McLeod, now of Calgary, Alberta, and for some years a prominent merchant in Charlottetown, a member of the firm of Seaton and the late Mr. and Mrs. Philip McLeod, Redwood. He went West about twenty years ago and established a general store in Calgary. This store under his management grew from modest proportions and is now the largest store of its kind in Canada. He also has a large store in Lethbridge, managed by his brother George. In everything he touched, including real estate, mining, etc he was exceptionally successful. Early in January he underwent a somewhat serious operation, and some five or six weeks ago, a second operation in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. From the effects of both he is making a good recovery and expects to be his former healthy self in the near future. His visit to his native province at present is both for the sake of renewing acquaintance with former friends and to renew his health in the genial climate of the Garden of the Gulf which he still regards as the healthiest place on the continent. He is accompanied by his two wives, Miss Ethel Johnson, R. N., of Peter's Road, this province and Miss Ann Wood, R. N., of Lindsay, Ontario, both graduates of the Royal Victoria Hospital. They are all domiciled at the Victoria Hotel. Mr. McLeod is daily visited by hosts of friends, whom he is delighted to meet. He is convalescing very satisfactorily and is able to take daily drives around the city and the surrounding country. He expects to remain here for some weeks and is due in Montreal shortly to undergo further X Ray examination. Yesterday he had the pleasure of learning through letters from home that his son Arnold had distinguished himself in his examination in music in which he passed with first class honours. When arrested, the young man gave first a wrong name. He had no money with him but carried a gold watch.
