STUDENTS RETURN—The following Prince of Wales College students have returned to their homes at Montague: Sybil Reynolds, Edna Fraser, Marjorie Hyndman, Etta McLean, Percy Macdonald, Bertram Stewart, Floyd McKinnon, Vernon McLean. Several of these students plan on taking the Teachers Training course this summer. H.

GOOD TROUT SEASON AT MONTAGUE—Sniff! Sniff! Um-m-m. "Gee, that smells good!" This exclamation has been heard quite often at Montague during these last weeks. A frying pan of specked trout sizzling on the stove is enough to make anyone stop, sniff and suddenly grow very hungry. Trout fishing is exceptionally good this season. Every day one may see some ardent lover of this exhilarating sport returning home after fishing along the banks of the picturesque Montague River or one of its many tranquil streams with a tempting catch of beautiful sea or brook trout. This town boasts of several experts in the difficult art of fly casting. H.

PLAY ENJOYED—The four-act comedy drama "Let the Dragon Roar" was very successfully presented in Murray Harbor on Friday night and in Murray Harbor on Saturday night by the Young People's Society of the Montague United Church, under the capable direction of Miss Francis Coffin. Following is the cast: Tom Dexter (one of nature's noblemen), Everett Moore; Sidney Everett (of the world wide), Jack Annear; Ben Latham (a wanderer), Martin Currie; Andrew Dexter (Tom's father), Byron Sharpe; Hezekiah Hopkins (fond of an argument), Archie Hilchey; Nathan Speck (hired man), Allison McLean; Carlotta Bannister (a child of fate), Francis Coffin; Anastasia Bannister (her "stylish" aunt from Toronto), Mrs. Sydney McLean; Amelia Dexter (sister of Andrew), Olive McLeod; Mrs. Muslin (something of a talker "as you might say"), Enid Coffin; Bella Ann (help at the farm), Mrs. G. Pringle; Florine (a maid), Bert Martin. The different parts were exceptionally well played and the drama was full of clean wholesome comedy and snappy dialogue with an occasional touch of pathos. The story was unusually interesting, dealing with the life of Tom, a stalwart young farmer who is hopelessly in love with a beautiful and charming young girl (Carlotta) from the city of Toronto whose father is supposed to have died when she was very young and being an orphan she was adopted by her aunt by marriage, Anastasia Bannister, a haughty, disdainful woman of the world and society who is much opposed to having her niece associate with Tom because she has arranged for her to marry a flashy "man of the world." Mr. Everett, who holds her aunt in his power by his knowledge that Carlotta's father is living and has spent fifteen years in prison for a crime committed by his brother—Anastasia's husband—who is now dead. Carlotta hates Mr. Everett but is compelled by her aunt to promise to marry him. Her father returns in time to save her from this fate and she very happily becomes engaged to Tom. The comedy parts are funnily played by Enid Coffin, Mrs. G. Pringle, Byron Sharpe, Archie Hilchey and Allison McLean. Olive McLeod played the part of a lovable "old maid" aunt and Bert Martin that of a typical waiting maid in a fashionable city house. The play was presented to a full house at Montague last month and was pronounced by some of the town's leading critics to be the best amateur play ever presented at Montague. Specialties between the acts were supplied by Miss V. Armstrong, Mr. J. Chapman, Mr. M. Martin, Miss A. Annear and A. Hume. H.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Tremulous Egg Air Cells
It will be noted that one of the most important changes in the revised Canada egg standards is the elimination of references to tremulous air cells in eggs. Recent research has shown that tremulous air cells are not a condition of quality, and so far as is known, no proof has been brought forward to justify the assumption that there is. The change in the standards has made after careful investigation demonstrated that a tremulous outer and inner membranes and in no way associated with albumen strength as previously had been generally supposed. Although it is readily occurs that shaking or rough handling—which is the cause of tremulousness—might conceivably cause some breakdown of the structure which differentiates the thick albumen from the thin, such a theory, it is stated, should not be considered a self-evident truth. Floating air cells can be avoided almost entirely by packing eggs with the large end up.

