Mrs. Ramsay read the scripture lesson, followed by prayer in unison and Hymn 386, "Almighty Father Who Doth Give". The treasurer's report, minutes and roll call followed. Mrs. Toombs then introduced Miss Clark, who in her very pleasing manner told of the first missionary work in India referring to her experiences as comedy and tragedy. Her address was very instructive and inspiring as she closed her address with a plea for more loyal earnest workers. "Let no one idly say, 'there is nothing I can do,' for the missionary work is needed now more than ever before." Mrs. Sterling fittingly made reply thanking Miss Clark on behalf of all present for her very inspiring missionary talk. The meeting closed by singing Hymn 376, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds". Warns Against Earlier Drop In Price Of Eggs

"In the future interests of the egg industry, breakage must be stopped," warns Mr. F. G. Ward, poultry products inspector for Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Ward also warns against an earlier drop in egg prices this fall than was experienced last year.

"Throughout Canada this year, breakage of eggs in handling and transport has been excessive," Mr Ward says. "Quite possibly the shortage of help, and greater volume of business are all contributing causes to this breakage. Canadian eggs have never been what might be rated as strong - shelled, and it would appear that immediate effort leading to stronger shells is necessary as well as improvement in handling and transportation. This condition is noticeable in this Province.

"Prince Edward Island expects that our export market after the war will take care of a considerable portion of our surplus. It will be necessary that eggs for export in the shell be strong in the shell. Buyers do not want broken or smeared eggs.

"Egg shell strength is a factor in egg production that can be improved both by selection in breeding and by feeding and management. Eight ounces of manganese mixed with 100 lbs. ground grain is a very considerable factor in creating strong shells. Suggest increase during summer months. Research work is needed as some definite means by which we can put greater strength in egg shells—possibly we may find the answer in the regular feeding of cod liver oil, perhaps in a new grit source. Producers can aid in this research work simply by reporting to Box 39, Charlottetown, any instance of good thick shells noticed in their flock production. Such information would be appreciated.

"Two New Hampshire breeders got together this week for a good talkfest. Mrs. Rose of East Baltic visited the poultry ranch of the Reverend and Mrs. Watterworth, Montague. Mrs. Rose was very much interested in the Christie strain of New Hampshire. Andrew Christie of Kingston, N. H., U. S. A., originated the now famous Spizzerinktum strain of New Hampshires. Mr. Watterworth's three month old chicks show they are true to type.

"Mr. MacGregor of Darnley is another breeder of fine New Hampshires. He also is interested in obtaining the best. This year he obtained his chicks direct from N. H., U. S. A., and a fine lot they are. We have hopes that from these two breeders we may obtain foundation flocks for P. E. I. These strains of New Hampshires are fast feathering and mature early..

Fall Prices

"A word of advice regarding the fall prices of eggs: Do not look for the prolonged high prices of eggs to continue as long as last year. It is my estimation that prices will drop at least three weeks earlier than last year. This estimate is based not on increased production of chicks on P. E. I. but upon the greatly increased chick production of the rest of Canada. This is bound to have the effect of a greater percentage of flocks coming into lay earlier thus creating a surplus and resulting in prices dropping to export levels.

"A considerable number of early hatched chicks are now laying—some as high as 50 percent production. These flocks are making a nice profit for the owners.

"St. Louis Buying Club, St. Louis, P. E. I., a co-operative organization, is erecting a building to be used as a registered egg grading station. Plans are being followed along lines sugegsted by Dominion Marketing officials.

"On P. E. I., we have a job of work ahead of us to maintain and hold what we have in the past achieved in the way of quality eggs and poultry. We cannot stand still and let others beat us—the urge to improve must always be there. Let quality be our specialty!"

by the National Executive, in receiving this important convenership.

Of special interest to convention was the report covering the "Crusade for good reading" as given by the chairman, Mrs. Frank Murray. It is gratifying to learn that, since the inauguration of this campaign, twenty-two undesirable books and magazines have been removed from sale and that co-operation is being received from owners of bookstores who are desirous of a higher standard of literature. Improvement in provincial public entertainment was also noted. A select list of the latest books reviewed was submitted, and will be available on request at the Provincial Library.

Reverend Louis A. Dougan, Chaplain of Charlottetown Subdivision who attended the afternoon session for a brief period, spoke of the privilege of membership in the Catholic Women's League, an organization which is blest by the Holy Father. He urged the extension of membership in the League to further extend the work for which the organization stands.

The report of the Resolutions Committee was then presented by the chairman, Mrs. F. Murray, for discussion and adoption. This was followed by the report of the Nomination Committee by Mrs. K. Creamer, chairman.

The election of officers for the coming term resulted in the election of Mrs. J. Austin Murphy, Emerald, as President of the Diocesan Council C. W. L. McMillan, Charlottetown; Executive Secretary, Miss Gertrude Coady; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. J. Hynes, Montague; treasurer, Mrs. Adrian McInnis, Souris.

A vote of thanks to the retiring President and officers of the council, with congratulations to the incoming President and officers was moved by Mrs. Frank Murray and seconded by Mrs. W. J. Sullivan, Summerside. The presentation of a lovely gift to Mrs. McMahon, was made by the hostess President, Mrs. W. J. McMillan, and was graciously acknowledged by the recipient who expressed her sincere appreciation to the members of the League for courtesy and co-operation extended during her term of office.

