an innovation which is widely gaining in favour, was adopted successfully. Outstanding in the large cast for their performances were T. Butler, who filled the role of Falstaff, and J. O'Hanley, who, as the prince, proved a splendid foil for "the gross fat man." John A. McDonald as the king, and James L. McDonald as the gallant Hotspur carried heavy parts in a very creditable manner. The remainder of a cast too large to enumerate by name gave equally praiseworthy performances. The intervals between the acts were filled by vocal and instrumental solos, and by selections played by the College orchestra which was under the direction of Mr. C. Pineau. The play was produced under the auspices of the St. Dunstan's Dramatic Society.

FIRE IN AMHERST (Canadian Press) AMHERST, N.S., Nov. 30.—For three hours today firemen fought a stubborn blaze that gutted R. C. Chapman's confectionary plant, causing damage estimated at $4,000, a half ton of chocolate and a shipment of Christmas stock just received were destroyed. Adjoining stores suffered slightly from smoke and water damage.

PRODUCE

(Canadian Press) MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—Stocks of butter, cheese and eggs in store at Montreal were announced today. Creamery butter stocks were much smaller than a month ago or a year ago. This was explained by dealers by the fact that Canada's butter surplus of 1933 is located at points other than Montreal. Cheese stocks showed a substantial decrease from a month ago, shipments to the United Kingdom having been unusually large. Fresh and storage eggs were also lighter than a month ago. The butter market advanced on the Montreal dairy and produce market today. No 1 graded pasteurized was quoted at 21 1/2 to 22 cents a pound for cartons or 22 cents a pound for bulk. Eggs continued weak. Graded shipments of fresh eggs in cartons and flats were quoted at 38 to 40 cents a dozen for A-large 35 to 36 cents for medium and 35 to 36 cents for A-piles. A total of 294 boxes was offered for sale. Ontario and Quebec cheese continued steady at 9 1/2 cents a pound for the former and 9 cents for the latter. A-rivals were 85¢ boxes. Potatoes were quoted at 60 to 70 cents per 80 pound bag of Quebec. New No. 1 New Brunswick green mountains in similar quantities and 90 cents for Prince Edward Island green mountains in 90 pound bags.

GRAIN

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, N. W. 30.—Wheat prices lost ground on the grain exchange today as export offerings tapered out. Lower live pig quotations were a disturbing factor. 20¢ and final quotations were 10 to 15¢ cents under the previous close. November wheat closed at 60 1/2¢, December at 59 1/2¢, May at 60 1/2¢, and July at 60 1/2¢. There was nothing in the news to stimulate the purchase of grain but an enthusiasm waned. A hold-up in United States further curtailed trading. Export business was reported worked overnight. Livestock quotations showed fractional improve. Board of Trade Council Meeting

A number of current questions and matters of routine business were discussed at a Council meeting of the Board of Trade. It was decided that the Secretary write to the Postmaster General pointing out the advantages of a Charlottetown to New Glasgow air mail service. It was stated that the service would be of great benefit to the air transport company, and that direct train connection could be made with Halifax and Sydney for mails and passengers travelling in either direction. The opinion was expressed that the additional cost would not be considerable, as the machines and personnel were here. Dr. J. A. Clark reported that the recent annual meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade at Kentville was one of the most largely attended yet held. He had reported to the Maritime Board that the Provincial Government was behind the Maritime Transportation Commission, he stated in outlining details of the meetings. Mr. R. E. Mutch felt that Prince Edward Island should have two representatives on the Transportation Commission in view of the fact that each of the other two provinces had five. He moved that the Board write to Premier MacMillan, making the suggestion that the Government ask for two representatives. A letter written by the Board to Mr. W. U. Appleton, General Manager of the Atlantic Region C.N.R., setting forth the advantage of a pullman service between the Island and the Mainland one day a week was also read. Copies of this letter had also been written to a number of public officials. Mr. Appleton's reply was read. The reply was returned to the Transportation Committee for answer. Mr. G. J. Teesedy presented a report from the Transportation Committee on the subject of double daily ferry service and read the brief on the subject, prepared for presentation to the Prime Minister. Mr. A. L. Wright for the Time Table Committee read a petition to be presented to the Superintendent of the Island Division of the C.N.R. protesting the short stop-over in

TRIBUTES

(Continued from Page 1) "I am sure the veterans of all ranks of the American Expeditionary Forces join their comrades and neighbors of the Canadian corps in mourning the loss of this gallant World War leader." LONDON, Nov. 30.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The United Kingdom, no less than Canada, tonight mourned the loss of General Sir Arthur Currie as one of the Empire's great soldiers and, more than that, a great worker for peace. The sombre shroud of mourning that descended upon this Dominion today with the realization that the bugles had sounded the "mum demittit" for one of its greatest sons was lightened to some extent by the homage which all ranks of the Canadian Corps paid to the memory of their deceased commander. From one end of Canada to the other, from many parts of the Empire to which the news had already penetrated, from the allied countries came spontaneous expressions of great sorrow for the death of Sir Arthur Currie. The resonant and rounded voices of eminent educationists mingled with the faltering, unvarnished phrases of the humblest service men; officers whose names stood high in the Empire's scroll of honor, statesmen to whom it has fallen to grapple with the aftermath of the Great War, men in every walk of life united to pay tribute to the great qualities of heart and mind that had reposed within Sir Arthur Currie and to breathe a requiem for one of the most outstanding contemporary Canadians.

