J. J. Johnston, barrister in this city, had the misfortune to strain his arm yesterday morning. He was getting off of a boat at Fort Augustus and when he jumped to the wharf he fell and strained his arm. Mr. Johnston will be out again in a few days.

There was a large number of the electors in the vicinity of Hartney Hall gathered Monday night to hear the public questions of the day discussed. Robert Jenkins acted as chairman. The following gentlemen spoke Norman Campbell, Edgar Shaw, Dr. Kelly, H. J. Palmer and Dr. Dewar. The meeting was orderly and the speakers received the best of attention.

The death occurred at High River, Alberta, on Sunday, 11th October, of Mrs. Henry Mutch, beloved wife of Captain Henry Mutch, of this City. Mrs. Mutch (nee Agnes Cairns) was a daughter of the late John Cairns, formerly in the canning business in this City, who died a few years since. Mrs. Mutch has been living with her daughter, Mrs. Mae Dawson, for the past few years at High River, and was an invalid up to the time of her death. Her husband, Henry Mutch, and daughter survive. A large funeral from the church, where service was held, attested the respect and esteem in which the late Mrs. Mutch was held in the new home of her adoption.

A painful accident occurred Monday evening while Mrs. and Miss Fraser of Kingston were returning from the Baptist Church concert. The evening was very dark and the little girl who had her mother's hand, had let go of it and went to cross the road, when the shaft of a buggy struck the little one, knocking her down and passing over her.

The concert and lecture in aid of the Kingston Baptist Church, which was held on Monday evening was most successful. Harold Jenkins of this City gave his interesting lecture on the older times, assisted by Mr. Archibald of the Y. M. C. A., whose lantern views were greatly appreciated, as was also the lightning sketches by J. A. S. Bayer. Parker Hoop, er's charming voice was heard to great advantage and the hall was crowded to the doors.

A prominent man of this city gives his impressions of the doings in the country after a several days visit. He reports the people most contented, having had a most prosperous year. The crops have been the best all round for years, and farmers have it nearly all garnered. He overheard two election canvassers canvassing a gentleman, and when asked to work for them to the last, he said how could he work, he had no tools. He thought this was due to the Moral and Social Reform League. He reports the people very quiet and none of the old time election enthusiasm stirs their breast. He gives the League credit for all of this and says the whole cause is because there is no outward pressure to urge them on such as two dollar bills or a bottle of whiskey, etc.

There are as many kinds of fur-lined coats as there are of coat makers. Nearly all of them possess a good deal of merit. Nearly all are made of pretty good material--and well lined with excellent fur--But not all--not even many add to other merits that perfection of style that every woman wants. Well--after much searching, we found out a maker whose coats have every excellence including perfect grace and faultless style. And the cost is no more than for ordinary garments. Let us show you the new ones at $58.00 $65.00 $76.00 $85.00 $110.00 and $120.00.