Brilliant Career Of Is. Graduates

At the annual Convocation of the University of Manitoba, held in Winnipeg on Wednesday, May 16th, 48 students from the various departments, including Arts, Science, Law, Medicine and Pharmacy, received their degrees. The large faculty, including the affiliated colleges wearing their academic gowns and hoods presented a magnificent scene in the new large auditorium, seating some 4500 people with the following graduates: Miss Helen F. Purdie and Mr. J. Arnold Purdie, daughter and son of Rev. Mrs. J. Estace Purdie, formerly of Charlottetown. These graduates both went to the public school in Charlottetown, Miss Purdie attending Prince Street and Mr. Purdie West Kent. Miss Purdie attended the Winnipeg Normal School graduating from that institution three years ago after a year of academic work and holds a first class professional certificate. This, with her B. A. degree qualifies her to teach in the high schools of Manitoba. Last year Mr. Purdie led his class and received an Isbister Scholarship age in her work. He has been registered in St. John's Anglican College which is part of the university and during his final year has been editor of the college magazine, the Johnian. Archbishop Stringer has appointed him to a mission for the summer in the diocese of Manitoba. In the autumn he hopes to begin his theological course in Wycliffe College, Toronto, in preparation for the ministry of the Church of England. A very significant and touching feature of the Convocation was the fact that Dr. Matheson, retired Archbishop of Rupert's Land and Primate of all Canada, who has held the position of Chancellor of the university for twenty-six years, conferred degrees for the last time, and though past 82 years of age gave a very splendid address, his voice being heard well over the immense building. He is a native of Manitoba having been born in Killdonan and carries with him to this day both in spirit and intellectual spiritual ability the great heritage of Scotland. The above two graduates are niece and nephew of Mr. W. Victor Purdie of the firm of Purdie-Ferguson Shoe Co. Ltd., of Charlottetown.

EGG GRADE RESPONSIBILITY
In case of dispute about properly marked cases of graded eggs, the Canadian egg regulations are quite explicit. No case or container of eggs is considered to be properly marked if, upon examination by an inspector, the case is found to contain more than an average of 6 1-2 breakage. In transactions between wholesalers, or between a wholesaler and a retailer, any complaints of eggs below grade with respect to the purchaser with respect to eggs below grade must be made to the seller within 36 hours of the receipt of the eggs. Thus, responsibility as to eggs below grade is upon the seller for the period of 36 hours after delivery to the buyer. After the expiration of the 36 hours the responsibility as to eggs below grade is upon the person in whose possession such eggs are found.

IN MEMORIAM
RICHARD PHILIP BAGNALL

It was with feelings of deep regret that the many friends of Richard Philip Bagnall learned of his death at his home, Hunter River, April 22nd, at the advanced age of 88 years. Although in failing health from about the first of the year, Mr. Bagnall was able to be about until within a month of his death. Born on the paternal homestead at Hazelgrove in 1846 he was the eldest son of Richard and Matilda (Baker) Bagnall. Other members of the family included Joseph E. Bagnall, Dr. J. S. Bagnall, Mrs. Elizabeth, Mrs. MacMillan, Mrs. Fred Bulman, Rustico, and Mrs. Annie MacCallum, of Farmington, Minnesota, the last two being the only surviving members. Mr. Bagnall's maternal ancestor, John Baker, was one of the first Loyalists to settle in this Province. He came here from Philadelphia, where he found the feeling of the Colonials too strong against those who sided with the British. His paternal ancestor, Samuel Bagnall, of Derby Shore, England, settled in Philadelphia also, but being a Loyalist he left there and settled here in 1787. In 1813 Mr. Bagnall's grandfather, Richard H. Bagnall took up a grant of land between Summerside and Charlottetown and where, during the remainder of his life conducted a caravansary. The son, Richard Bagnall, father of Richard Philip Bagnall, continued this business and during the young manhood of Mr. Bagnall he was employed as stage driver in his father's service. Gifted with a memory of remarkable clearness and being a gifted conversationalist, Mr. Bagnall was most interesting to the younger generations as he retold his experiences as stage driver and many were the tales of historic value that he told of trials and triumphs of his Loyalist forebears. In 1871 Mr. Bagnall married Mary Schurman Haslam, of Springfield, P. E. I., and to this union were born the following children: Gertrude, Elizabeth, Alden, Hattie, William, Edna, Frank, Josephine. Mrs. Bagnall died in 1891 when her children were still very young and sorely bereaved, Mr. Bagnall was left to rear his family of little ones. In 1919 he was again called upon to mourn the loss of his daughter Harriet (Mrs. Jerow) and in 1920 and 1922 was again bereaved by the deaths of his eldest daughter Gertrude and son William, respectively. His religious affiliation was with the Church of England. A short funeral service was held at the home of his son, Frank Bagnall, conducted by Rev. Mr. Stavert and Rev. Mr. Boothroy, who had so kindly visited the deceased in his declining days. Mr. Gordon Carew sang very feelingly "The Blessed Light of Home", accompanied by Miss Mildred Garav. The funeral service was held from St. Elizabeth's

Plant Disease Survey

As an instance of the value of the prompt compilation of observations of plant diseases new to Canada, the appearance of the 13th annual report of the Canadian Plant Disease Survey may be cited. Published by the Dominion Department, the report directs the attention of all plant pathologists and everybody concerned to disease, new and old, affecting the plant-life of the Dominion. Probably the most interesting forage crop disease in the past year was down mildew of alfalfa. Prior to 1932, this disease was of little economic importance, although it had been reported on alfalfa from nearly every province of Canada, but now that details have been published, comprehensive efforts may be applied to prevent the disease becoming serious. Up to 1920, when the first report of the survey was published, there was no authoritative medium in which diseases new to Canada might be reported without undue delay. The survey covers every known plant disease in Canada, from trees to tulips and its annual report is of inestimable value both as a compendium of information and as a work of reference.
