PROROGATION WITHIN NEXT FOUR WEEKS.

OTTAWA, April 23—In an effort to reach prorogation within the next four weeks the Commons will begin morning sittings next week, and the House will be asked to work early and late, clearing off the large amount of business still left on the order paper.

long drawn-out attempts to make political campaign material the session may drag along for two months. It is expected, however, that some agreement will be reached within the next few days between Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Borden for expediting the real business of the House, thus allowing the Premier to leave for the Imperial Conference on May 12th with the assurance that prorogation shortly after that is in sight.

WHERE THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS COME FROM.

The Y. M. C. A., more than the college, it appears, has been instrumental in contributing to the increase in growth of the Christian ministry during the past decade. This fact is made clear by the statistics brought together by Thornton B. Penfield, the Secretary for Theological Schools of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

In the last eight years there has been a reasonably steady advance till in 1910 the total was reached of 7,587 men, with 312 women of whom 164, more than half, are found in Baptist institutions, and 63 in the Christian seminaries.

Since 1905 the increase has been marked and steady. Mr. Penfield attributes this, and The Biblical World (Chicago) thinks in large part, justly, to the efforts of the Y. M. C. A., and other organizations, to interest young men of the country in the work of the ministry and of missions.

Both the Churchman and the Biblical World think that serious consideration should be given to the fact that the increase should be so largely in the "non-graduate schools."
