Carries Three Stroke Margin Into Second Stage Next Saturday

Maurice J. Dowling of Charlottetown led a field of Prince Edward Island golfers by three strokes in the first 18 holes of a 36-hole competition for the Provincial Championship over the Belvedere links Saturday afternoon. His score was 78. The second 18 holes will be played next Saturday at Summerside.

Over fifty golfers plied the verdant fairways and greens of the beautiful capital city course in the opening round of the first post-war tournament. At no time was par 72 in danger as the "cream of Island divot diggers" found difficulty in coping with a high, changing wind which swept the tree-lined, river-ravined course.

Behind the smooth-stroking Dowling, players were bunched in the low 80's for runner-up position. Doug Saunders and Art MacKenzie each turned in an 81 and a stroke behind, in third place, were Allan MacMillan and Joe Mahar.

While the favorites for the most part came through, Norman Parsons set the pace for a contingent of 17 visiting players. His 87 placed him among the first 12.

Competitors favored a long low hit ball as they sought to keep out of trouble. A high ball invariably spelled disaster when the high wind caught the pellet and whisked it into the rough or one of the many hazards dotting the course.

George Hawkins, defending champion, played consistently in carding an 86 to finish ninth.

G. G. Hughes, veteran Charlottetown Club member, with a gross 86 had the low net for the afternoon; a 68. Norman Parsons, Summerside, was runner-up with a net 71.

Dowling took a 39 for a par 35 in the outgoing nine holes and an equal number of strokes for the incoming par 37 nine. He secured two birdies, one on No. 3 green and another on No. 16. He ran into some difficulty on the short No. 6 hole known as "The Island" when he took five strokes for a par three.

The Boldest Love Story Ever Told

Old man par 72 at the Charlottetown Golf Club withstood the onslaught of local golfing greats Saturday. A wind which at times blew fair and foul proved the nemesis of shotmakers and Maurice "Mousie" Dowling led the field with a comfortable 78.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

The tournament marked the resumption of the 36 hole competition for the Prince Edward Island championship — 18 holes at both Charlottetown and Summerside. During the war years an "austerity" tournament was played with a champion being declared at the close of 18 holes. Last year the event was held over the National Park course at Cavendish.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Hard on the heels of Dowling in the fight for the coveted crown are clubmates Art MacKenzie, Doug Saunders, Allan MacMillan, Joe Mahar and Andy Likely. All are within five strokes of the top carded score. George Hawkins, the defending champion, was well up among the leaders with an 86.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

The tricky wind had the "wood and iron artists" favoring low shots on their long drives. The wind, at times, would carry a well driven high ball into the rough—and trouble.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Officials appeared more than pleased with the large entry list for the 36-hole tournament. A keen fight is expected to be waged in the final 18 holes to be played Saturday at Summerside. The way the leaders are grouped will leave the issue in doubt until the final card is turned in.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Three local golfers, Club Professional Jimmy Walker, Joe Mahar and Art MacKenzie left yesterday to represent the Charlottetown Club at the amateur and professional three-day invitation tournament at the Ashburn Club, Halifax, opening today.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Word received from New Glasgow, N. S., last evening by 'phone was that Joe O'Brien, popular driver injured in the Blue Acres Stake Race Saturday afternoon, may have suffered broken ribs and other minor injuries. He hopes, however, to be able to drive his horses very shortly.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Colonel R. J. Birtwhistle, Secretary of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association, who is one of the best known authorities in Canada on competitive rifle shooting is on an official tour of the east, and will shortly visit the Maritime Provinces for a series of conferences with officials of Provincial Rifle Associations and with Eastern Command and Military District officials. Colonel Birtwhistle will be in Charlottetown, August 5th, 6th and 7th and will be a guest of the Charlottetown Hotel.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Reports that the New York Giants were to be sold to a syndicate including Bernard Gimbel, department store owner, and David Marx, wealthy toy manufacturing executive, have been denied by Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Marx and Gimbel reportedly were to finance the purchase of the National League club and have Hank Greenberg, Detroit first-baseman, act as liaison man in the transaction. Greenberg is Gimbel's son-in-law and a close friend of Marx.

✣ ✣ ✣ ✣

Both Marx and Stoneham said recently that "there is no truth in the story." Stoneham, who inherited the ownership of the Giants from his father, Charles A. Stoneham in 1936, holds 51 percent of the club's stock together with his mother and sister.

Pirates And Giants Split Twin Bill

(By The Canadian Press)

Pittsburgh Pirates clouted four home runs yesterday but the tail-end Bucs had to be satisfied with a split in their National League doubleheader with New York Giants.

In the opener, veteran left-hander Fritz Ostermueller set the Giants down on two hits in pitching the Pirates home 6-0. Three-run homers by Maurice Van Robays and Elbie Fletcher off starter Dave Koslo accounted for all of Pittsburgh's runs.

Frankie Gustine and Bill Salkeld belted round-trippers for the Pirates in the nightcap but the bases were empty on both occasions and Frankie Frisch's crew went down to a 3-2 defeat.

Ken Trinkle started for the Giants in the aftermath and although he yielded only four safeties, the former relief artist was in constant trouble, issuing nine walks.

He passed three batters in the eighth and three more in the ninth before bowing out in favor of Gene Thompson, who got Bob Elliott to foul to Walker Cooper to end the game.

