Mr. McFadyen was unmarried, a merchant by profession, of kind and amiable nature and leaves to mourn their loss an aged mother and several brothers and sisters. A man of 58 years. The funeral took place Saturday the 20th from the home of his brother attended by Rev. W. A. Wood, interment was made at St. Catherine's cemetery. JOHN McFADYEN

A very sad death occurred at Canoe Cove, P. E. I., early Saturday morning when Mr. John McFadyen succumbed to a very severe attack of bronchial pneumonia, following influenza. Mr. McFadyen was only sick a very few days and his death came as a great shock to his family and community. He together with his brother had built up a thriving little business in carriage and sleigh manufacture. He was always honest in business, a man of great Christian zeal, enterprising in nature, and possessed of all the qualities that go to make a citizen of sterling character. He leaves to mourn their loss a widow (a daughter of Mr. N. McKenzie, of Canoe Cove) and ten children, the youngest only seven months old, also an aged mother, two sisters one at Canoe Cove and Mrs. Boyce, of New Haven and a brother Neil, of Canoe Cove. Mr. McFadyen was very widely known throughout the province and his many friends wish to express their deepest sympathy to the wife, children and family who have lost a very dear husband, father and brother.

The funeral was held at his home on Monday, the 22nd, a large procession attended the remains, interment was made at Argyle Cemetery.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic acid stomach is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things:—
Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.
There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the food digests naturally and healthfully without need of peptic pills or artificial digestives.
Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable drug-gist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

MISS DELIA McLEAN

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.
