Horne on the evening of Oct. 25th when upwards of 125 young people of North River and vicinity gathered together to tender Mr. and Mrs. Horne and Scotty a farewell party prior to their departure for their future home in Toronto, Ontario. The lovely address read by Miss Evelyn Simmons and the presents received all paid tribute to the high esteem held by Mr. and Mrs. Horne and Scotty in the community. Mrs. Horne in a few words thanked the young people and after a dainty lunch and hours of dancing to the splendid music under the direction of Mr. George Chappelle the dancers wended their way homeward after an enjoyable evening.

In his earlier years he was in the employ of the James Robertson Company, Limited, Saint John. Since his ordination in the former Methodist Church, he has been minister of churches in Campbellton, Moncton, Charlottetown, Sackville and three in Saint John—Carleton, Exmouth Street, the church he attended as a boy, and Carmarthen Street. Before closing the meeting the Rev. W. A. Cotton, C.R. gave a short address on the importance and power of prayer in our daily lives.

Italy Did Big Trade With U.S.

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The state department tonight possessed reports that a heavy volume of United States goods has been flowing to Italy this month, despite repeated governmental efforts to "discourage" such trade.

This authoritative disclosure threw light upon the usual actions of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull yesterday in turning on their heaviest pressure against transactions of any nature whatever with the Italo-Ethiopian belligerents.

The exact volume of recent trade with Italy was not revealed. It was stated reliably, however, that a "large number" of American shipments had gone to that warring nation since the President's Oct. 5 pronouncement of a trade-with-belligerents-at-your-own-risk policy.

Britain Building Two New Planes

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, Nov. 1.—Two airplanes of radically different types are being constructed by Imperial Airways, Ltd., for trans-Atlantic service, it was disclosed today.

Sir Eric Geddes, chairman, told the annual meeting of the company one of the craft may be ready for experimental flights next year. This flying boat will be of "normal characteristics."

The second plane will be a "pick-a-back" composite type, of entirely different design. An order for it was placed some time ago, it was learned, but officials do not know when it will be ready.

It will be composed of a short range carrier plane, able to take off with a long-range trans-Atlantic craft aboard which will be launched in mid air.

"The composite plane is much more in the nature of an experiment," an official said. "All sorts of difficulties may crop up, but it is possible it may be ready before the flying boat."

Sir Eric said the air service to Australia was so successful it had been increased to a twice-weekly basis. He expected the air connection between Penang and Hong Kong would be continued permanently.

The flourishing firm of M. F. Schurman and Co., Contractors and Lumber Dealers, has as their new manager at Kensington, Mr. Fred Davison, of Burlington. This old established company certainly look to the future; and the appointment of a young and popular man like Mr. Davison, is an assured augury of their continued success.—B.

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

FOCAL INFECTION

The bacteria or germs which when they gain entrance to the human body, are capable of causing some disorder or disturbance in a variety of ways. There are those which produce an acute disease, such as pneumonia or diphtheria others set up an acute inflammation with the production of pus as we find on the surface in a boil or hidden in an appendix.

Then there are those germs which, having gained a foothold in the body, develop insidiously without causing any sudden or marked disturbance. Such a nest of germs is described as a focus of infection and may be responsible for a lowering of the health of the individual or contribute to the development of disease from other causes.

The most common location of such foci of infection is in the teeth, head sinuses, tonsils and urogenital tract. Sometimes the germs produce a sufficiently severe inflammation to call attention to their presence. If so, the focus can be removed and further damage prevented.

Unfortunately, the local reaction is often so mild that it is overlooked, the germs multiply, producing a toxin or poison which, being absorbed, poisons the body. The germs may spread locally or through the blood streams. In the latter case, they are carried to other parts where they settle down and cause secondary foci of infection.

These secondary foci may occur in any part of the body but there are certain areas which suffer most frequently, the heart valves, the tissues around joints and the gall-bladder. It is obvious that the significance of these secondary foci of infection depends upon their location and the degree and extent of any inflammation caused thereby. Generally the secondary foci cause more reaction than the primary focus from which they spring.

The removal of a focus of infection prevents any further harm arising out of that particular focus. If it is the main cause, then a marked improvement is to be expected. If, however, it is but a contributing factor, too much is not to be looked for as a result of the removal. The removal of the primary focus is not sufficient if secondary foci are well established.

It seems desirable to present these facts because so often those who have a focus of infection removed expect complete and sudden relief from their ill-health or some diseased condition. There is no doubt that focal infections do much harm. It seems likely that they may play a large part in the onset of the degenerative diseases. But while appreciating all this, it is desirable to bear in mind that, in such cases, it is the patient who is being treated and not a focal infection—which means that the general condition must be considered if good results are to be attained.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

AGED OLD LADY PLAYED PART OF VILLAGE DOCTOR

(Canadian Press)
BALLANTYNE'S COVE, N. S., Nov. 1.—Three years ago, advancing age forced Mrs. Stewart Ballantyne, widow of one of this district's oldest residents, to retire from the important role she had held in the life of the community for almost three generations.

Playing parts of both doctor and nurse in the days before Ballantyne's Cove could boast of either, Mrs. Ballantyne as midwife had up to her retirement helped more than 200 of this village's babies into the world.

Some of the children were sons and daughters of babies she had assisted at birth years before; a few were grandchildren.

A short time ago an urgent call for Mrs. Ballantyne came from Cape George. Hesitant at first, the 89-year-old woman hustled off on the errand of mercy when she learned a doctor and nurse summoned to the Cape George home from Antigonish, several miles away, had been delayed.

Assassin Wounds Chinese Officials

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NANKING, China, Nov. 1.—Premier Wang Ching Wei and two other officials, it was learned authoritatively, were wounded by a would be assassin today.

