—THE KENSINGTON RINK.—The open air rink is patronized by large crowds nightly. The cold weather has no terror for the skaters. Electric lights, have been installed in the rink which will be more convenient than the large air pressure lights. A large crowd attended the carnival on Monday night. The costumes were artistic. James Ingles is manager of the rink.—K.

—REGAL SHOES for men, bought last April and due to be shipped in this Fall but owing to congestion of orders could not be handled in the Canadian Factory. Our order was passed over to the Whelan factory in the United States and shipped direct from here (duty refunded). First shipment now in, another now on the way, prices will surprise you. See them. SINCLAIR & STEWART, LIMITED.

—WOMAN'S INSTITUTE.—The plans laid down by the Woman's Institute of Mount Carmel, towards the betterment of the schools of the parish, have come to maturity a fact which can readily be ascertained by noting the new set of seats in the intermediate department of Mount Carmel school, under the supervision of Miss Josephine Gallant. Miss Gallant is likewise secretary of this branch of the institute. The seats cost about $150.00 which, in so short a time in the life history of Mount Carmel branch of the institute which is only in its infancy, shows that untiring efforts have been made by the good ladies of the parish. The rate payers of the district must of necessity appreciate the valuable help received from this source. Vote for Women (Institute).—R.

—JOINS THE COLORS.—Private John M. Mulligan of the 5th Siege Battery at present stationed in Charlottetown, spent Thursday last, visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Harrington, Summerside, proceeding by the afternoon train to Cape Traverse to spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mulligan, before proceeding overseas. Private Mulligan is the only child of his parents, listening to the empire's call for more men could not resist the call to do his bit for Canada and the Empire. Being an only child it was a hard blow for his parents to see him go, but they too, although the parting cost them pain, saw that it was their duty to make the sacrifice and add one more fighting man to that great fighting machine. The British Army—'Johnnie' as he is usually called was always a favorite with his friends and associates, who one and all wish him God speed, and a safe return when peace once again reigns supreme in the land, and trusts that his record on the battlefield, may be one that will rebound to the credit of his native Province, like so many of the noble boys who have already done their bit for King and country.

—RECRUITING MEETING.—A recruiting meeting took place in Mount Carmel hall on Jan. 25th. On the stage were presented the following speakers, Rev. P. P. Arsenault, Rev. Father Boudreau, Rev. Father Galthier, Hon. Sir Charles Dalton, Hon. Aubin Arsenault, besides members of families who have relatives enlisted in the 105th Battalion and others. Rev. P. P. Arsenault after opening the meeting in appropriate terms explained the object in view remarking that although his parish had already done admirably in the number of those enlisted as well as in other contributions much more was expected and therefore hoped that recruits would be available and in a few brief words said that our duty is to fight for church and country. The first speaker was Rev. Father Boudreau. In well weighed expressions the Rev. Pastor told that the call for men is urgent and that no less imperative is our duty to contribute financially to wards alleviating the miseries of mankind and that just as a child should help its mother, we also should help our mother country in order to crush our common enemy 'Germany' who is actually getting exhausted and who must necessarily be brought to her knees. Rev. Father Boudreau appealed to the parents not to interfere when their sons show a desire to make the sacrifice for home and country and remarked that a soldier's death is the death of a martyr. The next to speak was Hon. Sir Charles Dalton. This Hon. gentleman who has done so much in contributing financially to the Empire, the next to speak, Sir Charles enumerated the different sources of wealth in Canada and the vast territory yet unexplored and rich in minerals and forest areas together with its beautiful scenery and genial climate. All this he stated the Germans are yearning for and is well worth their efforts. The Hon. gentleman said that if the Germans are so anxious for this country of ours why should it not be a prize worth contending for on the part of the Canadians. Canada has already done much more is needed. Hon. Aubin Arsenault was the next to address the audience. In choice words Mr. Arsenault made a vivid picture of the situation and claimed that we should rush to arms with as much courage and sense of duty as if our homes were attacked separately. For by saving the empire we are protecting our homes and families. The Hon. gentleman stated that we are not cozy in the terms war or rather that we in Canada do not realize the great calamity that this war will bring to us if not carried to a successful issue and stated that the victory must be in Europe for it will be torture if we are attacked in our homes. He next called on the young men to enlist for trench warfare or in the navy, although the sacrifice is the greatest ever made. Rev. P. C. Gauthier with well known eloquence and transitions of ideas made a vivid picture of the war in all its nebulous atmosphere and in appropriate words spoke on love of country and religion. The Rev. speaker urged in helping the empire especially when it is mentioned for Patriotic Fund. It lengthily remarks he compared the sacrifices made at home and those made in the trenches and considered the latter the most supreme of all sacrifices. While those who are at the front are up and doing, we, at home must be up and giving in a measure that will be at the same time liberal according to our means. Two recruits were named after singing the National Anthem the audience scattered.—R.

Address and Presentation

On the evening of January 25th Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Prowse, of Marshfield, were surprised by a large number of the residents of Marshfield and surrounding districts calling upon them and presenting them with the following address accompanied by a useful present to each:—
To Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Prowse, Marshfield, P. E. I. and
Dear Sir and Madam—It is with feelings of surprise and genuine regret, that we learn of your intended departure from our midst, and we cannot let this opportunity pass without in some feeble way expressing to you our appreciation of the many acts of kindness and generosity, which you have showered upon us during your stay in this part.
To try to enumerate the many ways in which you have made yourselves agreeable, would be an exhaustive task and indeed, we hope the evening, furnishes indisputable proof of the high esteem in which you have always been held, and there is certainly not one present tonight, who has not on many occasions, been cheered and refreshed, by your pleasant smiles, and your good sense of humor.
Those of us who live near you can truly testify to your untiring energy, and timely help in the hours of greatest need, and we have come to look upon you as a never failing friend and neighbor. Your home has always been open to us, wherein we have always been made to feel at home; and of you it can be truly said that, "the better one knows the more one loves;" and in years to come, the memories of the good times we have spent with you, will serve to strengthen our faith in humanity, and prove to us the value of true friends.
In public life you have always been in the forefront, nothing seemed too difficult for you to undertake, that had for its object the betterment of the district, nothing seemed too unpleasant for you to do that meant pleasure to someone else; and at no time were you absent, while a good work was in progress.
In presenting to you these gifts, we do not do so assuming that they in any way repay you for the services you have rendered, but would ask you to accept them, as a slight expression of the feelings we have toward you, and you may rest assured that whatever the future may have in store, the time we have spent together will not soon be forgotten.
Signed on behalf of the residents of Marshfield and vicinity:—
WM. J. GIBSON,
EDGAR R. HEARTZ,
WM. GODFREY,
CHAS. H. ROBERTSON,
J. T. FERGUSON,
W. W. OWEN.
Marshfield, P. E. I.,
January 25, 1917.

Mr. Prowse, although taken by surprise, very heartily thanked those present, for their thoughtfulness, and good wishes, and told of his regret at leaving Marshfield.
Supper being served, the balance of the evening was spent in games, music and dancing, which was participated in by both old and young to their hearts' content.
In the early hours of the morning the company dispersed cherishing memories of a night pleasantly spent.
