor where it belongs—in the hands of properly constituted tribunals.

Hon. W. B. ROSS: That would give you a divorce court.

"Why Not A Springier Tire Cord?" They Said

AND THEY STARTED ONE OF THE EPIC ADVENTURES OF THE TIRE INDUSTRY

FOR weeks test car after test car swirled up to the door of the Goodyear laboratories to leave its tires for examination. An eager group of engineers watched each tire for confirmation of a new idea which had been developing in their minds. And in hundreds of tires they found it.

"Goodyear treads are too good," they reported. "The Goodyear carcass is better than ever. But the Goodyear tread is far outwearing it. Build a carcass as good as the tread and you will add several thousand miles to the life of Goodyear Tires."

In that report lies the genesis of SUPERTWIST Cords.

The story of SUPERTWIST reads like an Odyssey of industry. Goodyear scientists started with only the need for a better tire carcass. And their search led them along strange by-ways of science.

Months of experiment found the answer in tire cords of greater elasticity—tire cords which would "give" more to blows of the road—stretch instead of breaking—recover like rubber ropes after stretching.

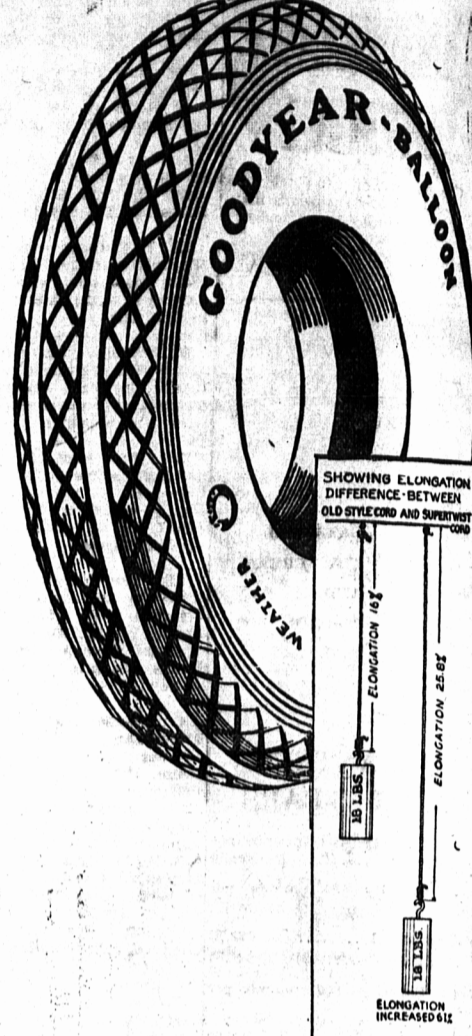

But there was no such cord on the market.

Goodyear scientists studied cord-making. Finally they produced a cord with 61% more stretch than old-style cords—SUPERTWIST Cord.

Then to protect the quality of this new cord, Goodyear bought cord mills—and today Goodyear makes SUPERTWIST Cords in its own mill at St. Hyacinthe, Que.

All this that you may enjoy the greater mileage which SUPERTWIST Cords give to Goodyear Tires. Study the chart here which shows how much greater is the stretch of SUPERTWIST. All Goodyear Tires are made with SUPERTWIST Cords. Only Goodyear Tires are made with SUPERTWIST Cords.

Mr. Albert Hynes, Blaksmith, St. Peter's, was a visitor to Fortune Wednesday evening.

We regret to report the death of the late D. H. McDonald, of Bear River, who passed away at his home in Bear River South last week.

We note with pleasure by the Guardian that Mr. Emmet Donohue, Souris, West, has received a First Class Teacher's License.

We extend congratulations to Misses Helen Mooney, Helen McLean and Francis Deagle, of Souris, successful students at P. W. C.

Mr. Archibald McKenzie, Fortune, left Wednesday morning for the "Beech Grove Inn," where he is engaged as night-watchman for the summer.

We regret to learn through the columns of the Guardian, of the death of Mr. Jack Cameron, son of the late F. Morrison, tailor of that town. Mr. Morrison had reached the advanced age of four-score years and ten, and until the last enjoyed the best of health, retaining his mental faculties to the end. A short time previous to his death, he was engaged in his shop at his tailoring business as usual. In his passing an old landmark has been removed from Geo'town.

The holiday passed very quietly in Eastern Kings. The weather being rather disagreeable, few picnics were held. A few sportsmen ventured to engage in the pastime of enticing the wily trout, but we did not hear of any very large catches.

We are glad to hear that Mr. Cornelius Sapphy, teacher of Red Point, who was seriously ill, is now on the road to recovery. B.

BUTTONS AND SNAPS

When sewing on buttons, place a pin between the button and the cloth. This will hold the button up from the cloth. When the button is sewed firmly enough, remove the pin and wind the thread a few times around the loose stitches between the cloth and the button. This will make a pillar for the button and it will be easier to button the garment, and the button will not tear the cloth. In sewing on snaps, use the buttonhole stitch and the job will be more firm and the stitches less likely to come out.
