CHAPTER 40 THE FIRST COLLECTOR

The wedding was only a fortnight distant. Jeanne's time was filled from early morning until early the following morning of each successive day.

THE WEARY BOUND OF PLEASURE

Sometimes Jeanne, dragging herself wearily down the silent sleeping corridor from the elevator at an hour shortly before dawn, would wonder if the game were worth the candle after all.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Why Do Intelligent Men Marry Stupid Wives? Stop Fighting Husband's Craving For Pleasure, Dorothy Dix Advises Young Mother - Adolescent Crushes.

AN ADVOCATE FOR INTELLIGENT WOMEN

Answer: Nobody knows why intelligent men so often pick out stupid women for wives...

Probably the reason why this is thus is primarily a matter of sex attraction. Some pretty little moronic girl makes a physical appeal to the man...

And while he is in the throes of this passing fancy he forgets entirely to consider if there are any brains under her lovely finger wave...

And another reason why intelligence in women is at a discount with men, and why they prefer feminine brains, if any, scrambled, is because they imagine that a dull wife is easier to manage than a smart one.

Never was there a greater mistake. The more intelligent a woman is the more pleasurable she is, the easier to deal with, the more amenable she is to argument.

It is the nitwit wives who are the naggers and whiners. It is the silly little vain gossips who are the husbands with their extravagance in their heads...

But it was comforting to know that it was too late now for Barstow or his family to change their minds, though such a change would be absurd.

One night, when she came in, she dismissed her maid, and the latter had assisted her into a lounge and taken the French-heeled, brilliant-buckled slippers from her weary feet.

It was at such hours before dawn, when, too weary for sleep, her brain a discordant jangle, she would go to the window and look out across the Park where the first faint streaks of dawn appeared above the sleeping city.

She would recall the long, dark winter nights when Jane Dars, the little school teacher, had dragged down into her blankets for ten hours' blissful repose.

THE COOK'S CORNER

French Fried Onions
1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cup water
2 tablespoons oil

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add water, beat until smooth; add oil. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white.

Soak in milk to cover one hour. Drain and dry, dip in batter and fry in deep fat at 350 degrees F. until light brown. Drain on soft paper.

Cranberry Nut Pie
1 cup cranberries
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup walnuts
Pinch salt

Put into a pastry-lined pie plate, pour the water over the filling, cover with a top crust and bake in a moderately hot oven.

Time in oven, 30 minutes. Temperature, 400 degrees for 5 minutes, 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Servings 6.

Shredded cocoanut, which has become dry, can be freshened by soaking it in sweet milk a few minutes before using.

inscrutable mystery that intelligent men so often marry morons.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am 22 years old and have been married three years to a man of the same age.

Ever since the baby came my husband goes out once in a while and most of the time stays out all night. He seems to get a restless fit over so often and then we start again.

He doesn't want to be tied down with a wife and baby. He doesn't want to spend his evenings nailed to his own bedside, with nothing more exciting to do than to listen to Junior wail and his wife tell about what she said to the butcher and the butcher said to her.

He doesn't mean any harm, and there wouldn't be any harm, except that there is the wife at home who is left lonely and forlorn, and who is eating out her heart with jealousy, and there is the child that he has brought into the world and to whom he is responsible and whose future he is endangering, and there is the home that is tottering to its fall.

If you are a very wise young woman, far wiser than any one has the right to expect 22 to be, you will try to realize that it is not because your husband has ceased to love you that he wants to step out now and then with the boys, but just because he is young and youth chafes at bondage.

He doesn't mean any harm, and there wouldn't be any harm, except that there is the wife at home who is left lonely and forlorn, and who is eating out her heart with jealousy, and there is the child that he has brought into the world and to whom he is responsible and whose future he is endangering, and there is the home that is tottering to its fall.

Reichstag Fire Not Yet Settled
LEIPZIG, Dec. 17—Five tired defendants in the Reichstag arson trial listened for 10 hours today to a thundering prosecutor's summation of the case against them...

HEARING FROM AUNT EMILY
It was addressed in Aunt Emily's prim, precise handwriting.

JEANNE'S MARRIAGE
The girl bought a small stack of letters and handed them to Jeanne. She tucked a pillow deftly under the drooping shoulders, adjusted the light beside the couch, and stepped back, hesitating a moment.

JEANNE'S MARRIAGE
The girl nodded sympathetically. "Madame Forbes give a breakfast at 11."

JEANNE'S MARRIAGE
"Breakfast? Oh dear!" breathed Jeanne, but she roused herself with a sigh.

Daintiness With Chic Styles

Wouldn't you adore receiving it amongst your Christmas gifts? It's unbelievably simple to make, and the cost is surprisingly small.

This little nightie is so smartly different. Note the shoulder flares. They can be of the lace, if you please. The front of the gown has slimming bias seaming.

The jacket is just a brief little affair, edged with lace. It would be lovely just to make the jacket for a gift.

Style No. 357 includes the patterns for the nightie and the jacket. It is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 22, 24, 26 and 28 inches bust.

Price of PATTERN 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

As for divorcing him, unless you have some better cause than your mention, it would be worse than folly. You would be jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, for you would find it very hard to support yourself and the child.

Dear Miss Dix—We are two girls of 16 and have fallen deeply in love with our teacher. He is married and has two children, but it makes no difference to us. We can't do our work for thinking of him, but he doesn't notice us. We are desperate. What shall we do?

Answer: Never tell your love, but let concealment, like a worm in the bad prey on your damask cheek.
