

Lift Corns Out With Fingers Don't Hurt a Bit—Magic!

Few drops stop soreness, then the corn or callus lifts off. No humbug!

This tiny bottle holds the wonder of wonders. It contains an almost magical drug called freezeone. It is a compound made from ether.

Apply a few drops of this freezeone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you just lift it off with the fingers. It doesn't hurt one particle. You feel no pain when applying freezeone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin.

Just ask in any drug store for a small bottle of freezeone. This will cost but a few cents but will positively rid your poor, suffering feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, or calluses on bottom of feet. Just think! Corns fall off!

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's today.

WEDDING BELLS.—The home of Mr. William Graham, Gasperaux, Lot 61, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on the evening of Wednesday, July 21st, when his only daughter, Isabel, became the bride of Mr. Sanford Cameron Reid, of Murray Harbor North. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Archibald Sutherland in the presence of a large number of invited friends and neighbours. The bride was very prettily attired in a gown of blue silk with white satin trimmings, and wore a conventional veil which was very gracefully draped and caught up with orange blossoms, while a beautiful bridal bouquet of various flowers added to the general beauty. She was attended by Miss Esther Reid, sister of the groom; while the groom was ably supported by Mr. Harry Graham, only brother of the bride. As the happy couple with their attendants took their respective positions before the officiating clergyman, the wedding march from Lohengrin was beautifully rendered by Miss Jessie MacLean of Peters' Road. Following the ceremony and most hearty congratulations from all present, a bountiful supper was partaken of. During the evening the guests were treated to fruit of various kinds, while cigars were freely distributed among the gentlemen who could find a bit of added pleasure there. The bride was the recipient of a large number of presents, including several substantial sums of money, giving evidence of the popularity which both bride and groom have enjoyed in their communities. About the beginning of the new day, the friends took their departure to their respective homes after renewing the assurances of good wishes for the newly made husband and wife.

WEDDING BELLS.—A Boston newspaper has an account of a wedding of interest to many here—that of Mr. George M. Dimond and Miss Helen Elizabeth Cavanaugh, both of Bedford, a Boston suburban town, who were married on the evening of August 14, by the Rev. Monseigneur Edward P. Hurley, rector of St. Michael's parish, Bedford. The attendants were Mr. David Cavanagh, of Malden, Mass., a brother of the bride, and Miss Mary Redmond, Charlottetown. A wedding supper followed at Young's Hotel in Boston, and the bridal party left on a trip to New York City and Berkshire Hills resorts. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Annie Cavanagh of Colville Road, New Haven, and Mr. Dimond is of the editorial staff of the Boston Globe and chairman of the water commissioners of Bedford.

There passed peacefully away at his home in Emyvale on July 20th, an old and respected citizen in the person of Mr. Patrick Woods. Deceased who was in his 78th year enjoyed his usual good health until about a week before his death, when he was stricken with peritonitis. All that medical aid could do was of no avail, and on Saturday morning, strengthened by the last sacraments of the Catholic Church his spirit took its flight to God.

His funeral, which was a very large one, took place on Sunday afternoon at St. Ann's Church, Lot 65, where the services were performed by Rev. Dr. Curran, after which the mortal remains were laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery.

He leaves to mourn, besides a sorrowing widow, seven daughters and two sons.

May his soul rest in peace.

Can You Solve This Great War Puzzle?

WHO WANTS ME?

Four Things That Will Win The War

WHAT ARE THEY?

The 16 Circles above can be made to spell out the names of the four chief things that are going to win the war. Our bright loyal Canadian boys and girls can help provide at least one of these things. Every boy and girl should know all of them. Can you tell what words the four magic circles represent?

How to solve it.—Each circle represents a letter of the word called for. The number of dots in the circle represents the position of that letter in the alphabet. For instance: "A" would be represented by a circle with one dot because it is the first letter of the alphabet. "B" would be represented by a circle with two dots because it is the second letter. "C" would be represented by three dots, "D" by four dots and so on. You must correctly count the dots in each circle, figure out the letter represented by its position in the alphabet and when you have them all figured out put them into proper rotation to spell the name wanted. It's not an easy puzzle but if you can solve it correctly you may win this lovely shetland pony or one of the grand cash prizes above.

death. He enlisted in November, 1915, in the 105th at Charlottetown. He went overseas in June, 1916, and was held in reserve in England for some time, and went into action in France two months and a half before his death. The announcement of his death brought sorrow not only to his parents and relatives but also to a wide circle of friends, who knew and loved him. He was a favorite with all the people and his genial and friendly disposition endeared him to all. He went into the struggle after careful thought and coming to the conclusion that his duty led him that way. Besides his parents there are three sisters and one brother, who mourn their loss. The sisters are: Mrs. D. I. Stewart, of Montague, Mrs. E. F. Robertson, Boston, Mass., and Mrs. W. W. Crosby, Cornwall. The brother resides in Laucaster, Ohio. Much sympathy is felt for the family so greatly bereaved; this being the second son who has been killed in the war.

At the evening service in Cornwall Church on August 4th, Remembrance Day, Rev. J. Heaney preached to a large congregation, which taxed the capacity of the church, on the ideas involved in the name "Remembrance Day" and dedicated the service to the memory of Private E. C. White.