Katz Land In 3rd Place

Another large gathering of fans turned out last evening to witness the game between the Katz and Misfits in the Knights of Columbus Ladies Softball League which was won by the Katz, by the score of 14 to 5.

The winners played smart ball and had to ice downing the Misfits, who were equally good afield, losing out by their hitting efforts.

By virtue of their win the Katz secure third place in the league standings. It was predicted that this league would be good when the girls became accustomed to the play and it has lived up to just that and it is a foregone conclusion that the play off games starting tonight between the Bobby Sockers and Katz and on Wednesday night between the Cundall Kids and Misfits will be closely fought.

Highlights of last night's game were a very smart play at first, McInnis to Weir, two very flashy catches by Bryenton and one each by Larkin, White and McEachern and the homer by Landrigan.

Umpire at the plate, C. MacDonald, on the bases J. White.

Martell Is Brilliant In Title Win

By HERB JONES

Canadian Press Staff Writer

MAYFAIR GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, Edmonton, Aug. 4—Brilliant, hole-in-one Henry Martell, one of the most sensational of the Dominion's competitive golfers, Saturday came to the satisfying end of a 10-year quest and was crowned king of Canada's amateurs.

In the final round he dethroned Kenny Black of Vancouver, duration-of-the war champion and slammed the daylights out of par in a blazing game that included the first ace in the 51-year-old history of the Canadian amateur final.

The Edmonton policeman's performance was one that the veteran Black, no matter how gamely he fought, could not match as he ended a week of thrill-packed firing on the short end of a 6 and 5 score at the 31st hole.

Martell's championship winning effort was seven under par in this first National Amateur since the war started.

For Martell it was a double victory because it was this same golf-wise Kenny Black who had robbed him of the glory in the last amateur final at Montreal's Mount Bruno course six years ago by a count of 8 and 5. But this time the repeat performance had a different ending and one that was not long in doubt after the first 18 holes in the 36-hole grind. Martell wound up with 10 birdies and an eagle-ace while Black had five birds.

The 32-year-old Martell, seven times Alberta Amateur champion, had the 34-year-old Black, son of a famous golfing father, Davie Black, dormie six at the 565-yard 30th where he got down for a birdie four.

On the short 175-yard par three 31st Martell was just 15 feet from the pin with his tee shot and canned the putt for another bird. The crowd rushed in before Black could finish playing his ball but J.A. Fuller, president of the Royal Canadian Golf Association and official referee, put down a two for Black to halve the hole and make the official score 6 and 5.

Black was the first to grab Martell's hand in congratulation just as he had been at the 160-yard par three 25th where Henry's tee shot rolled straight for the cup, bounced once, then jumped in for his sensational eagle hole in one.

Martell at one time led Black by three holes on the morning round but the defending champion had cut this to a hole by the time they reached the end of first 18, both with par cards. Martell had a 34-36 for the morning round—finding trouble in the trees on the back nine—and Black had the same figures in reverse with his best figures on the last nine.

McNeil's Legionaires Strengthen Grip On Third Section Lead

The Legionaires outlasted the North End Rovers in a free hitting contest yesterday afternoon at the Park diamond as they consolidated their position at the top of the third section with a 13-10 victory. It was the Legion team's third victory in five starts and coupled with a tie against one defeat puts them well out in front in the final section.

The Vets combed the offerings of Earl Corish, Rover hurler, for fourteen hits including three triples and two two-baggers leading the Rovers all the way. The North End crew narrowed the margin to one run in the last of the eighth when they rallied for four runs but three Legion counters in the top of the ninth provided the clincher.

Elmer McIsaac started on the mound for the Legionaires but was taken out in the third innings when he walked the first two batters to face him. Spy Ready then took over the hurling duties pitching the last seven innings and receiving credit for the win. Ready allowed the Rovers nine hits and seven runs, striking out six batters and walking three.

Had McInnis opened the scoring for the Legionaires in the first innings when he stole home on Corish's delivery to the plate. The Rovers evened matters in the last of the second, Whitlock scoring on Hunter's single after leading off with a double. In the third the Legionaires started to get to Corish scoring three runs. McIsaac's triple combined with a hit batter, a Rover error and Perry's single doing the damage. The Rovers got two runs back in their half of the third when McIsaac started to show traces of wildness, walking two men who later scored on ground balls to first base off Ready's pitching.

The Vets got two counters in the fifth on a hit and two Rover errors but these were cancelled by single Rover tallies in the fifth and sixth, making the count read 6-5 for the Legionaires at the end of the sixth. In the seventh the Legionaires came through with four runs on triples by Blanchard and Currie and singles by McNeil and Perry. The Rovers went scoreless in their half of the seventh but got back in the game in the last of the eighth with a four run rally of their own.

Going into the top of the ninth with a one-run lead the Legion team scored three more markers for insurance while the best the Rovers could produce was one run in their turn at bat on Corish's triple and Higson's single.

Art Perry had another big day with the willow getting four singles in five trips to the plate. Ev McNeil and Vernie Blanchard were also prominent at the plate for the Legionaires, McNeil going three for four and Blanchard banging out a double and triple. Joe Hunter was the big sticker for the Rovers with three singles which drove in four runs.
