LA GRIPPE

This distressing and unfortunately very common malady easily takes rank among the very "meanest" of the diseases to which people living in this climate are liable.

La Grippe is no respecter of persons; it attacks the young and the old, the rich and the poor with the utmost impartiality.

Except in the cases where Pneumonia develops, La Grippe is seldom directly fatal; the real danger lies in the after effects. Even when the patient has fairly well recovered from an attack (and it is very hard to tell just when he has fully recovered) the muscles are relaxed, the nerves unstrung, the heart and lungs weak, the throat and bronchial tubes irritable and tender and the whole system depressed, run-down and in no condition to resist the attack of any other disease to which it may be exposed.

This condition is fraught with danger and demands instant and intelligent attention, the system must be built up and restored to a normal and healthy condition—advice easy to give, often very hard to follow.

The appetite is liable to be poor and the digestion impaired so that it is almost impossible to consume and digest sufficient ordinary food to do the work quickly and effectively. What is required is a concentrated food, palatable, easy to digest and containing the elements necessary to repair the waste which La Grippe has committed.

Just such a food is found in

a scientifically prepared emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus, palatable, digestible and effective. FERROL contains just what the run down system needs and all it requires. Cod Liver Oil to restore the lost flesh and make what is left firm and healthy, Iron to enrich the impoverished blood and restore elasticity and firmness to the relaxed muscles, Phosphorus to tone the nerve and brain as nothing else will.

Two or three bottles of FERROL, taken after the acute stage of La Grippe has passed, will do more to repair damages than can possibly be accomplished in any other way. Try it and see.

Nearly Everybody Likes Music in Some Form

How different people are in their tastes! In music, for instance. One likes the violin, another the mandolin or piano. Grand Opera appeals to some—folk songs to others. Good Church Music is welcomed by nearly everybody. Stirring marches set the young people's feet tapping—while some would rather listen to a funny story. The

THE GUARDIAN COVERS THE FIELD

The Guardian covers the City and Province within which it is published more fully and completely than any other newspaper printed in Canada.

With a daily circulation of its morning and rural edition now about 8,000 and growing from day to day, it has broken all records for a daily publication in a small community.

Charlottetown has a population of 12,000 and Prince Edward Island has 102,000. The Guardian's daily circulation is therefore as 1 to 11 of population in the city to which it is published, or 1 to 13 of the population of the Province. This is, the management believes, unequalled by any daily newspaper published in Canada.

Take one or two comparisons with other leading newspapers in other cities and provinces.

St. John has a population of 40,000 and the Province of New Brunswick 320,000. St. John has five newspapers and among these The Telegraph and The Sun are perhaps the foremost. Each claims a circulation of about 8,000, or say as 1 to 5 of the population of that city and 1 to 40 of the population of the Province.

Or again: Toronto has a population of some 250,000 and the Province of Ontario about 2,225,000. The Toronto Globe is a

ENORMOUS MAILS.

The largest mail ever received by one firm in the big city of Montreal was that for the Family Herald and Weekly Star on the closing day of the year. It is said the subscriptions for the Family Herald and Weekly Star on that day alone would exceed all the subscriptions for any other paper in Canada for the whole month of December. A day and a night staff are at work all the time entering renewals and new subscriptions. The increase in the Family Herald's subscription business is phenomenal. It is said their picture this year and Ralph Connor's new story, "The Doctor," have won them thousands of new readers, but the Family Herald and Weekly Star alone at one dollar per year is big value, and its wonderful success is well deserved.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines written by Helen J. McLean formerly of Coleman, P. E. I. now in State Farm, Mass., on hearing of the death of James McDougall, infant son of T. M. Howatt, of Coleman, a bosom friend, this being the third son, called away in one year and eight months.

Thrice flew the cruel shaft of death,
And smote the object of my love,
Thrice as a thief death came by stealth
To snatch from Earth and wait above.

The youngest of my children born,
Born but to bloom, then early die,
How brief the span, fair dawned, the morn
Night fell too soon, I can but sigh.

I vainly sigh, I vainly cry,
My heart is filled with too much grief,
The night winds howl, the storm is high
On where's the Lethe of relief.

And must it be, it must, it must
Forgive my wailing o'er the dead
We're born to weep, to grieve and trust
There is no light; we darkly tread

The paths of sorrow all alone
Friends may but feel but cannot know
The pangs we bear, no words can tone
Nor all a grief, nor ease the blow.

Farewell my child, again farewell,
Till farewell be a sound unknown
Where'er thou be with thee it's well
I loved thee once, thou wert my own.

As some bright star from skies serene
Thou cast thy beam on earth a while
Obscured so soon that tender beam
May still shine on and brightly smile.

Then still smile on, as smile thou must.
When after Sorrow's Holy Call
I rise once more from out the dust
Will love thee still, and feel the balm.

The beam that only love can give,
The triumph none can snatch away
My infant dead, love still my live
And o'er my heart and life hold sway.

Then sleep the sleep that at all must cease,
Both smiling babe and aged man.
The dead are best they do not weep
Neither forward peer, nor backward scan.

Sleep beside thy brothers gone before,
All fallen asleep in life's bright moon
The wild waves beat upon the shore
But sweet their sleep, in calm or storm.

Not to them will come the pangs of woe
That I oft have felt, still must feel
Out his sorrow's heavy clouds hung low
And sore the wound that will not heal

Three vacant chairs and empty cot
To my eyes the tears must ever bring
But I weep in vain, such my lot
This saddest of sad songs to sing.

Enough! Enough! Ye notes of woe
I will no longer you prolong,
The world has wept, and death's the foe
That grasps the world's, and throats of song.

A Cold Finds Your Weak Spot.

THE BRONCHIAL TUBES AND LUNGS ARE PROTECTED AGAINST THE EVIL EFFECTS OF COLDS BY

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSSEED AND TURPENTINE

You can never tell just what form a cold will take, but you may be sure it will search out your weakest organ. With some it assumes a catarrhal nature and attacks the head principally; with others it becomes bronchial and there sets in a hard cough and severe chest pains. Then, again, it often leads to inflammation of the lungs, consumption, pneumonia or may settle on the kidneys or bowels.

Because colds do not always prove serious some people take chances with them out the risk is great. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is intended for people who want assurance against serious results from colds.

This great medicine has absolutely proven its extraordinary control over coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma and all such ailments and for this reason has a place in the great majority of homes.

Mr. John Clarke, coachman, Port Hope, Ont., writes:—"Being exposed to all sorts of weather, I frequently catch cold. Last winter I was so bad with a cold that I could not speak above a whisper, and had great pains in the chest. At last I feared it would develop into consumption if I did not succeed in getting proper treatment. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and I began to improve before I had taken half a bottle. One bottle cured my cold, which I believe, would have proven very serious if I had not used this medicine."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every bottle.

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, distastefulness of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or suppressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes.

On the first sign of anything wrong Doan's Kidney Pills SHOULD BE TAKEN.

They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Petty, Massey, Ont., writes: "After I arrived in Canada from New Zealand, a couple of years ago, I suffered very much from kidney trouble. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally my back became so lame I could scarcely work. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them I felt like a new man."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.
