ISLANDER WOUNDED.—In the casualty list issued at Ottawa last night the name of Harry Riley, Sea Cow Pond, Lot 1, P.E. Island, appears seriously wounded. Private Riley belonged to the 9th Battalion.

GAZETTED.—The last issue of the Canada Gazette contains the following:—36th Prince Edward Island Light Horse.—To be provisional Lieutenant (superannuated); Benjamin Rogers, gentleman, 17th September 1915.

IMPEROVAL COMING.—Harbour Master Ryan received a wire from Sarnia, Ont., from Capt. White to say the steamer Imperoval, due in Charlottetown on the 25th of this month.

PARTRIDGES SCARCE.—“Last winter and spring were among the worst on record for partridge,” says a Montreal exchange. “Night rains bearing to frost developed hard crusts on the snow, smothering adult birds and the very wet spring played havoc with the chicks. Experts say it will take at least four years for the birds to multiply to their numbers of a year ago. For the sake of future sport in the Canadian woods, the Government should declare a long term close season for partridge.” Exactly the same conditions have prevailed here with the same results, scarcity of partridges, with this difference, that if the game protection laws now in force here are rigidly enforced there will, perhaps, be little need of a longer close season than the present one, namely, every alternate year.

WEDDING BELLS.—The marriage of Miss Mary Essery, of this city, to Dr. M. P. Harrington, of Bridgewater, N.S., was solemnized in the First Methodist Church yesterday morning, by the pastor, Rev. R. G. Fulton, in the presence of a large number of friends. The church was very tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and other flowers by the members of the Willing Circle King's Daughters, of which the bride was a member. The couple were unattended, the bride being given away by Mr. John McLaughlin, who substituted in place of her brother, who was obliged to leave by the Minto the previous day en route to Russia. The bride was becomingly attired in a suit of Belgian blue, trimmed with beaver fur, and wore a black velvet hat, also trimmed with beaver. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white and pink flowers, the recipient of many valuable gifts from her many friends here, including a reading lamp and address from the Rebekahs, with which society she had for some years been a very active and valued member. The happy couple left en route for Bridgewater, N.S., where they will make their home. The Guardian joins with a host of friends in heartiest congratulations.

WEDDING BELLS.—A very happy and pretty wedding took place yesterday evening at the Central Christian Parsonage when Miss Marvel Pearl Turner and Mr. Richard Oakes, both of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. R. W. Bennett, D. D. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives who heartily congratulated the charming young couple. Miss Sadie Reed, of Freetown, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Fred Monaghan, City, acted as best man. Mr. Harry McLeod City gave an excellent rendition of the wedding march as the happy couple entered the drawing room. Mr. and Mrs. Oakes were the recipients of many useful and costly presents, showing the high esteem in which they are held in this city. They will make their home in the city and the “Guardian” extends best wishes for their future.

MR. GEORGE UNDERHAY.
At Theford, Ontario, on Monday the first of November inst., Mr. George Underhay in the 34th year of his age, Mr. Underhay emigrated to Canada from Devonshire, England, nearly seventy years ago, and for some time conducted a successful Milling business. Just before the conclusion of the Crimean War he made a shipment of flour to Crimea which arrived after the war was over, on which he lost ten thousand dollars, but gained an inheritance inconvertible. Shortly after coming to Canada he advertised in the “Globe” for information of his uncle William Underhay who came to Canada about the year 1817, but got no trace of him until about four years ago a Doctor from Prince Edward Island was attending a married daughter of his in Nelson British Columbia, and noticing her marriage certificate hanging on the bedroom wall told her he knew a family of that name in Prince Edward Island. She obtained from him the address and sent it to her father in Theford and thus after a lapse of over sixty years the descendants of the long sought for uncle were discovered. Mr. Underhay leaves two daughters and several sons all comfortably settled in Canada, and a widow his third wife, whose devotion to and care of her aged husband has secured for her the respect and esteem of her step-children, as well as the community in which they lived.

STUCK.
In these days the London post office has to be very particular about regulations concerning stamps on parcels going to the army in Flanders. The other day a puzzled consignor of a parcel looked at the regulations, and asked “Govnor, have I got to stick them stamps on myself?” The official answer was, “You can if you like. Most people stick them on the parcel.”—Weekly Scotsman.

FUR TRIMMED SUITS LEAD THIS WINTER
Whether or not one possesses a “set” of furs, a fur-trimmed suit one must have this winter. Fashion is fairly mad over fur trimmings, and they are added wherever it is impossible to sew a bit of fur bordering to fabric. Every sort of fur, except perhaps those which are too shaggy to be graceful, used in this way, will be pressed into service. No sort will come amiss, and it is the time of lines to get out discarded muffins and lippets from their camphor wrappings and put them to good service in the interest of winter costumes. No scrap of fur will be too small to be usable. Long strips, cut from the best of the fur, will go on tunics and coat edges, and they straps, sewed in strips, will make modish trimmings for collars, sleeves and revers. The dark furs are favored particularly by fashion; sable, seal and skunk in special demand for border trimmings; and beaver—that beautiful tan-colored pelts—is having a vogue all its own. Lynx is used on tailored suits of dark green or black cloth. The collar of the smartest models now comes up high about the throat and fastens around at one side. Milady's collar holds her chin up, and straightens one's chin up means shoulders straightened with costly fur. The elegant and martial carriage is likely to replace the long-agoed slouching lines. All the important openings are showing fur-trimmed creations, some for the house, some for the street, and invariably, one remarks upon the “distinction” of these costumes. No costume is handsomer than the fur-trimmed one. Even a cheap little blue serge suit, garnished at neck and wrists with black fox, takes on a smartness and style which the same suit, minus the peltry, could never give to a similar one when expensive fabric is trimmed with costly fur. The result is beyond question charming. Broadcloth is a favored material for trimming with fur. The corded materials or worsted rep looks well with fur collar and cuffs; and, of course velvet, fur-trimmed, is in a class by itself as a winter combination of elegance and distinction. These fur-trimmed suits aim at quiet richness rather than at any eccentricity or sensa-tionalism of line.