Installation of officers was conducted by the Past President, and a successful convention closed with a delightful social hour, when afternoon tea was served by the ladies of the Hostess Sub-division.

sent Atlantic Daylight time. This would mean that Charlottetown, especially for the winter months, would revert to Atlantic Standard time, Coun. Gay said.

After the Mayor had read a letter from R. R. Large & Co (quoted above), Coun. A. T. McKinnon informed the Council he would have his estimates for the cost of the two new scales and their installation ready for the next regular meeting.

Coun. T. B. Rogers said he was not in favour of the city weighing coal and that the city's taking over the coal-weighing would impose a hardship on the coal dealers since they have considerable money invested in coal-weighing equipment would would then be useless. If the City was bound to go ahead with the project, it should make the coal-dealers an offer for their scales, Coun. Rogers said.

Coun. J. T. McKee expressed himself as being in accord with Coun. Rogers' views.

Coun. F. C. Dougan said he could not understand why the city's installation of scales should force the coal dealers to ask for permission to raise the price of coal since the weighing of the coal would not cost them anything.

Coun. J. T. McKee said he could not see how the City would save any money by installing scales since the citizens would have to pay for the weighing of their coal.

Coun. A. T. McKinnon said he did not think any citizen would mind paying 10 cents to have his load of coal weighed when he would thus have the assurance he was getting all the coal he was paying for.

Couns. P. G. Gay and E. Earle MacDonald also expressed themselves as being in favour of having the City weigh all coal sold to its citizens.

There being no further business before the Council, the meeting adjourned.

Montague Man Bags Nazi Planes

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN THE MIDDLE EAST—When two Me-109's sighted a lone Baltimore off the coast of Crete it looked like easy pickings. They did a couple of contemptuous rolls before coming in for the kill.

Flight Lieutenant Art Carruthers of Montague, P.E.I., was sitting behind the Baltimore's guns. The Me's attacked in line from in front. Art gave them a burst and they broke away at 600 yards. They came in again, one from the port side and down, the other from dead ahead. Art nailed the first one. It broke off the engagement and turned towards shore trailing smoke and losing altitude.

The second snarled in close from in front. Art gave it the same treatment. It burst into flame and crashed into the sea.

Art isn't really military minded. In the days when the Nazi pilots were attending Hitler youth camps and learning the job of killing, Art was working in the drugstore at home.

Found Dead At Halifax Pier

HALIFAX, Aug. 30 — Ambrose F. MacIntyre, employed as a watchman with the Cunard-White Star Line, was found dead by Halifax detectives on Pier 36 at 1:10 yesterday morning. Physicians said death was due to natural causes.

Sixty-five years old and a native of Gloucester, Mass., Mr. MacIntyre lived with her son, Roderick MacIntyre, 184 North Street.

A fellow worker said Mr. MacIntyre became ill shortly after eating his lunch. Later he said the man's condition became worse and a taxi was called. At the arrival of detectives Mr. MacIntyre was dead. Dr. F. V. Woodbury, City Medical Examiner, said last night no inquiry would be held.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Flora MacIntyre, and mother, Mrs. Annie MacDonald, Souris, P.E.I.; four daughters: Jessie, Halifax; Mary, Jean, and Margaret, all at home; six sons: John D. R.C.A.F., stationed at Summerside, P. E. I.; Robert A., Naval Shore Patrol, Halifax; James, of the West Nova Scotia Regiment, now in France; Ambrose, Jr., of the same unit; Herbert with the Canadian Army in Italy, and Chester in the Merchant Navy.

The body is resting at the Halifax Funeral Home and will be forwarded today to Souris East, P.E.I., for burial.

CIVILIAN SUPPLY

supply produced is not sufficient to meet all the heavy demands for butter, cheese, fluid milk and other milk products," Mr. Gordon said.

"Our production in Canada is planned at its top limit, but recent dry and hot weather may so affect pastures in eastern Canada that the production we had looked for will not materialize. But, by and large, our food supply is abundant and no one need worry about any general shortages in that field, although spotty shortages are bound to be experienced from time to time."

While production of textiles and clothing gave a supply in excess of peacetime, the situation in some garments was not and could not be adequate to meet all demands. But the civilian population would not have to endure any real hardship. The only need "is some degree of self-restraint in buying only essential needs."

Mr. Gordon said that with public co-operation he believed it would not be necessary to become involved in the inconveniences and administrative cost clothing rationing would involve, and that all actual needs would be met.

Has Faith In People

He has been told that if he mentioned things in short supply or predicted they were likely to get shorter, many selfish people would rush to buy what was left in the stores, with the result of chronic shortages.

"I have thought over the situation prayerfully and carefully and I have come to the conclusion that that assumption is a slander upon the Canadian people," he continued.

"I believe that each one of you will behave like decent homemaking folk if you are told frankly what is the situation about supplies, and what is expected of you."

The public would be told what to expect and all would be asked to keep their buying this fall and winter strictly to essential current requirements.

The news from the battlefields was likely to cause wishful thinking, but "permit me to warn that this exhilaration must not be allowed to mean a slackening in our immediate efforts, nor should it mean an assumption that the worst is over."