The Premier's condition was reported as serious.

Chang Chi, former president of the judicial Yuan and Kant Hai Kuang, chief of the political bureau of generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek's headquarters and also vice minister of the interior, were the others wounded.

The Remgo (Japanese) news agency, crediting Chinese sources, said the would-be assassin was a member of the central executive committee of the Kuomintang (Chinese nationalist party) and that the shooting occurred shortly after the opening of an important meeting of the executive committee which was expected by many Chinese political sources to determine China's attitude toward the latest Japanese ultimatum.

The demands for elimination of anti-Japanese organizations in North China were backed up yesterday by a Japanese gunboat.

The executive group also was expected to reach a decision over the question of whether the fifth general party congress will be convened Nov. 12, as scheduled.

Opposition for some South China military leaders, who refrained from going to Nanking this week, caused a belief in certain political quarters that a split of the party might result, followed by a possibility of General Chiang Kai-Shek becoming president.

Middle Age For Dangerous Head Bumps

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Forty to sixty is the dangerous age for bumps on the head, the American College of Surgeons was informed today in a report on the growing number of accidents due to high speed.

"Each year," said George Swift, M.D., of Seattle, "approximately 125,000 injuries involving the head and spine occur in the United States, and the number is mounting because of increased speed and mass production." The death rate from the head injuries, he said, has been brought down from around 60 per cent to 20 in the last 10 years by better surgical and medical care.

This care brought out also a new fact, he explained, an unexpected susceptibility of persons between 40 and 60 to head injuries. Their heads are neither softer nor more brittle. The trouble is that brains are likely to be "wet" beginning at 40.

Wet brain means a little more water than average in the cavities in and around the brain. Nature, Dr. Swift explained, uses the bony cavity of the head to store a small reserve supply of water, ready for instant use in emergency, when the blood needs it.

A blow on the head, Dr. Swift held, may produce a hydrostatic pressure in one or more of these cavities, a pressure that forces water through the narrow channels into some other cavity. This pressure, he said, often destroys brain tissue, is not so well repaired. Its effects are mistaken for those of hemorrhage. Results of water damage he described as including anisochorism, changes in the eyes and long continued mental disturbances.

Is Irked By Hostile Efforts Against Jews

(By Bob Cavagnaro, Associated Press Sports Writer)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Declaring American Jews have shown a hostile attitude towards his efforts in behalf of world Jewry in the 1936 Olympic Games, Brig. General Charles H. Sherrill, an American member of the International Olympic Committee, today announced withdrawal of "those friendly efforts in the future."

Remaining steadfast in his refusal to join a United States boycott-the-Olympic movement, General Sherrill told the New York Advertising Club that recent developments have compelled him to terminate what he described as "pro-Jewish activities."

Sherrill, who persuaded the German Olympic Committee last summer to invite two German Jews to compete for Germany next year, said he has received numerous threatening and abusive letters from American Jews.

"Yesterday morning," said the General in a prepared address, "a powerful Jewish gentleman made a decision that brought a beautiful thing into my life, confirming my long admiration of his race's qualities. Yesterday afternoon his business associates, I fear with his approval, destroyed the beautiful thing."

He did not amplify the point, but went on:

"That last action suddenly revealed to me the general Jewish dislike of my pro-Jewish activities which two years ago they approved. This forces me, and I say it with deep emotion, to desist from those friendly efforts in the future. But neither that nor the torrent of Jewish abuse recently poured upon me, can succeed in making me anti-Jewish.

"Our international committee does not concern itself with internal athletic conditions in any country," he said, "but only with the choice of that country's members for its Olympic team. With that choice we insist that race, religion, color and creed shall not intervene. The German Olympic Committee has complied with the international regulations regarding team selections."

WAR MAY ASSIST JAMAICA GROWERS

(By The Canadian Press) KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 1.—Jamaica citrus growers see a silver lining in trouble clouds hanging low over the Mediterranean.

Increased insurance rates on Mediterranean shipping with resulting higher freight rates, will boost the price of Palestine's export fruit, Jamaica's closest competitor in British and Canadian fruit markets, and give local growers a price advantage they believe.

Canada alone imported between five and ten million boxes of citrus fruit from Palestine last year while Jamaica shipped only 50,000 cases to the North American dominion. Jamaica's exports to Canada might be quadrupled this year, they say.

JUST DOGS

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—Magistrate Glenn Strike today sentenced two women to pay fines totalling $25 or go to jail for three days for having made false registration of Pekinese dogs, representing them as Aristocrats when they were just dogs.

To Show You Why "Aspirin" Works So Fast

WHY "ASPIRIN" WORKS SO FAST IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH

Drop an "Aspirin" tablet into a glass of water . . . By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach—"Aspirin" tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

Quick Relief for Headaches, Neuritis, Rheumatic Pains

The old adage says, "what you see you believe." So the scientist, pictured above, shows you two actual photographs to prove the quick action of "ASPIRIN."

Look at them, and you will see one reason why Scientists rate "ASPIRIN" among the fastest agents, now known or ever known, for the relief of headaches, neuritis, neuralgia and rheumatic pains.

You'll see that an "Aspirin" tablet, dropped into a glass of water, starts to disintegrate, or dissolve, before it hits the bottom of the glass. Hence, it is ready to go to work almost instantly you take one. For what happens in that glass happens in your stomach when you take an "ASPIRIN" tablet. Relief comes in a few minutes.

Countless thousands know that about "ASPIRIN." Know by experience that it brings the quick relief you want when in distress.

Keep this in mind the next time your work or play is handicapped by a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain. Learn for yourself how fast you can get relief.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Be sure to look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.