Can the steel bonds of HERITAGE be broken. Can one escape from the tainted blood of his fathers? Can one break away from the traditions of ancestry? Must the sins of the fathers be visited upon the children? Can one rise to the heights of position, wealth, fame, honor and achievement after spending childhood days in the very depths of the slums? Do the peculiarities of the parents remain forever in the lives of the children? All these questions are answered in that magnificent photoplay production, “HERITAGE” with Ella Hall, Robert Leonard, Alan Forrest and an unusually brilliant supporting cast of actors of the silent drama. Four reels of truly entrancing, gripping charming photoplay.

SHARP PRACTICE
One night in a country village barber's shop a knight of the lather and brush was performing the operation of shaving a customer with a very dull razor. “Stop,” said the customer, “that won't do.” “What's the matter, boss?” “The razor pulls.” “Well no matter for that, sir. If the handle of the razor don't break the beard's bound to come off.”—Scottish American.

MORE EFFECTIVE.
There had been a most unseemly “scrape in the nursery.” Harold had broken little Ethel's doll, and nothing would appease her. The maid of all work had unsuccessfully endeavored to persuade Ethel that it was proper to forgive Harold as he was now sorry, but all to no purpose.
At length the maid enlisted the services of mother.
“Now Ethel, said Mother, when she had been acquainted with the situation, you must forgive Harold.” He says he is extremely sorry and you must give him a big kiss.
“I'd feel more like kissing him if I could kick him hard first!” returned

Miller Bros Pianos

The Heintzman & Co.

—A Piano for the Fastidious

The makers of the Heintzman & Co., Piano are not in business to produce merely a good or a VERY GOOD instrument; they manufacture beyond question the BEST PIANO that has ever been offered the public, and the whole resources of their institution are bent toward maintaining their SPLENDID STANDARD and IMPROVING IT, be it ever so slightly, from time to time. The Heintzman & Co. Piano is not an instrument that is produced at a given price to place upon the market; the expense of its manufacture is a matter of but minor consideration, and the ruling idea has been to make the best piano that skill and genius can put together irrespective of cost. The Heintzman is beyond ordinary commercial usages, and is far beyond the ordinary best piano quality.

The exquisite quality of tone in the Heintzman Piano is a matter of marvel. Every other manufacturer acknowledges its unrivalled beauty and very many have spent time and money in the attempt to duplicate it.

Nevertheless, the Heintzman tone remains today a thing apart in Piano tone; there is no other piano like the Heintzman, and we think, no other can satisfy the fastidious purchaser—who can afford to have one.

We are sole handlers of Heintzman & Co., Pianos in Prince Edward Island. It will give us pleasure to have you examine our stock.

WHAT CANADA PAYS!

SOLDIERS PAY AND ALLOWANCES, CONDITIONS OF ENLISTMENT PROVISION FOR WIVES, MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Canada is determined that her sons shall be as well paid and their families as well cared for, as a grateful and wealthy country can afford. The scale of pay for Overseas Service, the allowances from the Patriotic Fund, and the Pensions, are on a more liberal basis than those of any other country engaged in the war.

SCALE OF PAY

RANK	Pay per day	Field Separation Allowance
		per day	per month
Sergeants.....	$1.95	$0.15	$25.00
Corporals.....	1.10	.10	20.00
Privates, Buglers, Drummers etc.....	1.00	.10	20.00

The men are, of course, fed and clothed by the Government. The Separation Allowance is the sum paid by the Government to the wife of each enlisted man, or to the widowed mother if the son is unmarried and is her sole support. This is in addition to part of his pay which is reserved for her. One-half of a soldier's pay is withheld by the Government and paid to his dependents. This ensures that at least $35.00 per month is paid by the Government to the wife of each soldier.

THE PATROTIC FUND

The Patriotic Fund has been created to assist those dependents of a soldier who need more help than the Government gives. From this Fund the following sums are paid if the need exists:—

Wives.....	From $5.00 to $10.00 per month
Children of widowers.....	} $1.50 to $6.00 each per month
Mothers of unmarried men.....
Children of married men according to age and number in family.....

Ladies representing the Patriotic Fund pay regular visits to families of men on Overseas Service, and give friendly advice and practical help in case of need. Many employers have pledged themselves to give preference to returned soldiers when engaging men.

PENSIONS

The Canadian scale of pensions range for private soldier, from $75.00 per year for certain minor injuries to $264.00 for total disability. In case of death $22.00 a month is paid to the widow, and $5.00 a month for each child. A widowed mother whose son was her whole support receives $22.00 a month.

CONDITIONS OF ENLISTMENT

Age—18 to 45 years. Height—5 feet 2 inches minimum
