CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

Borden and Vicinity

Travelling through Prince Edward Island at this time of year one is not surprised that the "Garden of the Gulf" was given to our fair island by the Maple Leaf now emblem. The wooded slopes now decked out in autumn tints are a thing of beauty to behold. The maples from bright yellow and brilliant orange to scarlet and dark red, with a sprinkling of yellow of birch and beech, set off by the dark green of the spruce make a blaze of gorgeous scenery never painted by human brush. Many tourists who visit here in the summer and are carried away with the charm and peacefulness of our little island would be more than delighted if they could see it now in its regalia of autumn finery.

Mr. Harry MacInnis of the P. E. Artillery Force has returned to Charlottetown having spent the week end at his home in Borden.

Miss Bernice Sharpe of Borden, is visiting in Norboro, the guest of her uncle, Mr. John B. Sharpe.

Mrs. Lida S. Fe'd who has been visiting at her old home in Norboro returned to Boston on Saturday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jenkins of Boston, who has been visiting in Charlottetown, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Janet Pickering returned home on Saturday. She was accompanied as far as Borden by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Pickering.

Mr. George MacAssey employee of the Borden Hardware Company left on Friday morning for Montreal.

The regular weekly auction card party of the Borden Women's Institute was held on Thursday last. Four tables, played, prizes going to Mrs. William White, consolation to Mr. Ressele Rodgers, consolation prizes, Mrs. A. P. Ceretti and Mr. Montague Campbell. After lunch was served playing of Mrs. Rita Bernard, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallant and Mrs. Fred MacInnis.

Mrs. Stephen Doyle and children and so have returned to their home in Borden, after spending some time in Boston, Mass.

Mr. Lorne MacAleer of the Storm Construction Company returned to Vernon River on Tuesday after spending the week end at his home here.

Mr. James Murphy employee of C. N. R. Bridge and Builders spent Sunday at his home in Borden.

Kensington And Vicinity

Mr. William LeBlanc of Moncton, N. B. was business visitor to Kensington Monday.

His many friends will regret to hear that Mr. Howard Boyles, who only a day or two ago, was able to be out again after his recent illness, has had a relapse and is once again confined to his home, under a doctor's care. All sincerely hope his sickness will not prove serious.

The sincere sympathy of his many friends is extended to Mr. Reuben Dickson on the loss of his sister, Martha, who suddenly passed away at the home of her son, Ralph, in Washington, D. C. Although the wire received by Mr. Dickson on Saturday morning gave no particulars, it was a great shock to him as Mrs. Jennings, his sister, had left here only a short five weeks ago after enjoying a two months holiday with him in Kensington.

Mrs. Charles Heustis, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Kensington entered the Prince County Hospital, Summerside on Tuesday for treatment.

Mr. Clifford Rodd of Charlottetown, was a recent visitor to Kensington.

A number of local sportsmen spent a glorious day Monday hunting the wily Hungarian Partridge, the majority of them securing from two to four birds.

A number of volunteers from this vicinity who are now stationed in Charlottetown visited their homes in Kensington and vicinity over the week-end.

Mr. James Kennedy, who recently underwent an operation in the Prince County Hospital, Summerside, has been allowed to return to his home, but is, however, still confined to his home.

Farmers in this vicinity are engaged digging their potatoes and doing their fall ploughing, the recent rains having put the land in excellent condition.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
A mere bowel movement doesn't always get rid of it. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a colonic but have no colonic or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH HAS NEW UNIT

Maritime Synod Establishes Nfld. As Separate Presbytery.

SYDNEY, Oct. 4.—(CP)—Newfoundland was established as a separate presbytery of the Presbyterian Church today by the unanimous vote of the Maritime synod, and Rev. James McNeill of St. John's was chosen first moderator of the new church body.

Previously Newfoundland and Cape Breton were linked up in one Presbytery unit of the Maritime synod. Today's action marked the establishment of a presbytery in the island "for the first time in the history of Newfoundland as a British crown colony."

Petition for the presbytery was introduced to delegates at the second day of their three-day session by Rev. H. A. Dolg of Albert Bridge N. S. Mr. McNeill joined him in appealing for the setting up of a separate unit and moved adoption of the request in the petition.

The island clergyman prophesied advancement in the cause of the Presbyterian Church in Newfoundland would follow the move. "We are living in a country where the voice of the church is heard and heeded," he said, "and I feel that if we had a unit of the church established in Newfoundland, Presbyterianism would exercise a great influence not only upon the religious life but upon the social and political life as well."

Selection of Mr. McNeill as moderator was made on a vote of the 100 delegates. He has been engaged in church work in St. John's since 1935. Boundaries of his charge were fixed as "Newfoundland and Newfoundland Labrador."

A decided honor has been conferred upon the Presbyterians of Newfoundland, the moderator-elect declared as he thanked the synod for his election. At the close of the sessions tomorrow night, he will leave home with Rev. S. C. Parler of Toronto, moderator of the general assembly of the church in Canada who will be making his first official visit to the colony.

Basis of Consideration

Lord Halifax told the House of Lords he could not state what the nature of German peace proposals, if made, would be. But whatever their nature, he said, the proposals will have to be considered with reference to three circumstances:

1. "The conditions in which they are offered;
2. "The Government by which they are put forward";
3. "The security that might be held to attach to any agreement which might conceivably be reached."

