

HERRING SCHRS. LUCKILY ESCAPE

United States Tug Cuts Out Entire Fleet of Herring Vessels.

St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 27.—The United States tug "Potomac" has cut out the entire fleet of herring vessels, which was frozen in at Bay of Islands, without discrimination as to nationality, clearing American, Canadian and Newfoundland vessels alike. She also towed the vessels to safe anchorage. The skipper of all the vessels praise the commander of the "Potomac" warmly. A gale moderated the cold to-day. The inlets are now clear, and the fishing has been resumed.

THE GUARDIAN COVERS THE FIELD

The Guardian covers the City and Province within which it is published more fully and completely than any other newspaper printed in Canada.

With a daily circulation of its morning and rural edition now about 8,000 and growing from day to day, it has broken all records for a daily publication in a small community.

Charlottetown has a population of 12,000 and Prince Edward Island has 108,000. The Guardian's daily circulation is therefore as 1 to 13 of population in the city in which it is published, or 1 to 13 of the population of the Province. This is the management believes, unequalled by any daily newspaper published in Canada.

Take one or two comparisons with other leading newspapers in other cities and provinces.

St. John has a population of 40,000 and the Province of New Brunswick 380,000. St. John has five newspapers and among these The Telegraph and The Sun are perhaps the foremost. Each claims a circulation of about 8,000, or say as 1 to 5 of the population of that city and 1 to 40 of the population of the Province.

Or again: Toronto has a population of some 250,000 and the Province of Ontario about 2,225,000. The Toronto Globe is a great Canadian newspaper, known all over the world as one of the foremost journals. The Globe's published daily circulation is slightly under 50,000. That is

THE WRECK OF THE 'DIX.'

The Sabbath day is drawing to a close, and peaceful silence reigns the landscape o'er; The villagers retire to their repose With quiet hearts, as if they'd done before.

No sound is heard, o'er mountain, hill or dale, "And all the air a solemn stillness holds." Peace seems to hover o'er this quiet vale, As wondrous night her dark'ning robes unfolds.

The waters ripple gently o'er the Sound; The night is still, as ever night could be; The little steamer Dix is homeward bound; See how she glides so swiftly through the sea.

From out her cabin small, the sounds of mirth And glee arise, and all seems joy within. Ah! little do they know their time on earth Has come, and they the higher life begin.

They're homeward bound, but to the home beyond— That bourne from whence no man shall e'er return. Oh, speak I ye briny waters of the Sound! Teach us that greatest mystery to learn

That man is subject to a higher power— A something that is hard to understand. They understand all now, as never before With him who stilled the waves by His command.

They're gone for aye! no more shall they return! They rest tonight, though not beneath the sod: In silence do we grieve, in silence mourn; And leave them with their Maker and their God.