Funeral Will

(Continued from Page 1) Canada will gather in the grounds of McGill University for the military funeral. Eight military pallbearers, all of general rank, will march beside the guncarriage during the procession to the cemetery. Clergy who will officiate at the grave side service have not yet been selected. Shortly before 3 a.m. this morning came word of the death of Sir Arthur. He had become unconscious in the early morning and Lady Currie, his son and his daughter were called to the bedside. For nearly three hours Sir Arthur fought a losing battle. And the end came at 2:50 a.m. He was 58 years old. Sir Arthur was first taken to hospital on November 7, suffering from blockage of a small blood vessel in the mid-brain. Illness did not impair his faculties and a corps of celebrated physicians attended him night and day, frequently relieving his tenacious fight for life. But complications ensued. Bronchitis first set in, then pneumonia and finally a rising temperature sapped from him what strength he had left.

observe a period of seven days mourning for their dead leader, Major John S. Roper M.C., K.C., Dominion President of the Canadian Legion, issued the following statement: "No less than the many thousands of Canadians who gave their lives in the Great War, Sir Arthur Currie was in truth a casualty of that conflict. In his death Canada and the ex-service men of Canada have suffered a loss that cannot be repaired. As Grand President of the Canadian Legion, Sir Arthur, paralleling the post-war endeavors of his own commander-in-chief, Earl Haig, devoted himself unsparingly to the service of war veterans. His policy was propounded by this organization that did not have his whole-hearted approval. His counsel was at all times sought and at all times freely given. Sir Arthur's last communications to myself disclosed him to be still fighting the battles of his men, giving direction and leadership to the Canadian Legion. Premier Bennett OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—(C.P.)—Premier R. B. Bennett today issued the following tribute to Sir Arthur Currie whose military and educational career ended by death early today in Montreal. "The death of General Sir Arthur Currie removes from Canadian life a distinguished soldier and a great citizen. When war broke out, he was a part of the community life of the city of Victoria. He had been interested in the militia from his youth and left Canada in command of the Second Canadian Infantry Brigade. After a period of training in England, he went to France with his brigade, the operations of which he directed with such success that I recall, after the Second Battle of Ypres, hearing a distinguished soldier in London say he would go far. Successfully he commanded the Canadian division and finally the Canadian corps, whose operations during the last one hundred days of the war is an epic in our military history. "He closed the magnificent record of the Canadian troops by leading them on the day of the Armistice into the ancient city of Mons. He had proved himself to be a courageous and resourceful commander, possessed of great initiative and the confidence of his troops, coupled with an almost uncanny grasp of the real factors in strategic situations which enabled him to achieve those great successes that marked him as one of the outstanding generals of the war. Indeed, it might be said of him that he exemplified and interpreted the war time genius of the Canadian people. When hostilities were ended, his first thought was for those who had served the Dominion so well in the theatre of war, and for their dependents. His devotion to returned men won for him their affection. He always commanded their respect and admiration. E. W. Beatty, K. C. MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—(C.P.)—In his tribute to Sir Arthur Currie as principal of McGill University, E. W. Beatty, K. C., Chancellor of the University said, "Sir Arthur Currie was a really great Canadian and his name will live long in the history of our country and in the memory of his countless friends as a great soldier and gentleman and a high-minded and self-sacrificing citizen." Col. Harrington HALIFAX, Nov. 30.—Col. Gordon S. Harrington who served from 1918 to 1920 as Deputy Minister in charge of Canada's overseas forces, paid tribute today to General Sir Arthur Currie as a "gallant and distinguished gentleman."

ceased manner in which he discharged his duties at that time can scarcely be appreciated except by those who were privileged to have his intimate confidence. "The strain however, of that time left many scars upon him which with his great will power he attempted to conceal through the remainder of his distinguished career. His personal friendship has always been one of my most valued possessions in this life. "I am sure not merely all returned men but the whole Dominion will mourn the loss of a gallant and distinguished gentleman, our sympathy goes in great measure to his widow and family as well as to the Canadian people who today suffer a great loss."

President Stanley HALIFAX, Nov. 30.—(C.P.)—A rare insight into the character of men was pictured today by President Carleton W. Stanley of Dalhousie University as the quality that carried General Sir Arthur Currie to signal success as McGill University's principal. "When in 1920," he said, "I was learned that this civilian, turned soldier, had been made principal of a great Canadian university, there were many who prophesied that he could not win a second success. For his task in the great war he had at least received the training of the Canadian militia. But in academic life he had had no training whatever. The Governors of McGill University certainly showed great daring and complete indifference to academic opinion. "But here again it was the rare, perhaps one may say the unlooked for, qualities of the man which told. Burdensome, technical and complex as are the routine duties of a university head, the chief and most important of his duties demand of him, above all other mental and moral endowments, a flashing insight into human nature, into character. "Of human character, Sir Arthur Currie was a truly inspired judge. Once into his stride at McGill, and after he learned to rely on his own judgment, he made a series of remarkably good appointments, the effect of which has been striking and will be permanent. "It may very well turn out that his second success was greater than his first."

Hon. F. B. McCurdy—General Sir Arthur Currie's name will occupy an honored place in the history of the Dominion, Hon. F. B. McCurdy, P.C., wartime parliamentary secretary of the Department of Militia and Defence, declared today in a tribute to the dead Commander of Canada's overseas forces during the war. "I knew him well and entertained the highest regard for his splendid qualities of heart and mind," Hon.