"As to conditions there is no more felonious and villainous proceeding than negotiation under threat of fear," he said. "Neither the country nor France will be moved by threats to surrender the principles for which they have entered a struggle."

"As to the Government of Germany, we have had very bitter experience of its character and methods. As to assurances for the future, we have seen these rulers of Germany repudiate successive international documents which they had signed and reverse the most fundamental principles of their policy, which they had for long years most vehemently proclaimed."

"If, therefore, in place of threats, they sought to make us with assurances, it is necessary to say that assurances from the present German Government are not enough."

"If and when we shall receive proposals, we shall certainly examine them with care and we shall measure them against the principles for which we have taken up arms."

Lord Halifax said friendly Russian-Turkish relations are not incompatible with close Anglo-French-Turkish ties.

"We certainly should always be glad to see friendly relations maintained between the two great neighbors, Russia and Turkey, which we believe need not in any way conflict with the closest relations between us and Turkey, and Turkey and France," he said.

He showed how these efforts, seconded by the attitude of Poland, encountered for several days systematic opposition and, at the last minute, a curt manoeuvre by the German Government.

The Premier recalled the courage with which the Poles defended themselves, the heroism with which Warsaw resisted for several weeks under frightful bombardments and finally the desperate situation in which the Russian intervention of Sept. 17 placed the Polish army.

He analyzed the recent German-Soviet accord and showed its possible repercussions on the situation in northeastern and southeastern Europe. He traced the course of the negotiations with Turkey and stressed the spirit of perfect friendship and loyalty which characterizes relations with the Ankara Government.

they did believe he would assert again that Britain could have peace or war as she desires that Germany would prefer peace, but is ready to continue the war.

Hitler was also expected in these circles to reassert that the new order in the east, forged by the German and Russian armies in Poland, would not be altered.

Informants said Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons yesterday contained nothing to cause Hitler to change the tenor of his Reichstag address.

Authoritative sources described the Fuehrer as feeling that Chamberlain's speech did not give a clear answer to the German-Russian declaration.

It was said that after his Reichstag speech Hitler would await foreign reaction and then consult anew with Russia and Italy.

Satisfaction was expressed in official quarters over efforts of the Panama Conference to keep the Americas neutral.

What American countries were doing was compared with what the small European nations were attempting in order to keep their trade routes open.

Each country that insists on its neutrality rights was considered here as one more threat to the efficiency of Great Britain's blockade of Germany.

The Nazis' counter-blockade against Britain according to a naval communiqué, has led to the searching of 72 vessels since Sept. 30. Some contraband was reported seized for German use.

Spain Neutral

Another reason for confidence in a quiet Mediterranean is the attitude of Spain, which one spokesman described here as "100 per cent neutral."

The new Spain, he argued, is shifting toward a complete paralysis of view with Italy, with increasingly cooler relations with Germany—a major step toward an absolutely independent Spanish policy, both from the ideological and practical point of view.

Paradoxically, however, tension is moving from the Mediterranean, once expected to be a battle zone, to the Baltic and the Scandinavian peninsula, which is crowded with small and traditionally neutral countries.

Germany has been exerting pressure on the Oslo powers to offset the effects of the allied blockade, pressure accompanied by thinly-veiled threats Russia, it is pointed out, seems to be getting ready to make demands on Finland and possibly Sweden. Several Scandinavian ships have been torpedoed and others captured by the Germans.

All these developments are creating great uneasiness in the northern capitals.

"MY! WHAT A RECOMMENDATION FOR BORDEN'S EVAPORATED MILK!"

"Everywhere I go I meet rosy-cheeked bottle-fed babies brought up on Borden's," says Elsie, the Borden Cow.

Elsie is proud, naturally, because Borden's Evaporated Milk is made from the rich milk of healthy well-fed Borden cows like herself. It is evaporated to double-strength creaminess... then irradiated for an added supply of the important "Sunshine" Vitamin D.

Because it's such good milk, Borden's Evaporated improves your cooking, makes coffee taste perfect. Always ask your grocer for Borden's.

At the same time, it was difficult for Rome merely to reject a mediatory role out of hand, these sources said, and Ciano was said to have taken a Berlin "Italian" "peace plan" which went much further than any believed acceptable to the Nazis.

The same sources added that when the Germans rejected this, it was naturally much easier for Ciano to reject the Nazi offer, alleging the impossibility of proposing a peace whose terms were sure to be turned down by London and Paris.

Senator Duff called for united action in the present crisis, declaring "this madman of Europe must be subdued. Hitler was attempting to conquer all Europe and 'had his eye on the western hemispheres.'"

"We have to see to it that Hitler and his forces do not crush the other countries and thus get stable foothold in the British Isles and Europe," he asserted.

The stand taken by the Canadian Government in declaring war upon the enemy of Christianity and civilization should be supported to the fullest, and we as Canadians have a duty to perform in this respect.

"If Britain and France should fall," he said, "this war is not going to be fought on the banks of the Rhine; it will be on the banks of the St. Lawrence."
